M'CALL'S LIES NAILED BY SENATOR FISHER

Salary of Governor's Secretary Increased by Leading Economy Workers in Both Parties—Salary Reasonable Considering Important Duties of the Office

Senator Fisher has become so indignant at the trumped up charges made by republican campaigners, including McCall and Cushing, that he has departed from his customary silence and come out in the subjoined statement to show that Gov. Walsh is not responsible for the increase in the salary of his private secretary, and that the measure was approved by republicans and democrats alike, including some of the most earnest workers for efficiency and economy. The readers of The Sun are asked to read Senator Fisher's statement in order to see on what flimsy grounds the republicans assail the governor.

Senator Fisher's Statement

Having seen through the columns of the newspapers that on various occasions, if not almost daily, the republican candidates for governor and lieutenant governor have been not only criticizing, but even condemning, Governor Walsh on account of the increase in salary of his private secretary, and as the matter has been brought more closely home through the attack made by Mr. McCall at the Lowell rally a week ago, I submit the following statement of facts in order that justice may be done to all, and further, that the voters may see to what unwarranted extremes the republican aspirants for the offices of governor and lieutenant governor are willing to go.

REPORT OSTEND AGAIN EVACUATED BY GERMANS

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Although the official communications do not spread much light on the situation in West Flanders, other reports emanating from Holland indicate that a German retreat from the coast south of Ostend is imminent and Ostend is again reported as having been evacuated by the invaders. These rumors, however, are not confirmed from Berlin, which claims some advance along the Ypres line.

The city of Lille is declared in special despatches again to be free of German troops and its hopeful citizens so confident that they never will return that plans are being made to resume the usual civic functions.

That Germany has by no means given up its determination to take Calais is indicated by the significant report from Berlin by way of Copenhagen that the German general staff has decided that the army in Poland shall fall back to the frontier of Silesia and remain there on the defensive until the battle in Flanders ends with the capture of Calais. Such a movement would release four army corps to be transferred from Silesia to Belgium.

The Russian tactics of heading back the line of invaders in Russian Poland one section at a time, the retreat of each section endangering the position of the section next to it, on the south, appears to London observers to have been successful everywhere on the extreme Russian left where the Austrians still maintain the positions they succeeded in re-taking from the Russians.

Along the front of East Prussia the Germans are fighting stubbornly to prevent another invasion of their territory at a point farther south. It is argued here that the Russians cannot expect to assume a full offensive movement until the Austrians are driven back from the River San. But even this will not mean an immediate invasion of Germany, as it is known that the Germans in preparation for a possible retreat have established heavily entrenched positions along the River Warthe.

Speculation as to the effects of the position taken by Turkey varies widely. In some quarters it is even argued that the acts of the former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau will be disavowed by the Porte, but the well authenticated news of the departure of the Russian ambassador from Constantinople seems to indicate matters are far beyond recall.

Delayed telegrams indicated as late as last Wednesday the British ambassador there had received assurances that Turkey would maintain her neutrality.

The action of the Balkan states in this phase of the crisis is awaited with keen interest in England. Greece is expected immediately to throw her lot with the entente powers. Great Britain, Russia and France, and it is felt here that Roumania probably will follow the same course. But Bulgaria, which recently regained much of the prestige lost in the second Balkan war, preserves a stubborn silence. Revenge would impel her to an alliance with the Turks, but Sofia seems determined to maintain neutrality unless the borders of Bulgaria are crossed.

Roman newspapers aver that with Turkey in the arena, the conflict is no longer European but Mediterranean in scope. It, therefore, threatens Italy's interests in North Africa and raises the century-old question of the control of the Mediterranean which must compel the Italian government to intervene on the side of the entente powers.

Italy as a first step in her evident determination to be a factor in the control of the Adriatic has landed an expedition on the island of Sardinia, which commands the entrance to the harbor of Avona in Albania.

A report from Constantinople says that the Turkish and Russian fleets are engaged in a battle off Odessa.

PROGRESS BY ALLIES CLAIMED BY FRENCH

Paris Cheered by Report Telling of Retreat of Germans Across the Yser in Face of Stiff Cannonading by Allies—Paris Returning to Normal Conditions

PARIS, Oct. 31.—Unofficial announcement was made today that the government will return to Paris from Bordeaux on Nov. 20 and that parliament will meet on Dec. 10 to pass emergency laws.

Little by little, Paris appears to be returning to more normal conditions. The shops in the avenue d'Opera which had their goods locked and windows whitewashed have now been reopened. Each day another restaurant or bar on the boulevards or elsewhere resumes business and the newspapers which ceased to publish at the time of the mobilization have begun to appear again. The question of reopening the bourse is also discussed.

From the war arena in France and Belgium, the most pleasing news to Parisians today was that telling of the retreat of the Germans across the Yser in the face of a stiff cannonading by the allies. The announcement only a few days ago that the Germans had succeeded in crossing to the left bank of the Yser did more to depress the spirits of the people here than any development of the war for some time.

General Pierre Cheris, the military critic, declares that a wounded French officer with whom he talked yesterday gave all praise to the German method of combat. The present war, he says, also affirms the immense service aviation can render to the French units. The aeroplane has become an instrument of observation, not only useful but indispensable, according to General Cheris.

The death list of the army men contains the name of Colonel Deris, the son of a French hero and who was the youngest superior officer in the army.

The crowd now demands bargains in high school courses and the parents demand practical subjects. The general demand is speed, industrial education takes the place of the classical, and the high school has become utilitarian.

Miss Schrieber addressed the teachers on "Let Us Reason Together in English." She said in part: "The demand nowadays is for a boy or girl to talk well, and writing is little regarded. The community doesn't demand grammar, and our literature is not always grammatical. I am not encouraging the grammatical error but the grammatical error is not the worst thing in English by any means. Some people, on a platform, are so grammatical that they can't put anything over."

Not Economic, but Ethical
Mr. Goldstein said in part: "The school in helping us to reshape our social life will call our attention to the fact that the fundamental laws of social development are not economic, but ethical. The economic laws have too long been held as the organic law of progress. It is the doctrine of the economic surplus enshrined in the temples of Europe to which the mankind of the countries at war is sacrificed today."

TWO KILLED; 15 INJURED

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Two persons were killed and about 15 hurt in the wreck of a Delaware, Lackawanna & Western passenger train which went over an embankment a mile west of Alford, Pa., 26 miles east of this city at 6:15 o'clock this morning. This was the report made by the Lackawanna officials here but with the qualification that it was not official. A telephone message from Montross, the nearest public telephone station said that none was killed, but that 17 were hurt.

Two relief trains have been sent from this city and ambulances to the station here to take the injured to the hospitals.

TWO DEPUTY SHERIFFS

Bernard F. Gately and Martin Conway Named by Sheriff John C. Fairbairn

Bernard F. Gately of this city and Martin Conway of Billerica have been appointed deputy sheriffs by Sheriff John C. Fairbairn. These appointments were announced in The Sun last evening. The Sun some days ago, learned from Sheriff Fairbairn that Mr. Gately would succeed the late Martin J. Courtney, but the sheriff did not mention Mr. Conway's appointment at that time. Both appointments will meet with general favor as the appointees are very capable men and experienced in the work connected with the office of deputy sheriff.

Mr. Gately has been a sheriff in Lowell for the past 20 years, and Sheriff Fairbairn said he appointed him because of his general experience in court work. The rapidly increasing court business in North Middlesex county demanded the appointment of a second man as deputy sheriff and when Sheriff Fairbairn looked the territory over he picked upon Mr. Conway as the man best fitted for the position. Mr. Conway has had lots of experience in court work and is splendidly equipped for the office of deputy sheriff.

There were 33 candidates for the position and they had many friends to assist them. Sheriff Fairbairn received recommendations galore, but in the final analysis he used his own best judgment in selecting his men. When it appeared in The Sun last night that Messrs. Gately and Conway had been appointed, both men received many congratulations upon their success. Speaking of his appointment, Sheriff Gately said:

"I am deeply grateful to Sheriff Fairbairn for my appointment as deputy sheriff. I consider the appointment an honor and I will endeavor to fill the office to the best of my ability. I am familiar with the work connected with the office of deputy sheriff and because of that fact I will feel very much at home. I also desire to thank the many friends who saw the sheriff personally and who wrote to him in my behalf, and I want to express my good will toward those who voted the sheriff in the interest of other candidates, because they were clean and above board. There was no knocking."

Mr. Conway said: "It is unnecessary for me to say that I am highly pleased with my appointment. I am deeply grateful to Sheriff Fairbairn and to the many friends who went to him in my behalf. I assure him and them that I will do all in my power to merit the appointment and the good things said about me. During my long incumbency as a part of Billerica's police force I have become well acquainted with the work of the office of deputy-sheriff and I feel confident that I will find it congenial."

Hallowe'en Party

PROF. L. N. GUILBAULT

A delightful Halloween party was held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Hennessy in Pine street last evening and a most enjoyable evening was passed in characteristic Halloween fashion, everybody entering into the spirit of the occasion in a happy way. The guests present included most of the members of the choir of St. Margaret's church, who had been bidden to join in the festivities by Miss Katherine V. Hennessy, the talented soprano. As a hostess Miss Hennessy was capable, assisted as she was by her sisters, all members of the choir.

But the occasion, aside from its jollity and good cheer, had another significance, for one of the guests, Prof. L. N. Guilbault, who was presented a gold watch. After a service of several years as organist and choir director, Mr. Louis Napoleon Guilbault resigned his position to accept a similar one in St. Jean Baptiste church, and it was to show some material appreciation of the ability of the young man that the choir members had gathered, presumably for the Halloween gale, but principally for their former choir director. Mr. Guilbault, blissfully ignorant of the little surprise they had in store for him, contributed to the fun and the musical program.

The decorations in the beautiful and spacious home were very striking. Grinning pumpkins, witchery witches in all their fantastic weirdness, were here and there placed about the rooms, the dining-room being particularly effective in its decorative effects. An orchestra composed of Miss Sadie Sullivan at the piano, Miss Lillian Sullivan, violinist, and Miss Grace McEvoy, cornetist, all members of the parish, contributed several stirring melodies including a few of the latest New York hits. Solos were rendered by Miss Vera Moody, Miss Katherine V. Hennessy, Lawrence Delaney, John J. Murray, John J. McGlinchey, William P. Hennessy, while Prof. Guilbault gave a brace of selections on the piano that pleased immensely. Mr. John McGlinchey, the present organist at the church, contributed several delightful piano solos, while chorus singings of Ireland's favorite melodies proved a delightful feature of the entertainment. John Murray also favored with recitations.

At 10:30 o'clock all went to the dining room, where a dainty buffet luncheon was served, the favors at each plate being as grotesque as they were varied. After all had partaken of the good things, Rev. Charles J. Galligan, pastor of St. Margaret's, was called upon for remarks, and he responded briefly, yet interestingly. He paid a compliment to the work of the church choir which, he said, had been accomplished at the cost of much labor. The splendid showing of the choir on every occasion could not be possible without the painstaking work and musical knowledge of Prof. Guilbault, now removed from St. Margaret's. Fr. Galligan said that in a spirit of genuine appreciation of Prof. Guilbault's qualities as a man and as a musician, the choir members had authorized him to present to the retiring director a gold watch which he hoped the recipient would live to enjoy many years.

Prof. Guilbault, though completely surprised, made a fitting response, expressing his appreciation and gratitude. Remarks followed by Rev. Henry C. Heenan, curate at the church, and Rev. James P. Lynch of Brockton, formerly attached to the church. Cornelius P. Calhoun, John J. Murray and James F. Hennessy. After the delightful informal speech-making the remainder of the evening was spent in the playing of Halloween games.

MISS ANNIE F. RINEY

Hilarious grinning faces carved from pumpkin shells, lighted candles, bobbing apples and other Halloween institutions were the features of the Halloween party conducted by the employees of the J. L. Chalifoux store last night in the town hall, North Chelmsford.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, black and orange of the Halloween season prevailing in the color scheme, with here and there a touch of greenery. The stage was set with greenery, potted plants and palms, and suspended in the center was a large pumpkin, artistically cut in a grotesque figure, while streamers of orange and black adorned the side and back walls. Mr. Morton Walker, head window trimmer at the store, had charge of the decorations.

McMahon's concert orchestra opened the evening's festivities with several pleasing selections, after which general dancing was started, and the witches, ghouls and other Halloween characters had a highly enjoyable time.

Shortly after 10 o'clock an intermission was declared, and the games were started, including ducking for apples, candle blowing, convolutions, arrow shooting for apples and peanut races, and these furnished a continuous round of merriment for all concerned. The winners in the various events were awarded suitable prizes, after which all repaired to the downstairs dining room where a sumptuous collation was served. This was due to the generosity of Mr. Harold Chalifoux and came as a most pleasant surprise.

Dancing was resumed at 11 o'clock and continued until midnight, and special cars carried the gathering back to the city.

Those responsible for the success of the affair were as follows: Morton Walker, general manager; Miss Annie F. Riney, floor director; Mr. William Reno, treasurer; Mr. Lenzie Goldman, chief aid; and, everybody.

Halloween in Church Vestry

A very enjoyable Halloween party was held at the French Baptist church vestry, in West Centralville last evening.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the young folks assembled and were greeted individually by "much alive" ghosts with ice cold grips. The ghosts were represented by the Misses Minnie Ramette, Louise Burke and Emma Desforges.

A collection of games including "four heads of fate and luck," "tale of the goblin," "peanut race," and other highly entertaining Halloween games were played. Refreshments and luncheon were also served.

The organizers of the party were Mrs. Eugene Leith, Mrs. Andre Binette, Mrs. Mary Burke, Mrs. E. C. Ramette, Miss Emma Desforges and Miss Louise Burke.

In Odd Fellows Hall

Odd Fellows hall in Bridge street was the scene last evening of a Halloween party by the Young People's society of the Paige Street Baptist church.

A goodly number of young people were in attendance and the program of the evening furnished one continuous round of merriment for all concerned. Among the games were doughnut contest, peanut races, candle-blowing competitions, bow and arrow shooting for apples and other amusing stunts, following which the winners were required to draw for prizes from an immense pile. Misses Stella Marshall and Blanche Libbey, as ghosts, added materially to the fun making. The committee in charge comprised the following: Irene Kirtledge, chairman; Mrs. F. O. Dutton, Mrs. David Donaldson, Mrs. W. A. Chase, Belle T. Libbey, Carrie Meister, Stella Marshall, Hazel Mills, Ivan Small, Florence Knowlton, Nina Cogswell, Irma Casper and Mary Oxner.

Annual Halloween Social

Members and friends of Chevalier-Middlesex lodge 2, Knights of Pythias, filled Highland hall last evening at the annual Halloween social and dance of the organization. Each male member present was supplied with a couplet hat suggestive of witches and wholly appropriate to the occasion. The music for the dances was furnished by Gray's orchestra, and until a late hour, the floor was comfortably filled with couples. At 10:30 there was a brief intermission, during which light refreshments were served. The committee in charge of the dance included Elmer D. Robinson, chairman, Harry E. Jones and William H. Saunders.

Halloween Whist Party

A whist party with Halloween settings was held last evening at the home of Dr. James F. Loughran, 155 High street, attended by about 20 members of the Thursday club of which Mrs. Loughran is a member. The various rooms had been transformed for the occasion into a hovel of autumnal beauty. As the guests were received they passed between massed clusters of corn stalks, suggesting pictures of the harvest moon and into a room gorgeous with the foliage of late fall. Pumpkin faces peeped from odd corners and dozens of candles lent a soft and seasonable glow. The long parlors in which the whist was enjoyed were like a scene from elfland with great branches of oaks, birches and willow, golden pumpkins, jack-o'-lanterns, and quaint corn stalks. The dining room was beautifully decorated with fruit, foliage and golden chrysanthemums, candles alternating with little twinkling lights in the

As the guests were received they passed between massed clusters of corn stalks, suggesting pictures of the harvest moon and into a room gorgeous with the foliage of late fall. Pumpkin faces peeped from odd corners and dozens of candles lent a soft and seasonable glow. The long parlors in which the whist was enjoyed were like a scene from elfland with great branches of oaks, birches and willow, golden pumpkins, jack-o'-lanterns, and quaint corn stalks. The dining room was beautifully decorated with fruit, foliage and golden chrysanthemums, candles alternating with little twinkling lights in the blowing competitions, bow and arrow shooting for apples and other amusing stunts, following which the winners were required to draw for prizes from an immense pile. Misses Stella Marshall and Blanche Libbey, as ghosts, added materially to the fun making. The committee in charge lovely lighting scheme. Throughout, the effect was as artistic as it was suggestive of the spirit of Halloween.

Whist was enjoyed by the club from eight to 10:30, during which time there were several visitations from witches and ghosts. A peculiarly malignant witch distributed favors of black cats. The prize winners were Mrs. R. H. Clifford, Mrs. William McCarty and Mrs. B. J. Callahan. Following the card playing a buffet luncheon was served, and the rest of the evening given over to Halloween games, dancing and an impromptu concert. The spirit of the occasion was in keeping with the setting, all serving to make it a very memorable Halloween party indeed.

Enjoyable Whist Party

Fifteen tables were well filled with card players last evening at the whist party conducted in Russell hall under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Street Carmen's union. The affair was the first of its kind ever given by the auxiliary and, as such, was wholly successful from every point of view. The play waxed merrily throughout the evening, resulting in the following winners:

Ladies: First, silver mesh bag, Mrs. Foley; second, sugar and cream set, Miss Sadie McOsker; third, cold meat fork, Mrs. Emerson McLean; baby, Mrs. Sprout.

Gentlemen: First, gold cuff links, scarf pin and tie holder, Mr. Quhan; second, fountain pen, Mr. Sanger; third, pipe holder, Mr. Stuart; baby, Mr. Lowe.

Mrs. Laura Flannery and Mrs. Edward Welch had the active management of the affair in charge and deserve congratulations on its success. The master of ceremonies was Edward Welch.

THE CARE OF THE TOE NAILS

So many women give to the nails the thing to accomplish. A little care of their hands the most diligent at once a week with a pair of curved tention and yet they quite overlook any responsibility to their most patient servants—their feet. The care of the toe nails should be as important as the finger nails.

The nail of the great toe should be broad, flat and smooth, even as the nails of the thumb. It should not be too flat upon the flesh nor should it be too curved, for this latter condition tends to become exaggerated, so that the ends of the curve press deeper into the flesh.

A slight "half-moon" should be visible and it should be worn long enough to show a slight rim of white above the pink and the outside of its base should not be dry and harsh, but soft, free of hangnails and rounding in an unbroken curve from one end to the other.

Surely none of this is a difficult

That Gerald Duval and his associates in the Sherwood club know how to conduct enjoyable parties.

That we have with us again some of those old familiar names and faces in municipal politics.

That in Boston they are saying that if McCall loses the republic will take up Cushing or Guild next year.

That the Indians, first and second teams, are doing a great deal to keep Lowell on the football map.

That Charlie Morse says the paying block in his office is not one of the missing blocks.

That a certain office holder believes with Rippling that the female of the species is more deadly than the male.

That the street railway men hold very enthusiastic meetings Thursday night and Friday morning.

That there will be no superior court sessions in this city Monday or Tuesday.

That autoists are complaining because the main streets are sprinkled so frequently.

That the cold weather has brought a cheering smile on the faces of the coal dealers.

That Capt. Grenier of Garda St. Louis is a favorite among the members of that organization.

That a Christmas mass will be celebrated in the upper part of St. Jean Baptiste church.

That the Keowood school is the scene of many a happy gathering due to the untiring efforts of the teachers.

That Postmaster Kierman is one of the most prominent men in Dracut, in social and business circles.

That there is no danger of an outbreak in our sewer as long as Commissioner Morse continues to pour oil on the troubled waters.

That when a gifted Lowell woman wrote a charming little book she did not dream of supplying speeches to one of our notables for a year or more.

That one of the everlasting pests is the shallow pated enthusiast who professes to be an atheist and wants the whole world to know it.

That if one Lowell woman wants to commercialize her notoriety she can count a long and remunerative vaudeville booking.

That present activities on the allers seem to indicate that bowling will be even more popular than ever this season.

That, thanks to the merchants and to the liberal use of advertising electricity, the city is lighted a little better lately.

That it is a long way back to the time we had an "honorable" dance trial, but the episode has lost none of its humor.

That for decorations, real enjoyment and the spirit of the season, that Halloween party held at the upper end of High street set a new record.

That Dr. Lombard and Mr. Simpson have changed their views relative to the importance of experience as a qualification for a school principal.

That there is much mourning in the vicinity of St. John's hospital over the death of "Nanos," a noted pet of the hen family.

That Sheriff Fairbairn whether he pleased everybody or not, was same when he announced appointments before state election.

That they're wishing that Eddie Byrne was back on the state police force. Eddie was there on murder cases.

That Frederick W. Thomas was the boy who got 100 throughout in the recent examinations for promotion in the high school regiment.

That Riley's High Rollers will sustain their title when they meet Foster's Frisky Five on the allers this evening.

That the banquet on Thanksgiving eve at the Centralville Social club will be a great event in the history of the society.

That it is an open question whether it is well to put young men just out of college as a master of a school, without any previous experience in school affairs.

That some of the republicans in wards three and eight are thinking of holding a mass meeting to endorse a resident of that section for the municipal council.

That everybody should be interested in the daily special features of The Sun for they contain valuable information and timely suggestions on many topics.

That John T. Myers, the local singer made a great hit at the Rogers rally in Woburn the other night. John is some boy and the congressman realizes this more than anyone.

That the young people of the city are anxious to find out who Lowell's prominent "hicks" are and will attend the coming carnival to ascertain their identity.

That L. N. Gullbault, former organist at St. Margaret's church was well remembered by the people of that church last night when he was presented a gold watch.

That the women of Lowell look forward to the publication of The Sun's Women's Page each Monday and delight in studying the fashions and in reading the various special articles.

That the candidates for representative in the 17th district are keeping away from the stump this year and they are doing their work on the quiet.

That the chicken dinner of the Norfolk club at the Richardson hotel a few evenings ago, was strictly a stag party, lest someone get the wrong impression.

That when a woman goes up Merrimack street gown gorgeously, all the heads of ladies coming from the other direction turn round automatically.

That on Wednesday next the demerits of wards five and nine will be saving to the senatorial candidate: "Well Dunn, thou good and faithful servant!"

That Tommy Salmon says the typical young man of 1914 may have plenty of control but certainly gets him going when the leaders of the small boy sang yells: "Hey, Mister! Better grab your eyebrows, they're slipped down on your lip."

That The Sun Real Estate and Builders' page is a valuable means of keeping both the public and the real estate men and builders in close touch with the building operations throughout the city and vicinity.

That recently a superior officer of the police department attended a funeral out of town and was gone four hours, and had to work four hours overtime in order to draw a full week's salary, while another member of the department was out of town for a whole day and didn't have to work a minute overtime. Which reminds us of the slogan: "Equal rights, etc."

PRINCE LOUIS LOYAL

PRINCE LOUIS OF BATTENBERG

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Prince Louis of Battenberg who resigned his post as first sea lord of the admiralty because, although a naturalized British subject, he is a native of Hesse and was openly criticised, will not renounce his allegiance to King George. His brother, Prince Henry of Battenberg, husband of Princess Beatrice, died in 1876 from diseases contracted during the British Ashanti campaign, for which he had volunteered. The death of his nephew, Prince Maurice of Battenberg, from wounds received in action in France was recently reported. Another nephew, Prince Leopold Arthur Louis, is a lieutenant in an infantry regiment. Prince Louis has two sons in the British navy, Prince George, a sub-lieutenant, and Prince Louis Francis, a naval cadet. Prince Louis the head of the house of Battenberg and was born on May 24, 1854, at Grantz, Austria. He married the Princess Victoria of Hesse, a granddaughter of Queen Victoria. He is doubly connected with the British royal family, since his brother, Prince Henry of Battenberg, married Queen Victoria's youngest daughter, the Princess Beatrice. He was naturalized and entered the British navy in 1885.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The 41st anniversary of Division 11, A. O. U. W. was held last evening in the evening at a large number of members and friends present. Early in the evening a short business session was held at which routine business was transacted. The gathering was called to order by President John J. McInerney, who introduced James J. McInerney as toastmaster, of the exercises. Addresses were delivered by County President James J. McInerney, John Dwyer, Patrick Finnick, Patrick Kenney, Denis Dwyer, Michael Talty. The officers of the division are: President, John McInerney; vice president, John Kenney; financial secretary, William Nelson; treasurer, John Hickey; recording secretary, Daniel Hickey; doorkeeper, Thomas Nevin.

THE SAFE WAY TO BUY FURS

The fur business has never been conducted as a department of another business and given real true worth to the public.

It is a complicated business spread to the far corners of the world's cold countries. It is learned only by the life time of experience that makes the true fur specialist.

There are chemical and other tests by which anyone can learn to judge the quality of furs and the precious metals. But in buying furs trust to fur specialists long established and of good repute.

Our business was established in 1853 and is the oldest exclusive fur house in Boston.

Buying most of our raw furs direct from the trapper, manufacturing our goods in our own workrooms, we are able to sell furs of quality without adding middlemen's profits.

made by the following members: Vice President John Kenney, John T. McInerney, Thomas Healy, Patrick Finn, Michael Connolly and Bernard Hummel.

There were songs by James E. Donnelly, Hugh McGowan, Patrick Delmore, John Delmore, Patrick Neilon, William Nelson, Thomas Leyden and John Callahan. Mr. Donnelly had to respond to several encores. Mayors Murphy received a very cordial reception, numerous gifts and donations.

A buffet luncheon was served by the following committee: Thomas Morgan, John Dwyer, Patrick Finnick, Patrick Kenney, Denis Dwyer, Michael Talty. The officers of the division are: President, John McInerney; vice president, John Kenney; financial secretary, William Nelson; treasurer, John Hickey; recording secretary, Daniel Hickey; doorkeeper, Thomas Nevin.

William A. Gilbride accompanied at the piano in a most acceptable manner.

Plans are being made by Wm. J. Gilbride, 25, K. of P., for an illustrated lecture and exhibition of the uniform rank, K. of P., which will be held in Associate hall next Wednesday evening. The event will be conducted by all the Knights of Pythias lodges of the city and a banner night is promised. At the meeting held last night with Chancellor Commander, Olin J. Haines presiding, several applications for membership were received and referred to the proper authorities, while other routine business was transacted.

RECEITAL

Musical lovers have a treat in store for them on next Tuesday evening, Nov. 3 at 8 o'clock in Colonial hall, Gertrude Flint Frisbee, vocalist, assisted by Charles E. Griffin, of New York, pianist, will entertain the audience with well chosen selections. As both are rated very high in their professions, the recital is bound to be of a high order, and those who have a keen appreciation of what is good in music and song will not miss this opportunity to hear these two artists. The prices for the entertainment are 50 and 75 cents.

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound:

Kasota, Minn.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy we know for women's ills. If you need such a medicine why don't you try it?

GIVEN BIG VOTE

Exciting Contest at the Lowell Normal School Junior Elections

The lecture room of the Lowell Normal School was the scene of an exciting contest last Wednesday, when the juniors chose their class officers.

Miss Kathryn Mahavan, last year's senior mayor of the Girl's battalion of the high school and who was also vice-president and voted the most popular girl of her class, was again honored.

MISS KATHRYN MAHAVAN.

She was chosen president by a flattering vote. She received 49 votes, while the highest vote of her opponents was 19.

The other officers of the class are: Vice-president, Miss Nora Lane, Haverhill; treasurer, Miss Louise Mahoney, Lowell; councilors, Miss Edith McGovern, Haverhill, Miss Helen Welch, Cambridge.

All officers were hotly contested, but after all was over, the feeling of good fellowship was remarkable.

RAD BLOOD

Hatred of the Nations for One Another.

This European war was born of the hatred caused by earlier warfare—it will engender other wars between the same nations in the future. The sons yet unborn will carry this hatred in their blood to blaze into warfare when the spark is touched by kings or statesmen who are yet in infancy.

It's bad blood that makes your liver sluggish and the same bad blood causes your stomach muscles to lose their elasticity and become flabby and weak and that means indigestion.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, purely vegetable and free from narcotics or poisons, is not a secret remedy for all its ingredients are printed on wrapper.

Take it as directed and it will search out and dissolve the poisonous accumulations. It will replace all the bad blood it drives out with rich, pure blood full of vital force. It will furnish you with the kind of blood that increases energy and ambition, that puts the entire body in such perfect physical condition that brain or muscles know no fatigue.

It will clear the skin: eczema, pimples, rash, blotches will dry up and disappear. Boils, carbuncles and other eruptions of tainted blood will pass away never to appear again.

Get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery at any medicine dealer today, in either liquid or tablet form as you prefer. It's the one great blood maker and purifier that all weak or run down people ought to start to use at once. If you want good blood, good health and clear skin, get a supply today.

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS PERFORM PERILOUS FEATS IN CLIMBING CARPATHIANS WITH THEIR HORSES

—Past Season Replete With Many Surprises

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—With the world's baseball championship and all the pennant races in the major and minor leagues decided, the baseball season of 1914 has passed into history. Many of the events which occurred during the playing season, as well as those which immediately preceded the departure of the various teams to their training camps, were of a sensational character. The invasion of the major league circuit by a new organization, its stubborn fight for recognition, the enforced extraordinary advance in the salaries of prominent players, the legal battles fought for the retention or subrogation of several alleged contract breakers kept the baseball world in a ferment for months. The around-the-world trip of the foremost diamond stars, which was both financially and instructively, a huge success, was a big step toward making the great American game universally understood. Taken altogether the season just finished has marked an epoch in baseball and furnished probably the most interesting chapters in the long and varied records of events on the diamond.

In addition to the National, American and Federal leagues, there were nearly 40 organizations of professional baseball clubs in operation in the United States and Canada during the past year and the appended list shows the pennant winners for 1914:

World's champions, Boston Nationals.
National league, Boston.
American league, Philadelphia.
Federal league, Indianapolis.
International league, Providence.
American association, Milwaukee.
Western association, Oklahoma City.
Western league, Sioux City.
Central association, Waterloo.
Eastern association, New London.
Western Canada league, Saskatoon.
Canadian league, Ottawa.
Texas league, Houston.
The Kity league, Cairo.
Atlantic league, Poughkeepsie.
Tri-State league, Harrisburg.
Nebraska league, Grand Island.

UNITED STATES COLLIER JASON, AMERICA'S CHRISTMAS SHIP TO EUROPE

The United States collier Jason has been designated by the navy department as the Christmas ship that will take the gifts of the children of America to the children of Europe, whose fathers have fallen in the war. She will sail Nov. 15 from New York. This movement was started and taken up by many of America's important newspapers, and children all over the land are donating the old toys and new ones for the little folks of the war zone, whose Christmas at the best will be sad, sad indeed. The Jason will stop first in England and then go to Havre, France. From there she will visit other countries. She is starting early so as to be sure the presents reach the 1,000,000 fatherless war children of Europe before Christmas. The Jason is 536 feet long and can carry 10,500 tons. She is of steel throughout and cost nearly $1,000,000. Gifts must reach New York by Nov. 9. Many railroads are carrying the gifts free.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

MARIE ON TAKING OUT STAINS

"It costs a small fortune to always have a tailor take the stains and spots out of my gowns," said Marie Jorle disconsolately. "I wonder if I might not learn to do it myself in most cases."

"Surely you can," answered Marie reassuringly. "I will be glad to give you the benefit of my experience. In the first place whether the cloth is wool, silk or cotton, whether it is white or colored, the first thing you must consider is what is the stain? If it is a stain made by a sugary mixture such as syrups, punches, etc., it will probably be sticky, when moist, and if dry, it will be glazed and stiff, and the goods will be more or less translucent."

"If it is a greasy stain, there may be an odor of the grease, and the stain will be more nearly transparent. A greasy stain sinks into the fibre, while a sugary stain stays on the surface."

"Albuminous stains, like egg, will usually lie on the surface of the goods, like a coating, and it will be found that a great part of it can be scratched or rubbed off. This, to a certain extent is true of the sugar stains. The fact that albumen and sugar stains do not sink into the fibre makes them more easily removed."

"Water spots are the least serious think that it is legitimate baseball. In his early days a bunt was called a "foul foul" and was not looked on with much favor by the fans of the time.

as they can be steamed out of most fibers.

"Plain sugar stains will dissolve in water, warm water dissolving faster than cold. If the color is very delicate, we prefer to take a longer time and use cold water, because warm or tepid water often fades the color. If a water ring remains after the removal of sugar, punch or fruit juices, it may be steamed out by holding the spot in the steam jet of the spout of a tankette."

"After steaming sufficiently long to have that part of the garment moist shake until dry, and it will be found that no water spot remains. This may be done with a whole garment which has been spotted by rain."

"The other so-called surface stains may be dissolved by cold or lukewarm water, never hot. Cold water is best for egg and milk, and if it is a greasy stain where there is albumen with a greasy element, it is again wise to use cold water with the thought of getting rid of all the albumen first. Albumen stains with color, such as blood, will respond more easily to lukewarm water."

"If it is a blood stain on a white fiber, a few drops of ammonia will hasten the removal. From the fact that the sugar stains and the albumen stains may be removed by water, and when we consider they are two-thirds of the stains likely to be found, we are justified in making and always using this rule."

"When in doubt as to stain and as to steadiness of color, use cold water. The main harm it can do is to leave a water spot, which we have learned can be removed and many times it will be all that is needed for successful results."

WINTER CARE OF GARDEN

How to Protect Your Flowers From Jack Frost—Treatment for Different Plants

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—When Jack Frost has visited the garden and checked or blighted the vegetation, the flower lover will consider what shall be done for the various plants and shrubs. Jack Frost usually makes himself decidedly evident in the vicinity of Washington about the first of November, but farther north his arrival may be expected earlier. Different plants demand different treatment. Such flowers as peonies and hollyhocks will come up again the following year if they are properly protected during the winter, while others like cannas and dahlias, which are more accustomed to warmer climates, must have their roots or bulbs dug up and stored in a cellar. At this season many inquiries come to the United States department of agriculture regarding the treatment needed by different plants, and the department's specialists have given the following suggestions regarding some of them:

Hardy Perennials.
Hardy perennials that are expected to live through the winter, should be covered with a good coating of manure or other litter to a depth of three or four inches. This in more southern localities will hold the frost in the ground during the winter and keep the plant from alternately freezing and thawing; in more northern regions the manure will keep the plant from freezing to so great a depth that its water supply would be cut off and the plant would perish. This treatment is good for peonies, larkspurs, hollyhocks, columbines, iris, pinks, and other perennials.

Cannas, Dahlias, Etc.
As soon as the tops of cannas, dahlias, gladioli, caladiums, and similar plants are killed by the frost, the roots or bulbs should be dug and stored in a cellar, where the temperature will remain about 55° and should never go below 50° or above 60°. No more earth should be shaken from the clumps of cannas and dahlias than is necessary to remove them from the ground. The plants may be placed on racks or in slat boxes so the air may circulate freely through them. No frost must reach the roots, nor must they become too warm or dry.

With bulbous plants, such as caladiums, gladioli, tube-roses, it is desirable to remove all the soil and dry them in the open air a day or two before storing.
The killed tops of all vegetation may well be removed from one's flower beds after Jack Frost has visited them. This is merely for the sake of appearance, as it has nothing to do with making the garden more successful the coming season.

Pansies.
If pansies are expected to do well in the south, the best to select out in the fall, and need the protection of manure as do the perennials. In the south, pansies make the best showing in the early spring, and later in the summer are burned up by the hot sun. North of the region from New York City to Springfield, Illinois, pansies do better if set out in the spring than if planted in the fall, for in these regions the flowers will not be affected by the strong sunlight and they should blossom all summer.

Geraniums.
The ordinary method of carrying geraniums over the winter as used by florists is to place them in a conservatory or greenhouse and cuttings are taken from these during the winter from which a new supply of plants is grown for spring use. The cuttings for the spring supply should not be made later than January, if good stock plants are desired for the next summer's use.

The ordinary householder who desires to keep his or her plants through the winter is not usually the possessor of a conservatory where he can follow the method outlined above. The following suggestions may help him to keep a part of his geraniums, at least, throughout the winter season. Before the frost has killed the plants, dig up the geraniums and place them in a cool, damp cellar. This cellar should be cooler than that in which bulbs are kept, ranging in temperature from 40° to 50°; in other words, such a cellar as is suitable for storing potatoes.

The plants may be placed in deep boxes, standing up and packed close together with a little dry soil about the roots. Geraniums are also sometimes hung up by the roots on the wall or from the joists. In spring, the tops of these plants should be cut off within two or three inches of the ground and the roots again planted. A half a cup of cold water. Turn into a wetted mould and serve with whipped cream.

F. C. GOODALE RETIRES

POPULAR DRUGGIST OF THE OLD SCHOOL TO ENJOY WELL EARNED REST

Frank C. Goodale, one of the oldest and most reliable druggists of this city has retired from the drug business in which he has been engaged for thirty years at his present location, the corner of Central and Jackson streets. During that time he has seen everyone who entered the business at the time he did, disappear with the exception of A. W. Davis. It is a long time to carry on such a business, as it is one which required his personal attention every day in the year, and Frank has given that. His reputation for honest and fair dealings has always been of the highest and by his efforts he has been successful and can now retire to enjoy the fruits of his industry. There have been many changes since he first learned the business. In the early days there were not many patent remedies or proprietary medicines and the old-fashioned remedies were compounded in the store. Most druggists of the old school made their own pills and many other medicines and the old people and mortars were in constant use. In those days a druggist was looked on as a doctor, and today you can hardly tell a drug store from a department store so numerous are the lines carried. Frank is now going to take it easy and enjoy the comforts of his beautiful home in the Highlands, which he has not had much time to enjoy on account of his close attention to business. After a rest he will give a part of his time to the dandelion syrup which is his own formula and is so well known to everyone as Goodale's Dandelion. It is one of the most popular medicinal tonics on the market. We wish Frank all the pleasure that he can possibly get in the relaxation he has so richly deserved.

HON. DAVID I. WALSH
SPOKE HERE AT NOON

The greatest reception ever given a candidate for office at the old Lowell Machine shop in Dutton street, now the Face-Lovell shops, was tendered Gov. David I. Walsh at the noon hour today.

The governor, back from the staid and slumbering hill towns of Berkshire, between Springfield and Pittsfield, his arm in a sling as the result of an injury of some weeks ago, was given a reception that must have warmed the cockles of his heart. The railroad tracks and the streets were jammed with people, and men and women listened from open windows in Dutton street. He said he was sorry not to have been able to spend an evening in Lowell, but he was in the hands of his campaign managers and, like a good soldier, had to obey orders. He gave his hearers some practical advice concerning the need of a big democratic vote and the importance of supporting President Wilson.

Governor Walsh had less than half an hour at his disposal and he made every minute count. He paid the compliments to Councillor John J. Hogan, Mayor Dennis J. Murphy and Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan. The crowd listened attentively, cheering him at every point and when, nearing the conclusion of his speech, he referred to himself as the governor, the lawyer, the HARRINGTON—Mrs. Margaret Harrington, a well known resident of St. Peter's parish, died this morning at the Lowell General Hospital. Her body was removed to the chapel of Undertaker C. H. Molloy and later to her home at 491 Garham street. She leaves a husband, James, four sons, John, Francis, Edward and Bernard; two daughters, Mrs. Hugh McQuade and Mrs. Edward Burke.

DEATHS

BURNS—William Burns died this morning at the home of his parents, William and Mary, 15 Concord street, aged 3 years, 3 months.

FUNERALS

McMORROW—The funeral of Michael McMorrow, who had been connected with the Oblate novitiate in Tewksbury for several years, took place this morning. Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated in the chapel of the novitiate at 9 o'clock by Rev. J. J. McCoy, O. M. I., who was assisted by two Oblate brothers as deacon and sub-deacon. The Gregorian chant was rendered by the novitiate choir. The bearers were six Oblate brothers. Present in the sanctuary were Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., and Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O. M. I., of the Sacred Heart church, and Rev. James J. McCarthy, O. M. I., of the Immaculate Conception church. Burial was in the novitiate cemetery, where the communal prayers were read by Rev. B. J. McKenna, O. M. I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Peter Davey.

McMAHON—The funeral of Thomas McMahon was held this morning from the home of his sister, Mrs. Alice Connon, 2 Concord place, at 8 o'clock, and a funeral mass was sung at the Immaculate Conception church at 9 o'clock by Rev. Fr. McQuaid. The bearers were Mr. McCarthy, H. Pler, Thomas Casey, J. Corey, M. R. Anthony, and Mr. McMahon. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Fr. McQuaid read the communal prayers. Undertaker J. H. McDermott was in charge of the funeral.

CONLON—The funeral of Mary Conlon took place this morning at 11 o'clock from the chapel of St. Patrick's cemetery, where the communal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Kerrigan officiating at the grave.

McLOUGHLIN—The funeral of Bridget McLoughlin took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from her late home, 71 Central street and proceeded to St. Peter's church, where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Joseph Crayton. The choir rendered the Gregorian mass. Solus were rendered during the service.

BAY STATE MEN THE RED MEN CONVE

LOWELL DELEGATION ATTEND THE CONVENTION IN WORCESTER TO-DAY

It was reported today that local members of the Street Railway Men's union voted not to accept the counter offer made to the union by the Bay State Street Railway company. Meetings were held in the railway men's headquarters in the Runels building from 7:30 o'clock last night till 5 o'clock this morning so that all members might vote and it is said that the vote was almost unanimous against accepting the terms.

While Lowell railway men were discussing the matter, employees of the Bay State company in 15 other cities were voting on the same question, the results of which were not made public. Over 4000 men are involved in the dispute as both shop hands and lift-form men are demanding more wages. None of the local officials profess to know anything about the agreement which was under consideration. However, it is known that the Bay State Co. turned down the agreement offered by the employees and submitted a counter agreement which was voted against by the Lowell men last evening.

The first meeting last evening was attended by day men only and was called to order at 7 o'clock. It is said that it did not adjourn until a few minutes before 11 o'clock. The night employees met shortly after midnight and continued in discussion until 5 o'clock this morning.

LOWELL MEN ATTEND
Secretary John H. Murphy, President F. Marden, the members of the new enterprise committee, manufacturing and mercantile committee and municipal affairs committee of the Lowell board of trade went to Boston this morning to attend the conference which is being held at the Convey Hall under the auspices of the state board of labor and industries. This conference was called for the purpose of discussing the important question, "Industrial Development and Foreign Trade Extension." The members of the Lowell municipal council were also invited to be present but they were too busy to travel to Boston today.

TENDERED A RECEPTION
George J. Lessor, who on next Monday will be married to Miss Maria Jettie of 275 Moody street, was tendered a reception by a number of his friends last night. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Gendreau, 45 Denton street, and was largely attended. The guests of the evening were presented several valuable gifts including a set of dishes and pieces of furniture, the presentation speech being delivered by George Marchand. The young man responded in appropriate terms and a pleasant evening followed. Refreshments were served and a musical program as well as games were enjoyed.

HELD HALLOWEEN PARTY
A well attended Halloween party was held last night in the vestry of the Kirk Street church. The decorations were beautiful and very attractive. The evening was spent in games, humorous contests and music and a luncheon was served. The affair was in charge of Miss Jean MacTaggart, who were assisted by Mrs. Edwin Lamson and Mrs. William S. Marshall.

CANDIDATE KIMBALL HEARD
Two noonday rallies were held today in the interest of Representative Kimball, of Littleton, candidate for senator in the seventh Middlesex district. Mr. Kimball first spoke at the Helme Electric company, and afterwards at the American Place and Leather company. At each place he was greeted by a large gathering and was listened to by a large and forceful speaker.

Washington Hears That American Buildings at Odessa Were Destroyed — Turkey's Action Causes Sensation in Official Circles at Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Turkey's action in the field of warlike operations though not unexpected, has caused a sensation in official circles here because of the probable far-reaching effect of this action. Probably no one factor in the great European struggle is regarded so uncertain in quantity and quality as the Turkish empire.

The probability that by yesterday's act of war against Russia, the Balkan states may be drawn into the vortex of the great conflict, thereby cutting off a vast quantity of food supplies, which it had been expected, would go to the maintenance of the northern European countries during the war, has brought home to the officials here a realization of the very close and intense interest of the United States in the latest development.

The result of Turkey's action as viewed by the military experts here from a purely technical point of view will be to greatly embarrass Russia at the outset.

In official Washington for months it had been known that the Ottoman Empire was preparing for military operations. No despatches have been recrossed the straits into Asia Minor.

AMERICAN PROPERTY

AT ODESSA UNDAUNDED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Acting Secretary Lansing today announced receipt of a telegram from the American charge d'affaires at Petrograd saying Odessa has been bombarded and some American property destroyed.

The despatch which came from Charge Wilson transmitted a message from the American consul at Odessa who said he would send a full report later on the extent of American property damaged. He did not say by whom the bombardment was done, but it is presumed here that it was Turkish ships.

RUSSIAN EMBASSY AT

WASHINGTON NOTIFIED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The Russian embassy here today received word from its foreign office at Petrograd that Turkey had taken warlike action toward Russia. The despatch did not give any details nor did it state whether the action was on land or sea.

D. ROCKEFELLER AT CO-

PENINSULA

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 29.—(Via London, Oct. 30.)—The American tank steamer John D. Rockefeller arrived here today. For the last three years no mercantile vessel carrying the American flag has visited Copenhagen and the advent of the Rockefeller today was made the occasion for a hearty greeting by a large crowd which gathered at her pier.

TWO GERMAN AEROPLANES DROP

BOMBS AT BETHUNE,

FRANCE

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Two German aeroplanes on Wednesday dropped two bombs at Bethune, France, according to the correspondent of the Daily Mail in northern France. The first failed to explode, but the second whirled among market women, killed 15 of them and injured 40 others.

Two bombs were also dropped at Dunkirk on the same day from a Taube machine 1000 feet in the air. A woman and child were killed and all the windows in the neighborhood were smashed. The women of the town are terrified.

BUCHAREST REPORTS SIX ITALIAN

WARSHIPS AND AT AY-

LONA

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A despatch from

Bucharest to the Times says:

"There are now six Italian warships at Avlona. The whole duty of enforcing the decisions of the conference at London in Albania will be entrusted to Italy as the sole neutral power among the signatories."

"At present Albania is under six different regimes. Secular is governed by a local commission composed of Moslems and Christians. Avlona is also under a local commission, the Mardites, Christian tribes in upper Albania, have formed a separate state, the Mardites tribes remain under a patriarchal institution the southern districts are under the Greek invaders; while Durazzo and the central regions are under Ezzat Pasha, reasons given for the occupation of Northern Epirus. The Greek troops were received everywhere with enthusiasm."

"The international commission is reduced to four members who personate the ghosts of the European concert. Except in the south the country is remarkably tranquil. Prince William of Wied, although given assurances by the king of the support of his claims in the future will probably find his prospects as sovereign compromised by his acceptance of a position on the German staff."

"It is announced at Athens that all the powers have informed Greece that they approve of the reasons given for the occupation of Northern Epirus. The Greek troops were received everywhere with enthusiasm."

WARNING TO SHIPPERS

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—The Mexico foreign office has issued a warning to steamship companies and merchants doing business with Mexico to the effect that the Mexican government will not recognize any document signed by Francisco Uruquidí as consul of Mexico in New York. The legal representative of this country in that city, the statement says, is Senor Enriquez.

The claim made by Senor Uruquidí that he is named as consul by the Mexican authorities is said by the Mexican government to be false because the convention has no power to nominate the supreme power residing alone in General Carranza.

JOHNSON TO JOIN FEUD

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—Gossip continues that Walter Johnson will pitch for the St. Louis Cardinals next season but Fielder Jones, manager of the St. Louis team, would not admit today that Johnson had signed a contract.

Jones returned to St. Louis from a three days' trip. He denied that he has seen Johnson but indicates he was after him. Johnson states he will go where he can get the most money.

advocate and friend of the masses, men and women cheered and applauded again and again.

Referring to his veto of the bill allowing the widow of the late Judge Pratt the judge's salary for the remainder of his term, he said he vetoed it because it was unconstitutional. He said no man in the commonwealth would have been gladder to have helped the widow than the governor himself. He read passages from the veto message and showed that if the widow of the judge of a superior court were allowed such pension, the same would apply not only to the widows of the judges of inferior courts, but also to the widows of clerks and others in the government's employ. He said it would impose an expense upon the state that would be enormous and the taxpayer would have to settle. He vetoed that bill, he said, "because I believed that the widow of a judge has no more right to such compensation than has the widow of the humblest employee."

Gov. Walsh was met at the depot by a committee consisting of Messrs. John J. Murphy, Councilor John J. Hogan, Senator Edward Fisher, Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan, Postmaster Robert J. Crowley, Dr. J. T. Donohue and Cornelius Cronin, chairman of the democratic city committee.

The governor was escorted in an automobile from the depot to the entrance to the State House. A large crowd awaited him. No sooner had the automobile landed than somebody in the crowd suggested three cheers for His Excellency and the cheers were given with a will and a vigor.

The state was introduced by Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan when the governor later referred to as one of the staunchest and ablest democrats in the state. In introducing the governor, Mr. O'Sullivan said there was no doubt but what the loss of the people of Lowell toward the present governor and administration as a whole would be registered at the polls on Tuesday next. He said that the loyalty and enthusiasm of the democrats of Lowell was to express itself and that when he sent out a call for automobiles for service on Tuesday next he found that he could get more automobiles than he would know what to do with.

The Governor's Speech

Governor Walsh said in part: In this campaign, as in that of last year, I am referring from personalities and dealing only with the issues of the campaign. I feel that as a leader of a great political party and as head of our state administration, my thoughts should be concentrated upon the formulation and advancement of those principles which mean better government and a larger contribution to the happiness and prosperity of all the people in the commonwealth. I place my candidacy and my plea for your support upon the splendid record of our party, upon the great service it has rendered to the people of Massachusetts and to the nation to the people of the whole country. Time has vindicated us and has proved beyond doubt that the policies we have stood for have truly been for the interest of the people at large. We have listened to the heart beat and to the murmuring of the great masses of our people and we have served them as government so far as they have entrusted us with power.

For years we have been battling for the rights of the individual. We have released the throat of the government from the grasp of the selfish financial interests which have often used its powers for the advancement of the few. Eighteen years ago our party sent out to the world a platform of principles which today are recognized as having contributed more to our progress in government than any body of political declarations that has been put forth for a long period. Nevertheless our party was then ridiculed and condemned and its leaders were defeated and humiliated because we were pleading for the individual and his just rights.

We are confident in this present contest because of the things already accomplished. We have freed the individual from the domination of the caucuses through establishing the direct primary. We have done away with the intrigues of scheming politicians in convention halls, we have given the voter the right to name directly the men whom he would select as candidates for public office. We have for the first time in the history of our American government given the people the right to select their own United States senators instead of having representatives chosen for other purposes perform this vital duty for them.

We have through the untiring efforts of our great leader in Washington and the fearless men who are serving our party in congress given to the individual the opportunity to secure what he consumes at less expense than ever before, through reducing the unreasonable tariff taxes which have burdened the people for so many years.

We have lightened the burden of the individual by placing taxation upon those best able to bear it through the passage of the federal income tax law. We have secured currency legislation which will further aid the individual in his business and financial relations, will protect him against panics and promote his prosperity. We have secured the financial interests have been effectively considered in our banking legislation but our democratic administration has made it plain that hereafter the individual is to be reckoned with, that the great financial interests of this government are not to be placed in the hands of a few bankers but are to be kept under the control of the people. Upon this splendid record of legislation for the individual we come before the people asking once more their confidence and support.

Account of His Administration

I come now to some of the things accomplished in my one year of administration in this state. We have kept faith with western Massachusetts in securing a commission to consider generally the needs, possibilities and probable benefits, both to the commonwealth and to the five western counties, of a development and extension of transportation facilities, of a fuller utilization of the agricultural, dairy and stock grazing opportunities of the part of this commonwealth. This commission is also to study the causes and remedies for the diminution of population and the decline of industries and agriculture. It is to consider, furthermore, the best methods of securing the necessary transportation facilities, including the feasibility, probable cost of construction, by the commonwealth, the best kind of construction, and the most practicable and useful routes for a system of railroads, street and electric railways or state highways to serve and promote the development of these western counties.

We have put on the statute books an act to help the farmer by providing for rural credits and for the lending of money on farm property on more liberal terms.

Previous to my becoming governor there were several classes of public service corporations doing business in this commonwealth which were also lately free from supervision and regulation by public authorities. Upon my recommendation there were passed laws placing under public supervision companies furnishing water power, hydro-electric power and water supply. For the first time in Massachusetts, provisions have been made to safeguard the issues of new capital stock of such companies, for compulsory service and for regulating prices. The laws which have applied to other public service corporations now apply to these companies, thus placing every public service corporation in the state under the supervision and regulation of the public authorities.

One of the most important and progressive acts of the legislature of 1914 was that which consolidated the laws relative to the manufacture, distribution and sale of gas and electricity. Upon assuming the duties of my office I discovered that legislation which provided for the supervision of companies engaged in supplying electric light and power was becoming obsolete, owing to the great advance made in the electrical industry in the last 20 years. I also found financial methods, novel in their character and hostile to the public interest were stealthily making their way among these companies. I was successful, in cooperation with the Gas and Electric Light commission, in having the general body of legislation on this subject and will enable this board in the future to successfully meet and cope with the mischievous methods of high finance while some of these companies were succeeding in employing.

The Railroad Question

I heartily co-operated with the national government in its efforts to separate the Boston & Maine from the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and to restore to the public the right to select their own United States senators instead of having representatives chosen for other purposes perform this vital duty for them.

We have through the untiring efforts of our great leader in Washington and the fearless men who are serving our party in congress given to the individual the opportunity to secure what he consumes at less expense than ever before, through reducing the unreasonable tariff taxes which have burdened the people for so many years.

We have lightened the burden of the individual by placing taxation upon those best able to bear it through the passage of the federal income tax law. We have secured currency legislation which will further aid the individual in his business and financial relations, will protect him against panics and promote his prosperity. We have secured the financial interests have been effectively considered in our banking legislation but our democratic administration has made it plain that hereafter the individual is to be reckoned with, that the great financial interests of this government are not to be placed in the hands of a few bankers but are to be kept under the control of the people. Upon this splendid record of legislation for the individual we come elections, I recommended that the state should pay certain expenses of political campaigns including the cost of circulating the voters of hiring halls and certain election day expenses. This gives the poor man a chance if he has a talent for public affairs. These recommendations of mine were rejected.

I am a strong believer in the initiative and referendum. I believe this would be the most practical method of destroying the influence of the lobby in legislation, of restoring to the people the right to reject any bad laws, and to enact any good laws which their public servants may refuse to adopt. This recommendation, requiring a two-thirds vote of the house, was rejected, but it was supported by the practically united democratic and progressive strength in the legislature.

In re-establishing the commission on economy and efficiency on a non-partisan basis, one member of each of the three leading parties having a place on the board, I believe I made this commission a most potent force for good in the government of the commonwealth. In my opinion it was farcical to be a house divided against itself because of political jealousies or distrust.

Workmen's Compensation Act

I secured the amendment of the workmen's compensation act to make it in fact, as well as in theory, a law fairly and justly compensating injured workmen, rather than a law tending to provide insurance for the injured workmen, but in reality giving more excessive compensation to the insurance companies. This, too, I did, not by placing any additional burdens upon the employer, and thus perhaps causing bitter feelings between man and man, but by making the insurance companies share the large profits they were taking from the employers of labor for insuring their employees. The original workmen's compensation act provided that in case an employe was injured in the course of his or her employment one-half of the weekly wage should be paid during the time of his disability.

In studying the operation of this act two facts became apparent, first, that either commonwealths had provided for greater benefits than Massachusetts; second, that Massachusetts statistics showed that of each dollar of premiums paid by employers to liability insurance companies but 2 cents was paid in benefits, while 98 cents was retained by the insurance companies. This information I set forth in my inaugural message to the legislature and pointed out the injustice inflicted upon our working people and urged that the law be amended to remove such inequalities. I asked for eight changes, all of them directed toward increasing the benefits to the working people of Massachusetts. My recommendations were all adopted. A new workmen's compensation law became operative in Massachusetts on Oct. 1 of this year, which provides first, for an increase in the percentage of weekly payments to be paid to injured employes from one-half to two-thirds of their weekly wages; second, for a change in the maximum payment of compensation on account of total incapacitation from $300 to $400; third, for an increase in the number of weeks during which compensation should be paid on account of incapacitation from 300 to 500 weeks; fourth, for establishing the right of an employe to have the service of his own family physician in case of an emergency or for any other justifiable cause; fifth, for providing for the payment of an adequate lump sum instead of partial weekly payments over a long drawn period; sixth, that women living apart from their husbands for justifiable cause may enjoy the benefits of the act; seventh, for the extension of the provisions of this act to all employes whether casual or irregularly employed. These and other enabling amendments to the original act secured by the democratic administration of this year now make our Massachusetts law almost an ideal piece of legislation, providing for the workers of the state a rate of compensation more adequate and satisfactory.

Public Health Question

Of all the important functions of the state administration there is none more important than the protection of public health. The most important thing in life is health and without this all else becomes unimportant. The test of the health administration is the death rate. It is higher here than in any other country that can be fairly compared. Other countries have had scientific organizations with central health authorities, uniformly with health regulations and rules, co-ordination of efforts and efficient enforcement of the law which in most of the states in this country until a comparatively recent period we have sadly lacked.

In our own state for five years past there has been an energetic effort made by public-spirited men interested in this great problem to secure an efficient and responsible state health department. Our administration machinery was found to be inadequate to grapple with the great problem. The local boards of health were working without to secure tenure of office or the advice that can come from a strong state organization. Our state organization itself was unequipped to perform its own task efficiently. It was to lead in an organization of local health work upon modern lines.

In Massachusetts in 1912 out of a total of 52,250 deaths, there were 10,360 deaths of children under one year of age. I wonder if our people realize that this proportion means a city of homes the size of Holyoke, of Brockton, with every home saddened by the tragedy of a little baby's death. I wonder if our people realize that 17 children out of every 1000 in Massachusetts die in their first year? The rate of 1912 was 17.5. Even if New York city's rate for 1912 had prevailed in Massachusetts for that year there would have been over 1100 less infant deaths here.

There are 6000 deaths each year in Massachusetts from tuberculosis and the expense for the 6000 persons dying from tuberculosis in their sickness and loss of wages amounts to more than twenty-five million dollars every year, practically all coming out of the poor. Massachusetts has four times as many deaths from typhoid proportionately to population as the city of London. This means that this cause every year costs the state from this cause every year $1,000,000. The cost of living investigation in 1910 showed that Massachusetts paid for preventable death and serious illness in the year 1905, $52,137,312. It is shown that 120,000 persons are estimated constantly to be sick in this commonwealth one-half of which illness is preventable.

It was with a knowledge of these facts and with the realization that our state health administration system was inadequate to the needs of our people that I called upon the legislature for the enactment of legislation to provide for a paid health commissioner with a salary and power which would make possible the securing of one of the best health experts in the country as health commissioner. This legislation I used every legitimate power of the executive office to force to enactment but I regret to say that some republican legislative leaders were so blind to the necessities of the situation as to attempt to defeat the measure in the closing hours of the legislative session. Despite their efforts the law was placed upon the statute books and I have secured as health commissioner one of the most experienced and best known health authorities of the country whose study and experience is based upon years of active service in the United States and Europe. He is to assume office within a few days and I shall then name the advisory council which is to co-operate with him in this the greatest work to which the agencies of the state can be directed. I would be content to rest my whole claim for reelection upon the usefulness and importance of this great reform in our state health administration.

Conserve Natural Resources

I have taken up the problem of conservation of natural resources by providing for state-owned forests and for a fire hazard commission to reduce the tremendous loss caused by careless and accidental fires.

I tried to be governor for all the people all the time. Upon every state board of which I had the naming, I provided for a representation for those people who did not agree with the principles and policies of my own political faith. For the first time I declared for a policy which did not ignore the minority. I believed that a representation of the minority on those boards tended towards a better, safer and more representative form of government.

The unusual and unexpected situation calling for relief and funds for the people of the stricken city of Salem with the earnest co-operation of the national government and various branches of our state government was dealt with speedily and in a manner which retounded credit to this commonwealth.

I have tried to show by what I have said that the promises I made to the people of Massachusetts as a candidate for governor I have kept. I have not had to contribute or to spend money to make my political career. I, therefore, need not be subservient to any one man or any set of men. The people, alone, I must answer to. I have tried to be a faithful servant to the people. I have not sought the favor of corporations.

I have been governor in fact as well as in name, responsibly to the people alone under my oath of office. It is not my purpose in this campaign to use personalities. There are enough great and little issues before us to absorb all our thought and attention. It is not inappropriate, however, that I should make as clear to you as I can what is the nature and tendency of the republican party at this time. The republican party chooses to believe that it was driven from power by a quack by the name of Frank and more especially by the revival of Mr. Roosevelt. It has accepted the idea that popular excitement over high prices unjustly blamed upon its tariff policy and Mr. Roosevelt's ambition have temporarily deprived it of leadership.

Its trouble lies deeper. The best part of the grand old party is in the progressive party, and the promoters of this latter party are trying to save from the wreckage some of the good principles of the republican party and incorporate with them democracy's most advanced ideas. The progressives, however, are untried in legislation, while the democratic party offers to the young man practical, efficient and scientific doctrines.

This is too crucial a period in the life of our nation to make experiments. The state should adopt the motto: "Safety first."

GRAFT CHARGES FALL

ALDERMAN GILMAN OF DETROIT ACQUITTED IN FIRST CASE TO REACH TRIAL

DETROIT, Oct. 30.—Alderman Thos. P. Gilman, one of several Detroit aldermen arrested in July, 1912, was acquitted in the recorder's court this afternoon. Gilman was the only alderman to reach trial and his acquittal, it is said, will end the cases against the other officials. They were accused of grafting in municipal affairs.

The prosecution's case rested on evidence secured by a detective agency that worked here at the request of Mayor William B. Thompson. When Gilman was arrested $1050 in marked money was taken from his coat pocket.

The detectives represented themselves as employees of the Walsh railroad and a decoy resolution was introduced in the common council ordering the closing of a street for the benefit of the railroad. Gilman was then regarded as the most influential member of the council. The prosecution has since claimed that Gilman and some railroadmen furnished names of aldermen whose votes could be purchased.

It was alleged that Gilman's price was $750. A trap was set and Gilman arrested shortly after a detective had placed marked money in the alderman's pocket. The other aldermen were arrested immediately after Gilman was taken into custody.

The detectives maintained that Gilman voted in favor of the decoy resolution before he had discussed the matter with the detectives; that the money was placed in his coat pocket without his knowledge and that a large part of the evidence submitted by the detectives was not based on fact, but on the word of a street vendor.

Gilman has been re-elected to office since his arrest in 1912.

CAPT. FRANCOIS PAIGNON

RETIRED FRENCH SOLDIER ACCEPES POSITION IN NEW YORK CITY

Commandant Francois Paignon, a retired officer of the French army, who the past few years has been making his home in New York, has accepted a position at the office of the general consul of France. Mr. Paignon at the outbreak of the war offered his services to France, asking to be enlisted in his own regiment, but on account of his advanced age his request was not granted. His two sons, who were making their homes with him in this city left for the front and now serving their country. He aged veteran a few days ago was offered a position in the office of the general consul in New York and a couple of days ago the commandant left the Spaulding City for his new field of work.

BATTLE LINE FROM THE ATLANTIC TO INDIAN

May Result From Turkey's Entrance Into War—Greece, Rumania and Bulgaria Practically Certain to be Drawn Into Conflict Engaging Ten Nations

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The line of battle as a result of the entry of the Ottoman empire into the international struggle now stretches in an almost unbroken diagonal line across Europe and it may reach from the Atlantic to the Indian ocean, as Turkey's adherence to the Teutonic side of the quarrel can hardly be the final new development in the war which gradually is engulfing the eastern hemisphere.

Greece, Rumania and Bulgaria are practically certain to be drawn into the conflict which is already engaging ten nations and the ultimate inclusion of Italy and Persia with perhaps the Asiatic lands to the eastward of the latter country is today regarded in London as scarcely less probable.

Hot on the heels of the Turkish offensive movement against Russian ports on the Black sea has followed what amounts to a declaration of war by Emperor Nicholas in the form of instructions to his ambassador and his consuls to quit Turkey forthwith and this undoubtedly will be followed promptly by similar action on the part of each of the allied governments. The appearance of the allied fleet off the Dardanelles will be a natural sequence.

The intervention of the Porte since its persistent disregard of the warnings of Great Britain, France and Russia has been anticipated and is said to have been thoroughly prepared for. It has been accepted in London as another proof of the German move to endeavor to draw off Russian forces from Poland and Galicia. The Muscovites, however, have a large and growing reserve which they claim is quite capable of attending to the Turkish factor without depleting the armies now in the field.

These latter, apparently, are making steady progress toward the entrenched positions on the river Waerth in Rumania, where the Germans will make another attack to rend their enemy. The Russian reconquest of Czernowitz in Bukovina is considered important as this town is a railroad junction and its possession frees another railroad line to Lodz, which again is possession of Russian troops.

Rumors are again current in London today that Hungary weary of a war in which she has nothing to gain would accept a peace which would restore to her the status quo ante bellum. It is suggested also that Serbia soon may be compelled to retire within her own borders and assume a purely defensive role in consequence of the national exhaustion resulting from the fighting of three campaigns in as many years.

The battle arena stretching between La Bassée and Nieuport has been virtually stilled again, so far as independent news is concerned and the official communications on the progress of fighting in Flanders are so contradictory that little can be gleaned from them.

The appointment of Baron Fisher popularly called "Jacky Fisher," to succeed Prince Louis of Battenberg as first sea lord of the admiralty has been hailed with enthusiasm by the public with whom he is a prime favorite.

MOTOR CYCLIST INJURED

A young motor cyclist had a narrow escape from being seriously injured early yesterday afternoon when he was thrown to the street as a result of being struck by an automobile, said to have been driven by an out-of-town man. The accident occurred near the corner of Elliot and Middlesex streets as the driver of the motorcycle was proceeding along Elliot street toward Middlesex street. In some way the cyclist became confused and his machine collided with the motorcycle, throwing the driver to the street and badly damaging the front wheel of the cycle. The young man sustained a severe shaking up.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION

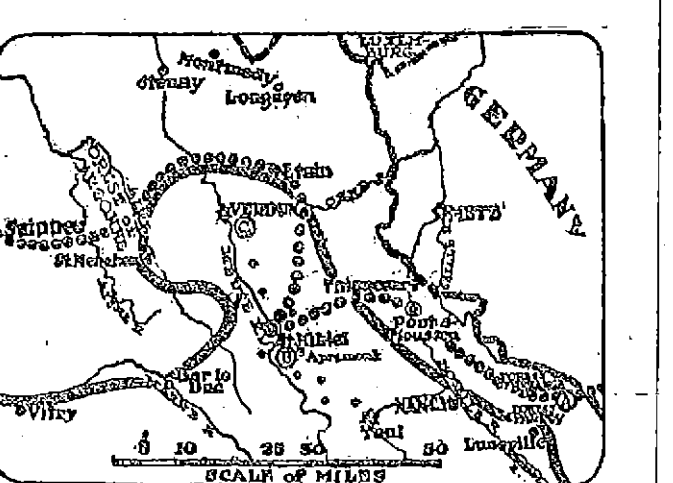

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Official despatches today from the Mexican convention at Aguas Calientes show that action has not yet been taken on the restoration of General Carranza, but that the discussion was still confined to the program of agrarian reforms.

The most important action of the convention since the Zapata delegates arrived, according to official advices, was their pledge to abide by the results of the convention.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

All the public schools of this city and the surrounding towns were closed yesterday on account of the teachers attending the annual convention of the Middlesex County Teachers' association, at the Tremont Temple in Boston.

MAP OF WAR SITUATION AROUND VERDUN, NANCY AND METZ

This map shows the present situation in the region of Verdun, Nancy and Metz and the high level of the German advance in this direction about Sept. 6. The heavy black line shows the German line at this last date and the circular dotted line shows how the Germans are disposed now. Before the defeat on the Marne the crown prince's army was in an enveloping position west and east of Verdun. An effort was made by the crown prince to stay the strong movement of the allies after the battle of the Marne by attacking some of the forts that connect Verdun and Toul, but he was forced to withdraw hurriedly to the north of the great forest of Argonne. Since then a determined effort has been made to invest Verdun or divide the French line between Verdun and Toul, and the Germans now occupy St. Mihiel (shown at B, while C is Verdun). They hold heights on both sides of the Meuse. Official dispatches from Paris, while declaring that the situation around Verdun and St. Mihiel is substantially unchanged, say the extreme German left has been driven across the frontier into Lorraine, between the forests of Bezange and Perroy. This is shown at letter A. The object of this movement is plainly to relieve the situation around Verdun and Toul and compel the Germans to draw back from St. Mihiel.

MATRIMONIAL

Miss Grace M. Simonds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Simonds of Nashua, N. H., formerly of North Dummer, and Henry H. Pettigill of Londonderry, N. H., were married at 7.30 o'clock Thursday at the home of the bride by Rev. J. Bruce Gilman of the First Baptist church. Miss Margaret Shea was bridesmaid and Herbert A. Ingalls of Haverhill, a cousin of the bride, was best man. Mrs. J. Grace Ingalls of Haverhill, aunt of the bride, played the wedding march. A reception to the immediate families and a few intimate friends was held and a collation served. Many beautiful gifts were received. Mr. and Mrs. Pettigill will reside at South Royalton, Vt.

PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

AUGUSTA, Me., Oct. 30.—Benjamin F. Cleaves of Biddeford, William B. Skelton of Lewiston and Samuel W. Gould of Skowhegan were nominated by Governor Haines today to constitute the board of public utility commissioners, created by the new law which went into operation today. They are subject to confirmation by his council next Friday.

Mr. Cleaves, who is judge of the Biddeford municipal court, was designated as chairman whose term is seven years. Mr. Skelton, a former state bank commissioner and judge, advocates general on the staff of former Governor Cobb, is to serve five years and former Congressman Gould, the minority or demerit member of the board three years. All three are lawyers, though the law does not require that they shall be members of that profession.

CASUALTY LIST OF OFFICERS

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A casualty list dated October 24 and October 27, issued last night, gives the names of 23 officers killed, 45 wounded and 17 missing.

Among the killed are Capt. Mon. Charles Henry Stanley Monck of the Cold Stream Guards, heir of Viscount Monck, and Lieut. Col. W. L. Loring of the Royal Warwickshire regiment.

In the list of wounded appear the names of Major Lord Esme Charles Gordon-Lennox of the Scots Guards, second son of the Duke of Richmond; Lieut. Col. G. E. T. Fielding of the Cold Stream Guards; Brevet Lieut. Col. G. C. Stewart of the Royal Field Artillery and Lieut. Col. Hugh Davis White-Thompson of the Royal Horse Artillery.

WHY EGGS WERE HIGH

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The reason why eggs were high in New York last month is that farmers in the west held back their shipments in the expectation that the war in Europe would enable them to get $1 a dozen. Another reason why they were high was because of the stringent rules of the board of health. William P. Brown, who sells more than $1,000,000 worth of butter and eggs a year, so testified this afternoon in the investigation conducted by Attorney-General Parsons to determine whether a butter and egg monopoly exists in New York.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Signals of distress have been sent up since last night of Whitby on the Yorkshire coast from a steamship believed to be the Hekila, a British vessel of 7600 tons being used as a hospital ship. A storm, however, has caused such heavy seas that the launching of lifeboats has been impossible.

OLYMPIC PUTS INTO HARBOR

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The steamer Olympic, which left New York October 21 for Glasgow, warned by wireless that there were German mines off Tory island, on the north coast of Ireland, put into Lough Swilly. Here her passengers were landed and sent by special train to Londonderry. Lough Swilly is in County Donegal.

LOAN OF $10,000,000

MADE BY NEW YORK BANKERS MAY OPEN WAY FOR GERMANY TO NEGOTIATE SIMILAR LOANS

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The $10,000,000 French loan made by a group of New York bankers to the government of France to be used by France as a checking account against the purchase of supplies in this country has opened the way in the opinion of New York bankers for Germany and Austria to negotiate similar loans here with a view to having them made available to pay for shipments of cotton and other supplies from the United States.

There was every indication today that agents of the German government were in touch with Wall Street bankers and that overtures were being made toward the making of a war loan with Germany.

It was believed in addition that Russia might pursue a similar course. The $10,000,000 loan to France is to be distributed among a number of banks both in and out of New York according to announcement made today at the National City bank. No gold will be shipped abroad, but the entire amount will be used in paying for American products to be shipped to France.

It is said that German mercantile and industrial interests had built up a huge credit in this country during the last month. Estimates placed the amount of these balances at between $50,000,000 and $75,000,000. These credits have already been reduced through purchases here of foodstuffs and general merchandise including considerable quantities of raw materials. It is known also that heavy shipments of cotton, wool and similar provisions have been made for these interests which are expected to continue their purchases for an indefinite period.

Great Britain's assurances of non-interference in the shipment of cotton to Germany in neutral bottoms has also stimulated to an unusual degree the German and Austrian demand here for cotton.

RE WILL LOCATE HERE

John J. deAguiar, who was found wandering about the Union station in Worcester Wednesday afternoon with $390 in twenty-dollar gold pieces on his person, was taken here Thursday afternoon by his brother, who resides at 43 Short street. When picked up by the police deAguiar was apparently laboring under the delusion that some one was following him. He has worked in various shoe industries in California, and was on his way to pay a visit to his brother in this city. In some way he missed connections when near his destination and landed in Worcester. He will in all probability make his home in this city, as he is well acquainted with the shoe business and feels confident of finding a position in one of the local factories. His brother owns a partnership in a provision store in Charles street.

POSTAL ORDER BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Temporary suspension of postal order business between the United States and Mexico was announced today by postal officials. Postmasters throughout this country will not pay orders issued in Mexico after Oct. 26 and will not issue orders on Mexico. The suspension was declared at Mexico's request.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

The Philadelphia high school for girls now teaches book-keeping.

USING MAILS TO DEFRAUD

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Elbert Sewall, the treasurer of Jared Flagg's brokerage concern, testifying for the defense today in Flagg's trial on charges of using the mail to defraud, told the jury that Flagg had paid out more than $500,000 in profits to his clients. Several of Flagg's customers testified that they had invested their money with him on a margin basis.

STEAMERS ARRIVE

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Arrived steamer Franconia from Liverpool.

DEATHS

PENNINGTON.—Francis Pennington died this morning at the home of his son, Thomas Pennington, 22 Riverdale street, at the age of 81 years, 9 months and 13 days. He is survived by two sons, Thomas of this city and Frank Pennington of New Bedford; two daughters, Mrs. Richard Baldwin of New Bedford and Mrs. George Hardy of New Bedford. New Bedford papers, please copy.

WHEAT MARKET

Hostilities between Turkey and Russia caused a general dash today to the buying side in the wheat market here. As a result prices opened as much as 1/4 cent higher than last night's level; wheat touching $1.22 as against $1.19 1/2 at the previous close.

TO INCREASE FREIGHT RATES
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Closing arguments for and against the application of eastern railroads for advance in freight rates of at least 5 per cent was begun before the Interstate Commerce commission today. Clifford Thorne, representing several western state railroad commissions and many shipping bodies, was on hand ready to sum up the case of those opposed to the proposed advance in rates and George F. Brownell of the Erie railroad was to close for the carriers. The commission, it is thought, will take up the case for final disposition at its November conference.

YOUNG WIFE KILLS SELF

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Margaret Dumphry, 27 years old, wife of Mark J. Dumphry of 7 Julian street, Roxbury, committed suicide early yesterday afternoon by inhaling illuminating gas at her home in the absence of her two children, whom she had left with a sister-in-law at her near-by home. Despondency is given as the cause.

COMMITMENT RATES

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Operation of the proposed changes in commitment rates on the Boston & Maine railroad has been suspended until January 1, 1919. It was announced by the public service commission today. The new rates were to have become effective Nov. 1.

GERMAN TROOPS SUFFERING

BORDEAUX, Oct. 30.—A despatch from Basel received here says that the German troops are suffering from hunger and cold. The despatch says also that Germany has called upon the 1911 class of reserves, ranging from 17 to 45 years of age and numbering at least 450,000 men.

MRS. COYLE INJURED

The local police are investigating an alleged assault and battery, said to have occurred in a tenement in the rear of 11 E. Merrimack street yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Mary Coyle sustained a severe scalp wound. At the hospital Mrs. Coyle said that the laceration was received as a result of being hit with a piece of wood, but her condition together with information received, led the authorities to believe that she had fallen down a flight of stairs.

HIS 10TH CHILD BORN

Narcisse Foucher, president of Union Garin Nationale Independente, is smiling pleasantly today for Thursday he had his 10th child—children. The child was given the name of Hector and the sponsors were Hector Robillard and Celeste Foucher.

Mr. Foucher is a bookkeeper in the Appleton mill and has been married 22 years. His wife was formerly Miss Marie Foucher and despite her large family she is enjoying the best of health. Out of 16 children nine are living, their names and ages being as follows: Celeste, 14 years; Eva, 13 years; Adèle, 10 years; Dora, 9 years; Wilfred, 8 years; Edouard, 5 years; Beatrice, 3 years; Gerard, 18 months and Hector, two days.

Mr. Foucher resides at 15 Hancock avenue with his large family and he says although the cost of living is extremely high he is able to take care of his family and the birth of his large family around the festive hour is a most pleasing spectacle for him. Mr. Foucher is also a member of Union Samuel de Champlain and the Loomhairs' union. Mrs. Foucher is 39 years of age, while her husband is two years her senior.

EASTERN STEAMSHIP CORP.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 30.—A creditors' bill for the appointment of a receiver of the Eastern Steamship corporation was filed with Judge William L. Putnam in the United States circuit court today in behalf of the Revival-White Coal Mining Co. of New York. A hearing will be held next Saturday.

GERMANS DISCARD UNIFORMS

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A despatch from Amsterdam says it is reported that a hundred German soldiers have discarded their uniforms and crossed to Belgium into the Dutch territory.

FOUND DEAD IN HOME A HALLOWE'EEN PARTY

NEW BEDFORD WOMAN FOUND WITH HER THROAT CUT—POLICE SEEK HUSBAND

NEW BEDFORD, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Madeline Blanchard of this city was found dead in her kitchen this noon with her throat cut. Medical Examiner Hough who viewed the body could not state from a superficial examination whether the wounds were self-inflicted or whether the woman had been murdered. The police are searching the city for her husband to question him.

CITY HALL NOTES

The three corporations who have entered formal complaint with the city treasurer relative to the amount of their taxes, the Board of Assessors, the Board of Assessors and the Board of Assessors, will be given a hearing next week in the office of the assessors at city hall. These corporations claim that they have been called upon to pay the city for taxes more than their just share. It was stated at the assessors' office today that about 200 tax payers have petitioned for abatement of taxes.

The Park Department

The park department is covering up the fountains at Lucy Laronc park, Fort Hill, and the North and South commons. The park department has also started the fall planting of tulips. John W. Kernan, superintendent of parks, doesn't take very kindly to the holding of political rallies on the city hall steps. He says that every time a rally is held there the fences surrounding the lawn are broken down and the lawn trampled upon.

Governor as Guest

Letter Boxes Painted

Perhaps you have noticed that the letter boxes about town have been painted and if you have been the least bit observant you will remember that the boxes were sorely in need of a new coat. The boxes have also been supplied with new cards stating the hours that the mail is collected.

CENTRALVILLE SOCIAL CLUB

The members of the Centralville Social club have decided to hold their annual banquet on Thanksgiving eve and accordingly at the last meeting of the organization a committee was appointed to look after all arrangements to make this year's event the best ever. As is customary the banquet will be held at midnight and it is expected that the attendance will be much larger than in previous years for the club now has spacious quarters. The committee in charge of the arrangements is composed of the following: Rosario Lussier, chairman; Ferdinand Lussier, Hillego Ducharme, Arthur Demers, J. A. Demers, J. L. Allen, Henri W. Allen, Delphin Belletier, Theobald Barthelet, Avila Desrosiers, George Dion, Thomas Savard, Hector Monette, Raoul Dionne, Noe Chaput, William Rousseau, Oreste Groulx, Edouard Belletier, J. Pelletier, Eugene Vincent, Virgile Levy, Albert Brancard and Eugene Boitue, ex-officio.

REBELS HOLD PORT AU PRINCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—President Zarnor of Haiti has been obliged to quit his capital, Port au Prince, and seek refuge on a Dutch vessel, according to report to the state department today from the American legation in Haiti. Officials interpret this to mean that the rebels are in complete control of Port au Prince.

CANDIDATE GOODWIN SPOKE

George A. Goodwin, candidate for county commissioner on the progressive ticket, spoke before a large sized gathering at the Tremont & Suffolk mill gate at noon yesterday. He confined his talk principally to Levi P. Gould and attacked the methods of the so-called county ring. He made a good impression.

GERMANS DISCARD UNIFORMS

LONDON, Oct. 30.—A despatch from Amsterdam says it is reported that a hundred German soldiers have discarded their uniforms and crossed to Belgium into the Dutch territory.

CHIEF BENDER AND MATHEWSON ARE LIKELY TO MEET EACH OTHER AT GOLF

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Christopher Mathewson and Chief Bender are both golfers, and efforts have been made to arrange for a contest between them on the links. Matty says that regular practice on the links during the winter keeps him in condition for his work on the diamond in the summer, and Bender has a similar idea. They have met on the diamond, with the honors about even, and if they clash on the links the meeting will be watched with interest.

LOWELL BUILDING NEWS

New School Accommodation for Greek Children Begun—Several are Building Garages

Perhaps the most noteworthy of the building operations progressing in Lowell at the present time, is the complete remodeling of the structure at 251 Worthen street, the object being to provide greater educational accommodations and facilities for the children of the Greek colony. The plans for this addition to the Greek schools were made some time ago and now the work of bringing about the material realization of the ideas of the school committee of the colony has been started.

In a word, the plan is to change the residence at the above mentioned location into a school building, and this will entail the erection of additions and a great deal of remodeling of both the interior and exterior. The chairman of the committee in charge is Mr. Peter Tzavoularis, and the result of the progressive ideas and hard work of Mr. Tzavoularis and his fellow committee men will be a building that will accommodate a large number of the Greek school children.

The building will have four spacious class rooms, well equipped. The foundation work is to be constructed of stone and the building will have a flat roof. The fireproof features will be brought about by the construction of walls of metal lath and hard plaster. An addition will be erected at the front and the material used will be brick. There will also be an addition to the all part.

In addition to the class rooms, there will be ten closets and rooms equipped with toilet fixtures. A new heating and ventilating plant of up-to-date design will be installed, and the entire interior will be newly finished. The building, when completed, will be two stories in height.

The estimated cost of the work is $7000.

Sales by E. P. Shattery, Jr.

Edward P. Shattery, Jr., real estate and insurance, with office at 294 Sun building, reports the following sales for the week ending October 30th.

The sale of a two-tenement house with five rooms to each tenement. The property is near the junction of Fletcher and Dowers streets and occupies a splendid corner. The names of grantor and grantee will be given when the final papers are recorded.

Thos. H. Elliott, Office

Thos. H. Elliott, real estate broker, offices, 64 Central street, corner Prescott, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week ending Friday, Oct. 30th.

Final papers have been passed in the transfer of the large two-apartment property situated at 11-13 Tyler street at the head of George street. The place comprises a house of twenty-four rooms divided into two apartments and provided with separate entrances. It occupies land to the amount of 6661 square feet assessed at the rate of 50c per foot. The total assessment on land and buildings is $6550. The property has served for many years as the residence of the late Dr. Wm. H. Bass. The grantors in the transaction were the trustees of the estate of the late Elizabeth G. Bass. The purchaser is Mr. Chas. L. Blake who buys purely for purposes of investment.

Also the sale of an excellent lodge-house property situated at 255 Worthen street at the corner of Broadway. This place comprises a house of ten rooms, electric heated and with bath. Its convenient location and first-class furnishings render it an especially desirable place. The transfer was negotiated on behalf of Mrs. D. F. Jones, formerly of this city, now of Boston. The purchaser is Mrs. Anna L. Wyman who is already in occupancy of the premises.

Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a first-class small residential property situated near Fletcher street. The house is full two and one-half story with eight excellent rooms and bath. It occupies a lot approximately 3000 square feet assessed at the rate of 25c per foot. The assessment totals on land and buildings $2000. The transfer is effected on behalf of out-of-town owners, the grantees buying purely for purposes of investment.

Persons have been bonded on the purchase and sale of an excellent two-apartment property situated near Gorman street. The house occupies a fine corner of 2600 square feet. The assessment is at the rate of 30c per foot and totals on land and buildings $1900. The apartments are entirely separate and have six rooms each. The sale is negotiated on behalf of a local estate, the purchasers buying for combined purposes of occupancy and investment.

Sales by James H. Boyle

James H. Boyle, real estate broker, office 64 Central street, corner of Prescott street, reports the following sales for the week ending Oct. 30:

The contracts have been signed for the sale of two two-tenement houses and store situated in Lakeview avenue. The purchaser buys the property for an investment and name will be announced later.

The contracts have been signed for the sale of a 12-tenement house situated in Lakeview avenue. The buildings are assessed for $1000 and land, $1000. The lot contains 4000 square feet. The purchaser buys for investment.

ment and the name will be announced on the passing of the final papers.

Costos Mallares plans the construction of an additional piazza on his property at 435-7 Market street.

Michael Murphy of Canada street has been granted a permit for the erection of a platform for scales for use in his business at 34 Canada street.

As the result of the partitioning off of an office, a new four-room apartment will be constructed by Esther Wolf in her property located at 119 Chestnut street. The work will include considerable new finish work on the interior.

An addition 12 by 14 feet will be erected by Nordusse Chalmers to be used as an outhouse. The addition will adjoin the side of Mr. Chalmers' dwelling and will have a post foundation.

An addition will be built over the ell of the dwelling of Alfred Leblanc in order that the owner may have an additional room. The present ell consists of four one-story. New plumbing fixtures will be installed and the interior remodeled.

Dr. J. Y. Peplu, residing at 24 Saunders avenue, will soon construct a new garage of wood with a concrete foundation and floor. The building will have a frontage of 12 feet and the side will measure 15 feet.

A second story will be added to the dwelling house of Jane McKelroy at 111 Pleasant street. The remodeling will result in the making of a two-story building out of the present single story affair and will add four new rooms to the house.

The Gilbride Co. has placed shades in the new two-apartment dwellings in Stevens street which have been erected by A. P. Demers. In the new residence of B. Roux in Mothuen street, and also has put up shades and draperies in the residence of Richard Bray in Bellevue avenue.

Charles H. Bull, a local contractor, will build an addition on the house of James C. Donovan at 176 Branch street. The addition will be used for a washroom and the work will also include several interior alterations, including plumbing equipment. The addition will measure 5 by 6 feet and will have a foundation of stone.

Frank M. Andrews of Lawrence will build a new piazza on the side of his house, situated at 27 Ward street, this city, to replace the present wooden fire escape. The measurements are 7 by 6 and a wooden stairway will lead to the ground. The estimated cost of this work will be $100.

P. F. Mahoney, residing at 77 Beach street, intends soon to begin the work of making fireproof the garage at his property, 535 Middlesex street. The building will be absolutely fireproof when the alterations shall have been completed, for the plans call for the construction of the ceiling and side walls of hard plaster on metal lath. The remodeling and fireproofing of this building will necessitate the changing over of one partition.

The property of Eastman Heris, located at 15-23 Market street of which John P. Heris is the lessee, is soon to be the object of extensive remodeling. The roof of the bridge between the two buildings will be raised about seven feet and a new outer wall of stucco and wire lath will be constructed. The work will in all probability cost in the neighborhood of $150.

During the past week extensive repairs have been made on the building at the corner of Merrimack and Worthen streets, owned by John Kimball and occupied by A. P. Sackley, the photographer, who has had his studio in that building for a number of years, and Dr. Constantineau, local dentist who has recently moved his offices from the corner of Middlesex and Central streets to this present location. The main stairway on Merrimack street is now practically new and will be well lighted with several large electric lights. The hall has also undergone a complete change. Much painting has been done as well as carpentry in this part of the building. The dental rooms of Dr. Constantineau have been thoroughly rejuvenated and remodeled and now present a beautiful appearance. Both the dentist and Mr. Sackley have had a number of business signs made which with the general changes in the building will quite alter the appearance of this edifice for the better. The carpentry work in charge of H. E. Drolet. Alfred Barrett did the painting and Miller & Co. were the artists on the new signs.

Will Build New Garage

Mrs. Fred Hogg of 245 Pine street will erect a new garage in the rear of his property at 131 Highland avenue. The floor is to be of concrete and the remainder of the building of wood. The roof will be constructed of tar and gravel, and will be of the shed variety.

PUBLIC HEALTH LAWS

Laws for the protection of the public health would fall in their purpose but for the deep interest taken in their enforcement by the plumbing trade throughout the country. A recent instance of the advantage of having an organization such as the State Examiners of Plumbers of Massachusetts is brought up in the case of a New Bedford plumber who was charged with doing the plumbing work without being registered or licensed as required by law. He was found guilty by the superior court, but filed exceptions to the rulings of that court. The case was then carried to the supreme court. The plumber claimed that he had a right to work at his will to earn his living by work at his lawful trade he thought fit and that the statute under which he had

ROUGH CAST AND HALF TIMBER PLAN

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—From a Photograph

FIRST FLOOR PLAN

SECOND FLOOR PLAN

Brick veneer up to height of first story windows, then rough cast to the cornice, with half timber effect in the second story, making a combination of brick, plaster and wood for the exterior. First story has a den and also a bedroom, which last is often considered a first story necessity. Living room extends across entire width of the house, with built-in fireplace and bookcases at one end and a staircase opposite. The dining room opens from living room by columns that extend to the ceiling. Size, 30 feet wide and 41 feet deep over the main part. Full basement. First story, 9 feet; second story, 8 feet. Ired oak finish in first story except kitchen, which is in birch. Pine to paint in second story. Birch or maple floors throughout. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $3000.

The front will measure 10 feet and the side 13 feet.

Another Garage

Another garage is to be constructed by Walter Jackson near his residence at 14 Whipple street. The garage will have a concrete floor and the foundation will be constructed of stone and cement. The roof, which is to be flat, will be constructed of tar and gravel. The roof will have a steel frame and the interior will be covered with metal. The material of the building will be chiefly stone and cement.

Two Apartment Dwellings

Mary A. Boyle is building a two-apartment dwelling near her residence at 100 Mount Washington street. The building will be a two-story affair and each apartment will contain six rooms and bath. The material of construction will be chiefly wood while the foundation is to be of stone and cement. The house will have both front and rear stairways and will measure 34 by 37 feet. Apparatus for steam heating will be installed. The estimated cost is $2500.

Architects War Relief Fund

A committee of which the chairman is R. Chester Sturgis, president of the American Institute of Architects, has issued a call to the architectural profession of the country for funds to be used for the relief of the sufferers from the present European war. The call reads in part as follows:

The debt which architecture owes to the countries of Europe is neither measurable in words nor payable in money, but in view of the appalling conditions brought about by the present war—the terrible suffering—the threatened destruction of that which

ASBESTOS IN DEMAND

The demand for building materials is likely to be affected by the fact that asbestos manufacturers to experiment with all sorts of materials with the result that asbestos is brought prominently to the front. It is interesting to note that asbestos runs in veins very nearly parallel to the ground and in thicknesses varying all the way from a mere line to 3 or 4 in. Some of the veins, however, reach a depth of 200 ft. Deposits of asbestos in one or more of its allied species are found to a limited extent in Russia, Italy, Egypt, India, South Africa and many other parts of the world. That which is mined in Canada, however, is of special commercial value as other varieties are either too brittle to utilize or too hard to mine. The asbestos when properly worked produces long, siliceous fibers which are made into fireproof goods of various kinds, the most familiar doubtless being the asbestos theatre curtain. The asbestos or rock fibers are made into felt which is often saturated with Trinidad Lake asphalt, after which several of the sheets are cemented together with this material and made into ready roofings. For shingles the same rock fibers are mixed with Portland cement and other ingredients, then placed in molds of various sizes and shapes and subject to intense hydraulic pressure. The various colors are mixed with these ingredients, producing shingles of handsome shades. Asbestos wood or lumber is also made in much the same manner as the shingles. This is furnished in slabs so that it can be easily used for fireproof partitions, fire doors, booths for moving picture machines, etc. Another use made of the material is in stucco, also wall plaster. Here the asbestos rock takes the place of hair ordinarily used and the asbestos rock takes the place of sand. Another material which is fast gaining favor, chiefly because of its fire-retarding qualities, is Maslic for floors. The importance of fireproof construction is being appreciated more and more by architects and builders and this is shown by the tremendous increase in the substitution of fireproof building materials for those of an inflammable nature.

BUILDING ITEMS

It has been decided that the next annual convention of the National Association of Builders' exchanges will be held in the city of Columbus, Ohio, on January 25 to 28, inclusive, 1918.

There are said to be more than 400 different kinds of marble used in New York city and the color range from bright reds and greens to the most delicate shades of pink, turquoise and yellow. Some are known as dead stones because of their flat, sombre hues, while others are alive with dashes of vermillion, scarlet, emerald green and lavender.

The new building code adopted by the city council of Macon, Ga., and which went into effect September 1, provides that all buildings shall be roofed with non-inflammable material. It is said that the first sawmill in the United States was at Jamestown, from which sawed boards were exported in June, 1607. A water power sawmill was in use in 1625 near the present site of the city of Richmond, Va.

Since the middle of August a vigorous campaign has been waged by the city of Boston looking to the elimination of the fire hazard. As reported by the fire commissioner $0 per cent. of the fire losses are preventable and the objective of the public health and police powers, in other words, the minimization of fires and their speedy extinguishment, as it is the elimination of the conditions which make these fires possible and probable.

can never be replaced—it is eminently fitting that the architects of America should unite and in the name of their profession and their art do their part towards affording some measure of relief to those upon whom this catastrophe has fallen. Money is needed and it is profoundly hoped that every architect will contribute in the largest possible measure. It is further sincerely hoped that every architect will give something—for it is the wish of the committee that this fund may not only be large but that it may be truly representative of the profession, which, more than all others, owes its inspiration to the forefathers of these people who are today bearing the intolerable burden of the most frightful war the world has ever seen.

The treasurer of the fund is C. H. Whitaker, The Octagon, Washington, D. C., and subscribers may designate the country in which they wish their contribution expended. "He gives twice who gives quickly."—The Building Age.

EFFECT OF WAR ON ENGLISH

Advice from English sources are to the effect that the influence of the war on its industries is beginning to show itself in the official returns relating to unemployment. In some cases a reasonable decline had already begun before the war broke out, so that all of the idleness was not due to that cause. In many trades and very largely in the building industry short time had been resorted to in order to avoid laying off workmen. The figures of unemployment among members of the insured trades show that the percentage of idleness among carpenters at the end of August was 5 1-2 per cent.; bricklayers, 5.7 per cent.; masons, 3.3 per cent.; plasterers, 7.3 per cent.; painters, 9.7 per cent.; plumbers, 4.3 per cent.; and fitters, 6.2 per cent. Taking all the occupations together the percentage of idleness was 6.2 per cent.

COVERINGS FOR ROOFS

Home builders in every part of the United States are relying more and more upon local contractors to supply plans and specifications and recommend materials to be used in the actual construction of their homes. It is a very difficult thing to choose the best material for covering porch floors and roofs unless one is thoroughly posted on the relative advantages and disadvantages of shingles, slate, tar felt, cotton duck, etc. After several years' experience with various kinds of materials, many builders appear to have come to the conclusion that a cotton fabric covering is very satisfactory for the purpose. The porch roof is exposed to every twist, strain, and savagery of the elements and subjected to the continual wear of wind, sun, rain.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 31.—The Carnegie Hero commission recognized 69 acts of heroism here yesterday. In 15 cases silver medals were awarded, in 54 cases bronze medals. There were 13 heroes who lost their lives, and to the dependents of three of these persons aggregating $1950 a year were granted. To the dependents of seven, sums totaling $4750 are to be applied, subject to the direction of the commission.

In one case, disbursement benefits of $1100 and a pension of $50 a month were granted. In addition to these money grants, in 12 cases, sums aggregating $21,000 were appropriated for educational purposes, payments to be made as needed and approved.

In 41 cases awards aggregating $41,000 were made to be applied toward the purchase of homes and to other worthy purposes. Payments in these cases will not be made until the beneficiaries' plans for the use of the award have been approved by the commission.

March 25 and 26, 1914, produced 21 heroes in the great Ohio flood. There are six heroines in the list and the total of these rewards to date now numbers nearly 1000.

New England Heroes

The heroes of New England who were rewarded are:

Ferdinand P. Clifford, Northport, Me., a bronze medal, for saving his mother. He was a barber, aged 45, who died attempting to save John W. Coombs, aged 3, from drowning on August 10, 1912. Coombs fell 15 feet from a pier and was carried out by the tide.

Clifford, who was not physically sound, jumped overboard, and even 50 feet to Coombs, grasped the boy when he was going down and pulled him to the surface. Coombs soon sank and was drowned. Clifford going beneath the surface a few seconds later and drowning.

Margaret E. Guy, 54 H street, South Boston, bronze medal, Miss Guy, aged 15, a saleswoman, helped to save Arthur L. Powers, aged 19, a student, from drowning at Weymouth, Mass., August 6, 1912. Powers was seized with cramps while bathing in Boston.

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 31.—General Carranza as head of the constitutionalist government, and General Villa were eliminated from power by a decree adopted late yesterday at the Carranza-Zapata-Villa peace conference at Aguas Calientes. This was learned here last night from a message sent to the Associated Press by the publicity agent of the convention.

According to the terms adopted, the message said the provisional president will be named later by the convention. The complaints of the Zapata element in southern Mexico will be taken up with this new executive.

Nelly ran across the ice toward them from a point 500 feet from the hole. When he had gone 100 feet, the ice broke and he threw himself forward and went into the water only to his waist. He climbed up on the ice and continued to the hole.

Freitas had climbed up until the upper part of his body rested on the ice. McNulty look off his coat, lay on the ice and cast the coil toward Freitas, and the latter grasped a slippery coil first into the water, as he feared the current would carry the box under the ice.

When Freitas came to the surface the boy grabbed McNulty by the collar and held on tightly. They struggled for a moment before the rescuer broke Freitas's hold. Other men pushed a boat into the hole and they were saved.

Rescue in the Sound
John H. Paul, Gordon Flats Light-house, Fall River, Mass., bronze medal. Paul, aged 37, assistant light-house keeper, helped to save three men from drowning off Port Jefferson, N. Y., on August 18, 1911.

The men, August H. Drummer, William J. Moffet and Joseph H. Thiele, were in a sailboat that was upset in a squall on Long Island sound, about three miles from Stratford Shoal Light-house. They succeeded in grasping the boat.

Nicholas Sarre of Skopelos, Greece, a light-house assistant, saw their plight and with Paul, launched a sailboat 16 feet long, going to the distressed men. While maneuvering their rudder broke, but they succeeded in reaching the men and all got ashore as darkness came on. Sarre also got a bronze medal.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—It is believed that at least 100 persons have perished through the running on the rocks yesterday near Whitby of the steamer Rohilla, which was being used as a hospital ship. Including the hospital unit and her crew, about 200 persons were on board the vessel.

A despatch to the Evening News from Whitby late yesterday said that the ship had broken in two and her stern gone down. The rescuers shot a line across the floating forward part of the Rohilla, but communication between it and the shore could not be established.

The Rohilla was bound from Queens-ferry to Belgium, to bring back wounded from France. She ran on the rocks half a mile south of Whitby, 17 miles northwest of Scarborough, at 4 yesterday morning in a violent southeast gale and rainstorm.

The vessel carried four nurses and several doctors and full hospital equipment. All the women on board have been saved. Every one of her boats, except the last, one launched was smashed by the seas and washed ashore. The remaining boat was swamped near shore and the people in it waded to safety.

Lifelines with extreme difficulty brought ashore two loads of the vessel's passengers, after which further attempts at rescue with the boats were abandoned.

Brown—The funeral of Mildred Brown, infant daughter of Patrick H. and Mary A. will take place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of her parents, 350 Vermont avenue. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Mansfield—The funeral of William S. Mansfield was held yesterday afternoon from his home, 12 White street. The services were conducted by Rev. F. G. Algar, pastor of the Pawtucket Congregational church. The Haydn quartet sang appropriate selections. The bearers were W. T. S. Barlett, Alonzo Putnam, Michael E. Adams and C. J. Sheridan. There were many beautiful flowers. Burial was in the family lot in the Edison cemetery, where prayers were read by Rev. Mr. Algar. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker John A. Weinbeck.

CAMPAIGN LIES NAILED BY SENATOR FISHER

The Leading Economists of Both Parties, Not Gov. Walsh, Raised Salary of His Secretary—Salary Considered Reasonable

Senator Fisher has become so indignant at the trumped up charges made by republican campaigners, including McCall and Cushing, that he has departed from his customary silence and come out in the subjoined statement to show that Gov. Walsh is not responsible for the increase in the salary of his private secretary and that the measure was approved by republicans and democrats alike, including some of the most earnest workers for efficiency and economy. The readers of The Sun are asked to read Senator Fisher's statement in order to see on what flimsy grounds the republicans assail the governor.

Senator Fisher's Statement
Having seen through the columns of the newspapers that on various occasions, if not almost daily, the republican candidates for governor and lieutenant governor have been not only criticizing, but even condemning, Governor Walsh on account of the increase in salary of his private secretary, and the matter has been brought more closely home through the attack made by Mr. McCall at the Lowell rally a week ago, I submit the following statement of facts in order that justice may be done to all, and further, that the voters may see to what unwarranted extremes the republican aspirants for the offices of governor and lieutenant governor are willing to go.

TWO TOWNS SOUTH OF YPRES TAKEN BY GERMANS

Allies Also Gain Considerable Ground, Says French Report—Allies' Diplomatic Representatives to Leave Constantinople—Berlin Says Russia Started War With Turkey—Formal Protest to British Government From Washington

The story of the European war was again slow in the telling today but such fragments of news as the censors permitted to pass indicated that along the North sea, the chief point of present concern for the nations involved, it was still a battle of give and take. Of immediate interest was a semi-official note from Rome indicating that Italy might take a more definite stand in the struggle. It is said that the island of Sazeno, commanding the harbor of Arona, ownership of which has long been disputed by Greece and Italy, has been seized by Italian forces.

The French war office, in today's official statement, acknowledges that the fiercest German onslaught, shifted a few miles to the east and south from the coast, has met with success at points. Two towns south of Ypres, in Belgium, just north of the border, are mentioned by the French as having been captured by the Germans. Further east, it is said, some ground has been won by the allies. Along the entire western front from the sea to Arras the Germans resumed a general offensive movement, following the slackening activity of the last few days but according to the French war office nothing has been accomplished on either side more than alternate movements of advance and retreat. Further indefinite claims are made of gains at other points along the line which stretches south and east to the Swiss border. No word is spoken to confirm the unofficial statements of last night that the Germans had evacuated Ostend.

In the east the battle of millions continues without definite result. An Austrian defeat on the East Prussian front is reported by the Russian embassy at Washington. The latest word from the Austrian government is that reverses have been suffered by the Russians at various points in Galicia.

Turkey's hostile acts against Russia may soon place her at war with all the allied powers. It was said at the state department in Washington today that diplomatic representatives of these powers were preparing to leave Constantinople.

The German point of the Russo-Turkish war is presented for the first time in a despatch from Berlin. Berlin

2,000 LOCAL GREEKS TO HELP FIGHT TURK

Mobilization Order From Greek Consul—They Will Stand in Readiness to Answer Call of King for Defenders of the Flag

Between 2000 and 2300 local Greeks were this morning notified to be in readiness for it is believed they will be called to arms by the king of Greece within a few days. The message was sent to Lowell by the consul-general in Boston, Demosthenes Tymagenis, through Thomas Jean Noyacas, his representative in this city. Mr. Noyacas was called to Boston early this morning and he was informed by the consul general that Greece is on the point of joining the great European conflict and that she will side in with the allies. The consul said the declaration of war on Russia by Turkey was the last step to draw Greece into the conflict and he expects orders of mobilization in a few days.

The consul received orders from the minister of war in Greece, asking him to make hurried estimate of how many Greeks in Massachusetts would be called to the colors in the event of war and he was ordered to send the figures in the shortest time possible. The same order was received by all the other consuls throughout the United States and Canada. Mr. Tymagenis at once called upon Mr. Noyacas of Lowell for the figures relating to the Spalding City and the latter informed the consul there were between 2000 and 2300 Greeks in Lowell who were ready to serve their country.

It is understood that after mobilization orders are given the Greek subjects are obliged to report to the consul general within six days after the order is issued in order to received their route papers, but the consul is of the opinion that a delay will be given the veterans of the Turkish-Balkan war so that they may raise enough money to defray their expenses abroad. Upon his return from Boston this forenoon Mr. Noyacas met a large number of his fellow countrymen to whom he gave the news of the probable mobilization and this bit of news, said as it is, was received with enthusiasm, for all are eager to again show their love of country. It is the general belief that before the middle of next week the Lowell Greeks will be mobilized and ready to start for the field of battle, which presumably will be on Turkish land. Mr. Tymagenis was scheduled to come to Lowell tomorrow to decorate the veterans of the Turkish-Balkan war with medals sent to each man by the king of Greece, but inasmuch as only two of them have been received, the visit of the consul general will be postponed to a later date.

HELD DOUBLE FUNERAL

REMAINS OF COL. AND MRS. LUKE HEERY INTERRED THIS MORNING

The bodies of Col. Luke M. Heery and his wife were this morning consigned to their last resting place in St. Joseph's cemetery, after impressive services had been held at the Sacred Heart church. The double funeral took place at 9:30 o'clock from the chapel of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons and was largely attended, for the couple were well known in this city and they counted a host of friends who held them in the highest esteem. The funeral procession headed by two bearers, wended its way to the Sacred Heart church, where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O. M. I. Present in the sanctuary was the pastor, Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I.

The bearers for Col. Heery were John P. Farley, Esq., Edward Tierney, Esq., Col. James H. Carmichael and Henry O'Brien, while the bearers for Mrs. Heery were Henry J. O'Dowd, Harry C. Kittredge, Robert E. Crowley and Thomas P. Boulger. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Fletcher, O. M. I. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

MONDAY'S SUN FEATURES

Women's Page Will Have Usual Fashion Hints, Suggestions For the Home—Other Interesting Features

The regular weekly "Women's Page" of The Sun will appear in all editions on Monday and will be chock full of items of interest to the women. There will be the usual fashion pictures with descriptions of the styles and suggestions with reference to dress-making, also a number of special articles. The advertisers on this page have many attractive offerings which should appeal to the ladies.

Another prominent feature of Monday's Sun will be the article by "Lady Lookabout" which will contain many witty and timely observations of local interest. This article will be of interest to every Sun reader.

How to make excellent use of pieces of bread, how to make a delicious salad dressing, the best methods of laundering delicate lingerie, will be described by the Cook in "What the Cook Says." She will also give other information useful in the kitchen.

"What Hortense Told Me" is another feature article of The Sun and on Monday will contain some excellent health hints. Hortense tells why walking is a beneficial exercise and also describes the benefits to be derived from drinking water. The water-drinking habit, she says, cultivates a clear complexion.

"Towser and Dick" is the title of Monday's "Sleepytime Tale" and tells how Dick taught his dog Towser to play hide and seek. Towser made a fine playmate for Dick. Read this little story to the children at bedtime.

Freckles, effects of tan, and other things that are an aftermath of the summer season may be removed and the methods for accomplishing this are described under the caption "The Rubble's Foot." This article gives the valuable information in detail and will aid those who have skin blemishes.

A piano is an instrument that should have the best of care in order to give the best tone. In "What the French Maid Said," Marie will tell The Sun readers how the piano should be cared for. She also describes the effects of the weather conditions on the piano.

Hallowe'en Party

PROF. L. N. GUILBAULT

A delightful Halloween party was held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Hennessy in Pine street last evening and a most enjoyable evening was passed in characteristic Halloween fashion, everybody entering into the spirit of the occasion in a happy way. The guests present included most of the members of the choir of St. Margaret's church, who had been bidden to join in the festivities by Miss Katherine V. Hennessy, the talented soprano. As a hostess, Miss Hennessy was capable, assisted as she was by her sisters, all members of the choir.

But the occasion, aside from its festive and good cheer, had another significance for one of the guests, Prof. L. N. Guilbault, who was presented a gold watch. After a service of several years as organist and choir director, Mr. Louis Napoleon Guilbault resigned his position to accept a similar one in St. Jean Baptiste church, and it was to show some material appreciation of the ability of the young man that the choir members had gathered, presumably for the Halloween party, but principally for their former choir director, Mr. Guilbault, Missfully ignorant of the little surprise they had in store for him, contributed to the fun and the musical program.

The decorations in the beautiful and spacious home were very striking. Grinning pumpkins, witchery withes in all their fantastic weirdness, were here and there placed about the rooms, the dining-room being particularly effective in its decorative effects. An orchestra composed of Miss Sadie Sullivan at the piano, Miss Lillian Sullivan, violinist, and Miss Grace McEvoy, cornetist, all members of the parish, contributed several stirring melodies including a few of the latest New York hits. Songs were rendered by Miss Vera Moody, Miss Katherine V. Hennessy, Lawrence Delaney, John J. Murray, John J. McGillicuddy, William P. Hennessy, while Prof. Guilbault gave a brace of selections on the piano that pleased immensely. Mr. John McGillicuddy, the present organist at the church, contributed several delightful piano solos, while chorus singing of Ireland's favorite melodies proved a delightful feature of the entertainment. John Murray also favored with recitations.

At 10:30 o'clock all went to the dining room, where a dainty buffet luncheon was served, the favors at each table being as grotesque as they were varied. After all had partaken of the good things, Rev. Charles J. Galligan, pastor of St. Margaret's, was called upon for remarks, and he responded briefly, yet interestingly. He paid a compliment to the work of the church choir which, he said, had been accomplished at the cost of much labor. The splendid showing of the choir on every occasion could not be possible without the painstaking work and musical knowledge of Prof. Guilbault, now removed from St. Margaret's. Fr. Galligan said that in a spirit of genuine appreciation of Prof. Guilbault's qualities as a man and as a musician, the choir members had authorized him to present to the retiring director a gold watch which he hoped the recipient would live to enjoy many years.

Prof. Guilbault, though completely surprised, made a fitting response, expressing his appreciation and gratitude. Remarks followed by Rev. Henry C. Reardon, curate at the church, and Rev. James F. Lynch of Rockton, formerly attached to the church. Cornelius P. Calan, John J. Murray and James P. Hennessy. After the delightful informal speech-making the remainder of the evening was spent in the playing of Halloween games.

MISS ANNIE F. BIXEY

Hiduous grinning faces carved from pumpkin shells, lighted candles, babbling apples and other Halloween institutions were the features of the Halloween party conducted by the employees of the J. L. Chalifoux store last night in the town hall, North Chelmsford.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, black and orange of the Halloween season prevailing in the color scheme, with here and there a touch of greenery. The stage was set with greenery, potted plants and palms, and suspended in the center was a large pumpkin, artistically cut in a grotesque figure, while streamers of orange and black adorned the side and back walls. Mr. Morton Walker, head window trimmer at the store, had charge of the decorations.

McMahon's concert orchestra opened the evening's festivities with several pleasing selections, after which general dancing was started, and the

Shortly after 10 o'clock an intermission was declared, and the games were started, including ducking for apples, candle blowing competitions, arrow shooting for apples and peanut races, and these, furnished a continuous round of merriment for all concerned.

The winners of the various events were awarded suitable prizes, after which all related to the downstairs dining room where a sumptuous collation was served. This was due to the generosity of Mr. Harold Chalifoux and came as a most pleasant surprise.

Dancing was resumed at 11 o'clock and continued until midnight, and special cars carried the gathering back to the city.

Those responsible for the success of the affair were as follows: Morton Walker, general manager; Miss Annie F. Bixey, floor director; Mr. William P. Hennessy, treasurer; Mr. Lennie Goldman, chief aid; aids, everybody.

Halloween in Church Vestry
A very enjoyable Halloween party was held at the French Baptist church vestry, in West Centralville last evening.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the young folks assembled and were greeted individually by "much alive" guests with ice cold grips. The guests were represented by the Misses Minnie Ramette, Louise Burke and Emma Desforces. A collection of games including "four bowls of fate and luck," "fate of the goblet," "peanut race," and other highly entertaining Halloween games were played. Refreshments and luncheon were also served.

The organizers of the party were Mrs. Eugene Leith, Mrs. Anne Dineen, Mrs. Mary Burke, Mrs. E. C. Ramette, Miss Emma Desforces and Miss Louise Burke.

In Odd Fellows Hall
Odd Fellows hall in Bridge street was the scene last evening of a Halloween party by the Young People's society of the Palgo Street Baptist church.

A goodly number of young people were in attendance and the program of the evening furnished one continuous round of merriment for all concerned. Among the games were doughnut contest, peanut races, candle-blowing competitions, bow and arrow shooting for apples and other amusing stunts, following which the winners were required to draw for prizes from an immense pie. Misses Stella Marshall and Blanche Libbey, as ghosts, added materially to the fun making. The committee in charge comprised the following: Irene Kittredge, chairman; Mrs. E. O. Dutton, Mrs. David Donaldson, Mrs. W. A. Chase, Belle T. Libbey, Carrie Meister, Stella Marshall, Hazel Mills, Ivan Small, Florence Knowlton, Vita Coggswell, Irma Gasper and Mary Oxner.

Annual Halloween Social
Members and friends of Chevalier-Middlesex lodge 2, Knights of Pythias, filled Highland hall last evening at the annual Halloween social and dance of the organization. Each male member present was supplied with a conucopia but suggestive of witches and wholly appropriate to the occasion. The music for the dances was furnished by Gray's orchestra, and until a late hour, the floor was comfortably filled with couples. At 10:30 there was a brief intermission, during which light refreshments were served. The committee in charge of the dance included Elmer D. Robinson, chairman, Harry G. Jones and William H. Saunders.

Halloween Whist Party
A whist party with Halloween settings was held last evening at the home of Dr. James F. Loughran, 135 High street, attended by about 30 members of the Thursday club of which Mrs. Loughran is a member. The various rooms had been transformed for the occasion into a bower of autumnal beauty. As the guests were received they passed between massed clusters of corn stalks, suggesting pictures of the harvest moon and into a room gorgeous with the foliage of late fall. Pumpkin races, peeped from old corners and dozens of candles lent a soft and seasonable glow. The long parlors in which the whist was enjoyed were like a scene from elfland with great branches of oaks, birches and willow, golden pumpkins, jack-o'-lanterns, and quaint corn stalks. The dining room was beautifully accented with fruit, foliage and gold. On chrysanthemums, candles alternating with little twinkling lights in the lovely lighting scheme. Throughout, the effect was as artistic as it was suggestive of the spirit of Halloween.

Whist was enjoyed by the club from eight to 10:30, during which time there were several visitations from witches and ghosts. A peculiarly malignant witch distributed favors of black cats. The prize winners were Mrs. R. H. Clifford, Mrs. William McCarty and Mrs. B. J. Callahan. Following the card playing a buffet luncheon was served, and the rest of the evening given over to Halloween games, dancing and an impromptu concert. The spirit of the occasion was in keeping with the setting, all serving to make it a very memorable Halloween party indeed.

Enjoyable Whist Party
Fifteen tables were well filled with card players last evening at the whist party conducted in Russell hall under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Street Carmen's union. The affair was the first of its kind ever given by the auxiliary and, as such, was wholly successful from every point of view. The play waxed merrily throughout the evening, resulting in the following winners:

Ladies: First, silver mesh bag, Mrs. Foley; second, sugar and cream set, Mrs. Sallie McOsker; third, gold meat fork, Mrs. Emerson McLean; booty, Mrs. Sprout.
Gentlemen's: First, gold cuff links, scarf pin and tie holder, Mr. Quinlan; second, fountain pen, Mr. Sanger; third, pipe holder, Mr. Stuart; booty, Mr. Lowe.
Mrs. Laura Flannery and Mrs. Edward Welch had the active management of the affair in charge and deserve congratulations on its success. The master of ceremonies was Edward Welch.

THE CARE OF THE TOE NAILS

So many women give to the nails of their hands the most diligent attention and yet they quite overlook any responsibility to their most patient servants—their feet. The care of the toe nails should be as important as the finger nails.

The nail of the great toe should be broad, flat and smooth, even as the nails of the thumb. It should not be too flat upon the flesh nor should it be too curved, for this latter condition tends to become exaggerated, so that the ends of the curve press deeper into the flesh.

A slight "half-moon" should be visible and it should be worn long enough to show a slight rim of white above the pink and the cuticle at its base should not be dry and harsh, but soft, free of lunulae and rounding in an unbroken curve from one end to the other.

Surely none of this is a difficult thing to accomplish. A little care once a week with a pair of curved nail scissors, a pair of cuticle scissors, a file, an emery board, an orange wood stick with a little bit of cotton to be used under the nail edge and the work is easily done.

The toe nails should be cut a little square rather than round, the nail of the large toe cut rather shorter in the middle than at the sides. A little bleaching solution, a little healing cream, a little polishing powder and presto. The nails, which appeared dull and unlovely look perfectly pink and shining and will repay their owner for the time spent upon them.

Such nails will not wear holes in silk stockings, as rough, uncut nails often do. This fact alone should serve to recommend the matter to the girl who likes to wear silken hose which adds so much to her appearance.

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer
Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy we know for woman's ills. If you need such a medicine why don't you try it?

GIVEN BIG VOTE

Exciting Contest at the Lowell Normal School Junior Elections

The lecture room of the Lowell Normal school was the scene of an exciting contest last Wednesday, when the juniors chose their class officers.

Miss Kathryn Flahavan, last year's senior major of the Girl's battalion of the high school and who was also vice-president and voted the most popular girl of her class, was again honored.

MISS KATHRYN FLAHAVAN.

She was chosen president by a flattering vote. She received 49 votes, while the highest vote of her opponents was 19.

The other officers of the class are: Vice-president, Miss Nora Lane, Haverhill; treasurer, Miss Louise Mahoney, Lowell; councilors, Miss Edith McGovern, Haverhill, Miss Helen Welch, Cambridge.

All officers were hotly contested, but after all was over, the feeling of good fellowship was remarkable.

BAD BLOOD

Hatred of the Nations for One Another.

This European war was born of the hatred caused by earlier warfare—it will engender other wars between the same nations in the future. The sons yet unborn will carry this hatred in their blood to blaze into warfare when the spark is touched by kings or statesmen who are yet in infancy.

It's bad blood that makes your liver sluggish and the same bad blood causes your stomach muscles to lose their elasticity and become flabby and weak and that means indigestion.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, purely vegetable and free from alcohol or narcotics, is not a secret remedy for all its ingredients are printed on wrapper.

Take it as directed and it will search out and impure and poisonous matter in the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys and drive it from the system through the natural channels.

It will penetrate into the joints and muscles and dissolve the poisonous accumulations. It will replace all the bad blood it drives out, with rich, pure blood full of vital force. It will furnish you with the kind of blood that increases energy and ambition, that puts the entire body in such perfect physical condition that brain or muscles know no fatigue.

It will clear the skin; eczema, pimples, rash, blotches will dry up and disappear; boils, carbuncles and other evidences of tainted blood will pass away never to appear again.

Get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery at any medicine dealer to-day, in either liquid or tablet form as you prefer. It's the one great blood purifier and purifier that all weak or run down people ought to start to use at once. If you want good blood, good health and clear skin, get a supply today.

That the same old speech has served long and faithfully but is beginning to get threadbare.

That when the police go looking for burglars, matches are a poor substitute for flashlights.

That thus far no one has blamed the past administration for the present carnival of crime.

That these are the days to sally forth into the woods, if you're fond of that sort of exercise.

That with potatoes scarce and high, who will dare speak of them disrespectfully as "spuds?"

That candidates for office will soon be reminded of the fact that many are called but few are chosen.

That some men's souls are so steeped in business that a sunset brings thoughts of aniline dyes.

That the Boost mills owners aren't the only Lowell people who would like to have their taxes abated.

That a stump orator must have good material to hold the crowds at the outdoor rallies, these nights.

That Commissioner Morse would like to learn the identity of the jokers who are calling up on the telephone.

That the real excitement will start on Wednesday; that is, as soon as the state election has been disposed of.

That the most difficult character in comedy is that of the fool and he must be no simpler than plays the part.

That a retired official is warning all he meets against the alleged unscrupulous methods of one of the candidates.

That "Billy" Gilbride, a brother of the ward four representative can tickle a piano some.

That the forthcoming reunion and dinner of the St. Patrick's Academy Alumni will be the best ever.

That Louis Gullbault allows that some women kept a secret in the matter of his splendid gold watch.

That Gerald Duval and his associates in the Sherwood club know how to conduct enjoyable parties.

That we have with us again some of those old familiar names and faces in municipal politics.

That in Boston they are saying that if McCall loses the repeals will take up Cushing or Gullid next year.

That the Indians, first and second teams, are doing a great deal to keep Lowell on the football map.

That Charlie Morse says the paving block in his office is not one of the missing blocks.

That a certain office holder believes with Kipling that the female of the species is more deadly than the male.

That the street railway men held very enthusiastic meetings Thursday night and Friday morning.

That there will be no superior court sessions in this city Monday or Tuesday.

That autelists are complaining because the main streets are sprinkled so frequently.

That the cold weather has brought a cheering smile on the faces of the coal dealers.

That the Kenwood school is the scene of many a happy gathering due to the untiring efforts of the teachers.

That Postmaster Kiernan is one of the most prominent men in Dracut, in social and business circles.

That there is no danger of an outbreak in our sewers as long as Commissioner Morse continues to pour oil on the troubled waters.

That when a gifted Lowell woman wrote a charming little book she did not dream of supplying speeches to one of our notables for a year or more.

That one of the everlasting pests is the shallow pater familias who professes to be an atheist and wants the whole world to know it.

That if one Lowell woman wants to count her hair's notoriety she can count a long and remunerative vaudeville booking.

That present activities on the alleys sum up to indicate that bowling will be even more popular than ever this season.

That, thanks to the merchants and to the general use of advertising electricity, the city is lighted a little better lately.

That it is a long way back to the time we had an "immoral" dance trial, but the episode has lost none of its humor.

That for decorations, real enjoyment and the spirit of the season, that Hal-lower party held at the upper end of High street set a new record.

That Dr. Lambert and Mr. Simpson have changed their views relative to the importance of experience as a qualification for a school principal.

That there is some mourning in the vicinity of St. John's hospital over the death of "Nancy," a noted pet of the hen family.

That Sheriff Fairbairn whether he pleased everybody or not, was game when he announced appointments before state election.

That they're wishing that Eddie Byrne was back on the state police force. Eddie was there on murder cases.

That Frederick W. Thomas was the boy who got 100 throughout in the recent examinations for promotion in the high school regiment.

That Riley's High Rollers will sustain their title when they meet Foster's Frisky Five on the alleys this evening.

That the banquet on Thanksgiving eve at the Centralville Social club will be a great event in the history of the society.

That it is an open question whether it is well to put young men just out of college as a master of a school, without any previous experience in school affairs.

That some of the republicans in wards three and eight are thinking of holding a mass meeting to endorse a resident of that section for the municipal council.

That everybody should be interested in the daily special features of The Sun for they contain valuable information and timely suggestions on many topics.

That John Y. Myers, the local singer made a great hit at the Rogers rally in Webburn the other night. John is some boy and the congressman realizes this more than anyone.

That the young people of the city are anxious to find out who Lowell's prominent "chicks" are and will attend the coming carnival to ascertain their identity.

That L. N. Gullbault, former organist at St. Margaret's church was well remembered by the people of that church last night when he was presented a gold watch.

That the women of Lowell look forward to the publication of The Sun's Women's Page each Monday and delight in studying the fashions and in reading the various special articles.

That the candidates for representation in the 17th district are keeping away from the stump this year and they are doing their work on the quiet.

That the chicken dinner of the Norfolk club at the Richardson hotel a few evenings ago, was strictly a stag party, lest someone get the wrong impression.

That when a woman goes up Merrimack street gowned gorgeously, all the heads of ladies coming from the other direction turn round automatically.

That on Wednesday next the demes of wards five and nine will be saying to their senatorial candidate: "Well Dunn, thou good and faithful servant."

That Tommy Salomon says the typical young man of 1914 may have plenty of control but it certainly gets him going when the leaders of the small boy gang yell: "Hey, Mister! Better grab your eyebrows, they're slipped down on your lip."

That the Sun Ideal Estate and Builders' page is a valuable means of keeping both the public and the real estate men and builders in close touch with the building operations throughout the city and vicinity.

That recently a superior officer of the police department attended a funeral out of town and was gone four hours, and had to work four hours overtime in order to draw a full week's salary, while another member of the department was out of town for a whole day and didn't have to work a minute overtime. Which reminds us of the slogan: "Equal rights, etc."

PRINCE LOUIS LOYAL

PRINCE LOUIS OF BATTENBERG

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Prince Louis of Battenberg who resigned his post as first sea lord of the admiralty because, although a naturalized British subject, he is a native of Hesse and was openly criticised, will not renounce his allegiance to King George. His brother, Prince Henry of Battenberg, husband of Princess Beatrice, died in 1896 from diseases contracted during the British Ashanti campaign, for which he had volunteered. The death of his nephew, Prince Maurice of Battenberg, from wounds received in action in France was recently reported. Another nephew, Prince Leopold Arthur Louis, is a lieutenant in an infantry regiment. Prince Louis has two sons in the British navy, Prince George, a sub-lieutenant, and Prince Louis Francis, a naval cadet. Prince Louis the head of the house of Battenberg and was born on May 21, 1854, at Grantz, Austria. He married the Princess Victoria of Hesse, a granddaughter of Queen Victoria. He is doubly connected with the British royal family, since his brother, Prince Henry of Battenberg, married Queen Victoria's youngest daughter, the Princess Beatrice. He was naturalized and entered the British navy in 1868.

The 41st anniversary of Division 11, A. C. H., was held last evening in Hilbert hall with a large number of members and friends present. Early in the evening a short business session was held at which routine business only was transacted. The gathering was called to order by President John J. McInerney, who introduced James J. McInerney as toastmaster of the exercises. Addresses were delivered by County President James J. Harold of Waltham, Mayor Dennis J. Murphy and James E. Miskell. Remarks were made by the following members: Vice President John Kenney, John T. Hendricks, Thomas Healy, Patrick Frawley, Michael Connolly and Bernard Hannell.

THE SAFE WAY TO BUY FURS

The fur business has never been conducted as a department of another business and given real true worth to the public.

It is a complicated business spread to the far corners of the world's cold countries. It is learned only by the life time of experience that makes the true fur specialist.

There are chemical and other tests by which anyone can learn to judge the quality of furs and the precious metals. But in buying furs trust to fur specialists long established and of good repute.

Our business was established in 1858 and is the oldest exclusive fur house in Boston.

Buying most of our raw furs direct from the trapper, manufacturing our goods in our own workrooms, we are able to sell furs of quality without adding middle-men's profits.

Wameet Lodge, 25, K. of P.

Plans are being made by Wameet lodge, 25, K. of P. for an illustrated lecture and exhibition drill of the uniform rank, K. of P., which will be held in Associate hall next Wednesday evening. The event will be conducted by all the Knights of Pythias lodges of the city and a banner night is promised. At the meeting held last night with Chancellor Commander John Haines presiding, several applications for membership were received and referred to the proper authorities, while other routine business was transacted.

RECITAL
Music lovers have a treat in store for them on next Tuesday evening, Nov. 3 at 8 o'clock in Colonial hall. Gertrude Flint Frisbee, vocalist, assisted by Charles E. Griffin of New York, pianist, will entertain the audience with well chosen selections. As both are rated very high in their professions, the recital is bound to be of a high order, and those who have a keen appreciation of what is good in music and song will not miss this opportunity to hear these two artists. The prices for the entertainment are 50 and 75 cents.

SEVEN CARNEGIE MEDALS COME TO NEW ENGLAND CONVENTION TO NAME PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT

Carnegie Hero Commission Recognizes 69 Acts of Heroism—13 Heroes Lost Their Lives—Six Heroines in Honor List

PITTSBURG, Oct. 31.—The Carnegie Hero commission recognized 69 acts of heroism here yesterday. In 15 cases silver medals were awarded, in 54 cases bronze medals. There were 13 heroes who lost their lives, and to the dependents of three of these persons aggregating $1850 a year were granted. To the dependents of seven persons aggregating $4750 are to be applied, subject to the direction of the commission.

In one case, disbursement of $1100 and a pension of $50 a month were granted. In addition to these money grants, in 12 cases, sums aggregating $21,000 were appropriated for educational purposes, payments to be made as needed and approved.

In 41 cases awards aggregating $41,000 were made to be applied toward the purchase of homes and to other worthy purposes. Payments in these cases will not be made until the beneficiaries plan for the use of the award have been approved by the commission.

March 25 and 26, 1932, produced 21 heroes in the great Ohio flood. There are six heroines in the list and the total of these rewards to date now numbers nearly 1000.

New England Heroes

The heroes of New England who were rewarded are:
Ferdinand P. Clifford, Northport, Maine, a bronze medal, awarded to his mother. He was a barber, aged 35, who died attempting to save John W. Connors, aged 3, from drowning on August 16, 1912. Connors fell 15 feet from a pier and was carried out by the tide.

Clifford, who was not physically strong, jumped overboard, and swam 20 feet to Connors, grasped the boy when he was going down and pulled him to the surface. Connors soon sank and was drowned. Clifford grasped the surface a few seconds later and drowning.

Margaret P. Guy, 54 1/2 street, South Boston, bronze medal. Miss Guy, aged 16, a saleswoman, helped to save Arthur L. Powers, aged 13, a student, from drowning at Weymouth, Mass., August 6, 1912. Powers was seized while playing in the water and was thrown into the water. She was the first to reach him and was the first to pull him out.

Miss Guy swam to him and he grabbed her. Miss Guy was pushed beneath the surface and when her feet touched the bottom she walked towards the shore. When she had walked 8 or 10 feet, T. Henry Morrison, aged 14, came to her assistance. Miss Guy was helped to shore in an exhausted condition, but was revived. Young Morrison, of 25 Parsons street, Drighion, Mass., received a bronze medal.

Stranger Tried to Save
George H. J. Collins, deceased, 437 Main street, Gloucester, Mass., silver medal. Collins, aged 15, a laborer, died attempting to save E. Edward Johnson, aged 31, a shoe cutter, from drowning at Gloucester, July 10, 1914.

Johnson was swept from a dock while fishing. The waves surged back with a strong suction and a heavy undertow and conditions were exceptionally dangerous. Johnson's companions did not offer to go to the rescue.

Collins, a stranger, immediately took off his shoes and swam 35 feet to the drowning man and grasped him and attempted to swim ashore with him, but the task was too difficult. The end of a rope was thrown toward Collins, but it fell short, and before it could be thrown again he sank and was drowned. Johnson also was drowned.

Henry T. O'Donnell, 43 Vine street, Revere, Mass., silver medal. O'Donnell, aged 11, a schoolboy, attempted to save H. Blanchard Whitworth, aged 11, from drowning at Revere, Jan. 15, 1912. Whitworth and O'Donnell were skating on an abandoned clay pit and Whitworth broke through in water eight feet deep, twenty feet from the nearest bank. O'Donnell, who was not of robust build and his left arm was atrophied, got a hockey stick and walked to a point about five feet from Whitworth and extended the stick to him. As the latter grasped the stick the ice broke and O'Donnell went into the water also. He could not swim, but he kicked and beat the water until he was rescued by some men. Whitworth was drowned.

Decree Adopted at the Carranza-Zapata-Villa Conference Eliminates Gen. Carranza and Gen. Villa From Power in Mexico

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 31.—General Carranza as head of the constitutional government, and General Villa were eliminated from power by a decree adopted late yesterday at the Carranza-Zapata-Villa peace conference at Aguas Calientes. This was learned here last night from a message sent to the Associated Press by the publicity agent of the convention.

According to the terms adopted, the message said the provisional president will be named later by the convention. The complaints of the Zapata element in southern Mexico will be taken up with this new executive.

TWO DEPUTY SHERIFFS NO TRIAL PLANS

Bernard F. Gately and Martin Conway Named by Sheriff John C. Fairbairn

Bernard F. Gately of this city and Martin Conway of Billerica have been appointed deputy sheriffs by Sheriff John C. Fairbairn. These appointments were announced in The Sun last evening. The Sun some days ago, learned from Sheriff Fairbairn that Mr. Gately would succeed the late Martin J. Courtney, but the sheriff did not mention Mr. Conway's appointment at that time. Both appointments will meet with general favor as the appointees are very capable men and experienced in the work connected with the office of deputy sheriff.

Mr. Gately has been a sheriff in Lowell for the past 20 years, and Sheriff Fairbairn said he appointed him because of his general experience in court work. The rapidly increasing county business in North Middlesex county demanded the appointment of a second man as deputy sheriff, and when Sheriff Fairbairn looked the territory over he picked up Mr. Conway as the man best fitted for the position. Mr. Conway has had lots of experience in court work and is splendidly equipped for the office of deputy sheriff.

There were 38 candidates for the position and they had many friends to assist them. Sheriff Fairbairn received recommendations galore, but in the final analysis he used his own best judgment in selecting his men. When it appeared in The Sun last night that Messrs. Gately and Conway had been appointed, both men received many congratulations upon their success. Speaking of his appointment, Sheriff Gately said:

"I am deeply grateful to Sheriff Fairbairn for my appointment as deputy sheriff. I consider the appointment an honor and I will endeavor to all the ability to the best of my ability. I am familiar with the work connected with the office of deputy sheriff and because of that fact I will feel very much at home. I also desire to thank the many friends who wrote the sheriff personally and who wrote to him in my behalf, and I want to express my good will toward those who visited the sheriff in the interest of other candidates, because they were clean and above board. There was no knocking."

Mr. Conway said: "It is unnecessary for me to say that I am highly pleased with my appointment. I am deeply grateful to Sheriff Fairbairn and to the many friends who went to him in my behalf. I assure him and them that I will do all in my power to merit the appointment and the good things said about me. During my long incumbency as a part of Billerica's police force I have become well acquainted with the work of the office of deputy-sheriff and I feel confident that I will find it congenial."

CRUSHED BY ELEVATOR

FIREMEN RELEASE BODY OF MARGARET GRADY BY CHOPPING AWAY WOOD WORK

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—Margaret Grady, 15 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Grady of 28 Carter street was crushed to death early yesterday morning in the elevator at 285 Boylston street, where she was employed by Miss Minnie Rouse, maker of gowns.

The Grady girl went to the building yesterday morning at 7:45 o'clock to open up the office. She walked to the elevator, which starts on the second floor and self-operating. In some unknown manner the girl was caught between the car and the wall as she started the elevator. The body was discovered by Frank Hauser and a call was sent to the house of ladder 15. The woodwork had to be chopped away to release the body. When the body was freed by the firemen it was removed to the City hospital morgue.

HOSPITAL SHIP BROKEN IN TWO; 100 PERISH

Steamer Rohilla, With 200 Aboard, Ran on Rocks Near Whitby During Violent Southeast Gale and Rainstorm

LONDON, Oct. 31.—It is believed, that at least 100 persons have perished through the running on the rocks yesterday near Whitby of the steamer Rohilla, which was being used as a hospital ship. Including the hospital unit and her crew, about 200 persons were on board the vessel.

A despatch to The Evening News from Whitby late yesterday said that the ship had broken in two and her stern gone down. The livesavers shot a line across the floating forward part of the Rohilla, but communication between it and the shore could not be established.

The Rohilla was bound from Queensterry to Belgium, to bring back wounded from France. She ran on the rocks half a mile south of Whitby, 17 miles northwest of Scarborough, at 11 yesterday morning in a violent south-easterly gale and rainstorm.

The vessel carried four nurses and several doctors and full hospital equipment. All the women on board have been saved. Every one of her boats, except the last one launched was smashed by the seas and washed ashore. The remaining boats were swamped near shore and the people in it waded to safety.

Lifelines with extreme difficulty brought ashore two loads of the vessel's passengers, after which further attempts at rescue with the boats were abandoned.

ENDORSE RIVER PROJECT

ASSOCIATED BOARDS OF TRADE OF ESSEX COUNTY AGREE TO SUPPORT DEVELOPMENT SCHEME
LAWRENCE, Oct. 31.—The regular October meeting of the Essex county associated boards of trade was held on Thursday in the Hotel Savor, at Gloucester, with delegates from Beverly, Gloucester, Haverhill, Lawrence, Lynn, Newburyport, Peabody and Saugus.

Henry W. Pelton of Lynn, chairman of the agriculture committee, reported on proposed legislation for Essex County Agricultural school. Progress was reported by the committee on fisheries, on investigation of beam, otter-trawling and gill-net fishing; also progress has been made in having the streams and ponds in Essex county more liberally stocked by the state and federal government fish and game commissions. The committee on highways reported great improvements on the Essex county roads this past year. The state highway commission was given $100,000 for the Lawrence and Middlesex roads—this has been expended, also an additional $20,000. Twelve miles of the 15 have been constructed and they promise that the balance will be completed the coming year.

An important subject under discussion was the matter of attempting to influence legislation in Massachusetts for the common good. The committee on the annual outing made a report showing the receipts exceeded the expenditures. The board agreed to give its undivided support to the Merrimack river development project, and many delegates agreed to be in the On-to-Washington party Dec. 10.

J. Frank James reported that an act passed July 13 gave the harbor and land commission of Massachusetts jurisdiction over all navigable streams. Due to this a controversy had arisen with the Lawrence bridge commission over the building of the central bridge, which has been referred to the attorney general for his opinion. Lawrence was represented by the president of the Lawrence chamber of commerce, Frederic N. Chandler; Dr. M. P. Sullivan, J. Frank James and James S. Conlin.

WINTER CARE OF GARDEN

How to Protect Your Flowers From Jack Frost—Treatment for Different Plants

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—When Jack Frost has visited the garden and checked or blighted the vegetation, the flower lover will consider what shall be done for the various plants and shrubs. Jack Frost usually makes himself decidedly evident in the vicinity of Washington about the first of November, but farther north his arrival may be expected earlier. Different plants demand different treatment. Such flowers as peonies and hollyhocks will come up again the following year if they are properly protected during the winter, while others like canna and dahlias, which are more accustomed to warmer climates, must have their roots or bulbs dug up and stored in a cellar. At this season many inquiries come to the United States department of agriculture regarding the treatment needed by different plants, and the department's specialists have given the following suggestions regarding some of them:

Hardy Perennials
Hardy perennials that are expected to live through the winter, should be covered with a good coating of manure or other litter to a depth of three or four inches. This in more southern localities will hold the frost in the ground during the winter and keep the plant from alternately freezing and thawing; in more northern regions the manure will keep the plant from freezing to such a depth that its water supply would be cut off and the plant would perish. This treatment is good for peonies, larkspurs, hollyhocks, columbines, iris, pinks, and other perennials.

Cannas, Dahlias, Etc.
As soon as the tops of cannas, dahlias, gladioli, and similar plants are killed by the frost, the roots or bulbs should be dug and stored in a cellar, where the temperature will remain about 55° and should never go below 50° or above 60°. No more earth should be shaken from the clumps of cannas and dahlias than is necessary to remove them from the ground. The plants should be placed on racks or in flat boxes so the air may circulate freely through them. No frost must reach the roots, nor must they become too warm or dry.

Pansies
If pansies are expected to do well in the south they must be set out in the fall, and need the protection of manure as do the perennials. In the north, pansies make the best showing in the early spring, and later in the summer are burned up by the hot sun. North of the region from New York City to Springfield, Illinois, pansies do better if set out in the spring than if planted in the fall, for in these regions the flowers will not be affected by the strong sunlight and they should blossom all summer.

Geraniums
The ordinary method of carrying geraniums over the winter as used by florists is as follows:
A few vigorous young plants are taken into a conservatory or greenhouse and cuttings are taken from these during the winter from which a new supply of plants is grown for spring use. The cuttings for the spring supply should not be made later than January, if good stock plants are desired for the next summer's use. The ordinary householder who desires to keep his or her plants through the winter is not usually the possessor of a conservatory where he can follow the method outlined above. The following suggestions may help him to keep a part of his geraniums at least throughout the winter season. Before the frost has killed the plants, dig up the geraniums and place them in a cool, damp cellar. This cellar should be cooler than that in which bulbs are kept, ranging in temperature from 40° to 50°; in other words, such a cellar as is suitable for storing potatoes.

The plants may be placed in deep boxes, standing up and packed close together with a little dry soil about the roots. Geraniums are also sometimes hung up by the roots on the wall or from the joists. In spring, the tops of these plants should be cut off within two or three inches of the ground and the roots again planted. A loss of half the plants is to be anticipated in following this procedure.

F. C. GOODALE RETIRES

POPULAR DRUGGIST OF THE OLD SCHOOL TO ENJOY WELL EARNED REST

Frank C. Goodale, one of the oldest and most reliable druggists of this city has retired from the drug business in which he has been engaged for the past thirty-five years at his present location, the corner of Central and Jackson streets. During that time he has seen everyone who entered the business at the time he did, disappear with the exception of A. W. Dows. It is a long time to carry on such a business, as it is one which required his personal attention every day in the year, and Frank has given that. His reputation for honest and fair dealings has always been of the highest and by his efforts he has been successful and can now retire to enjoy the fruits of his industry. There have been many changes since he first learned the business. In the early days there were not many patent remedies or proprietary medicines and the old-fashioned remedies were compounded in the store. Most druggists of the old school made their own pills and many other medicines and the old people and mortals were in constant use. In those days a druggist was looked on as a doctor and today you can hardly tell a drug store from a department store so numerous are the lines carried. Frank is now going to take it easy and enjoy the comforts of his beautiful home in the Highlands, which he has not had much time to enjoy on account of his close attention to business. After a rest he will give a part of his time to the dandelion syrup which is his own formula and is so well known to everyone as Goodale's Dandelion. It is one of the most popular medicinal tonics on the market. We wish Frank all the pleasure that he can possibly get in the relaxation he has so richly deserved.

OXTAIL SOUP—Boil two hours in four quarts of water, two oxtails, two carrots and one small turnip. Take out the oxtails, cut the meat into small pieces, strain the broth and return the pieces of meat and broth to the fire. Thicken with two tablespoons of dissolved flour. Season and serve.

CELERY SALAD—Shred the outer stalks of the celery. Garnish with the leaves and pour over a French dressing.

CRANBERRY AND APPLE PIE—To make the crust mix one cup and a half of flour with a generous half-cup lard, a small cup ice water, and a pinch of salt. Cream the flour and lard with the hands, add slowly to water and stir with a knife. Roll and bake. When cold fill with a cup of apple sauce drained from the juice, and the same of strained cranberry sauce made quite thick. Beat the white of one egg with two tablespoons of sugar and a quarter of a teaspoon of baking powder. Spread on the pie and brown in the oven.

NOW ENTERS HALLOWEEN LATE WAR NEWS

Beware of the Evil Spirits and Imps of Darkness—Some Halloween Tricks

Witches the welkin a winging,
Ellens the door bells a ringing,
Hobgoblins that cannot be seen,
Pellets at windows a flinging,
TICKTACKS to window panes clinging—
And this is the gay Halloween.

After the first star has winked a Halloween greeting to this wrinkled world at sunset, the boys and girls and all the young people throughout the country will duck for the apple and, with laughter and joy, indulge in all the rites which since the days of the Druids have preceded the opening of the dear month of November.

How the tubs will be dragged forth from the cellars, how they will be filled to the brim, and how many a tousled head and sputtering mouth will vainly descend among the submerged apples, and more hastily ascend. Resounding will be the pounding of hammers against hickories, vigorous will be the crunching of buttertubs between the unrelenting jaws. Rivers of elder, mountains of apples, baskets full of doughnuts will furnish fuel to fan the enjoyment to greater and greater heights. Dances will be the delight of all maidens true in their belief in the lore of the Druids. For when has a Halloween party ever been held during the last thousand years or so where they have not with mock gravity gazed into the mirror, dipped their fingers in water or carried out to the minutest detail the instructions in these mysterious ceremonies that from generation to generation have come to make Halloween one of the jolliest of all the festivals throughout the year.

Although the girls enter into the delights of the evening with the keenest of pleasure, it is to the toddlers that Halloween is invested with the most thrilling excitement. Do not witches, astride the most astounding brooms conceivable, scour the country bent on snatching up and conveying to the clouds every little boy and girl who pokes a shaky head without doors after dark? And are not will-o'-the-wisps and fairies and sprites of every shape hovering in the air ready to pounce upon them? Surely, Halloween furnishes the youngsters with a delight that aptly may be termed dreadful.

But will it be only the children among us who will watch for the first house of the night moon with trepidation? Who knows that, with all our much vaunted enlightenment, there does not linger in many of us a speck of that anxiety which impelled the Druids to light bonfires, so that, besides celebrating the gathering of the harvests, these might show away evil spirits? And who knows whether these imps of darkness may not be abroad tonight? Yes, indeed, a host of children, straddling their enchanted brooms, may swoop down from the clouds, and hokking you up behind, take you on a joy ride which will terminate in Mars, or should you happen to escape the carcases of these old-time suffragettes, a facelious hobgoblin may confront you on your way down to the "square" and if you do not pass him the high sign may lay his clammy paw upon your shoulder and puff only a whiff of smoke in your face.

In keeping with the spirit of the evening and with all the good humored affection of a big brother we will describe a few of the Halloween ceremonies whereby the lasses heretofore may appease their curiosity concerning the looks, the fortunes and the dispositions of their future slaves.

The first and most popular get-well-quick method, Cyntha, is the candle process. After you have washed the dishes and while mother and father and little Tom and Jennie are roasting apples, steal into the parlor with a big luscious Baldwin in your milk white hand. Try to do this without tripping over that brand new rug. Standing before a mirror slowly munch the apple until you have consumed all but the stem. Then comb your nut brown tresses with a plain comb with your left hand while with your right scratch a match on your—well, we really don't know just where girls scratch matches, but no matter, light a match and start the candle flickering. Then gaze into that unaccustomed spot, the mirror, and presto! Is Jasper's sun-burned visage that pokes itself over your left mirror-shoulder? Sure!

Another infallible indicator by which you sure may become as wise as Cyntha is this: When you have set things ship shape about the kitchen, slip out into the garden and with your blue eyes shaded by their bewitching lids pull up the first cloveleaf stock within reach. If there is no cloveleaf to be had lay hold of an onion stock or cabbage root and yank with right good will. It being big or little, straight or crooked is prophetic of the size and shape of the grand object of your quest. Should any earth, no matter how tainted, stick to the root, that is fortune, and the taste of the stem is indicative of his temper and disposition. Fortunately cucumber plants are scarce in this vicinity.

Another method, by means of water, is as potent as any of the foregoing. Take your position hard by a stream running south. (The Merrimack river from North Chelmsford to Lawrence will answer; or even Hale's brook.) Dip your left Russian blouse sleeve in the aqua near-pura. Go to bed at 7 p. m. In sight of a fire, a gas jet will answer the purpose, and hang the sleeve near it to dry. Lie awake without speaking or reading and when midnight comes an apparition having His exact figure, violating all the proprieties, will enter the room, stride toward the gas jet, turn the sleeve over to dry, and wafting a kiss with his taper fingers, depart to return in the morning. Still, there are home-lier looking fellows than that butcher boy.

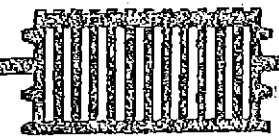

Ludicrous as the foregoing customs seem to us in these days of telephones and aeroplanes, a time was when they were performed with a simple faith in their efficacy by all the young folks among the Celtic and British peoples. This was in the days of the Druids, undoubtedly presiding the most beautiful of all the pagan religions. It was a custom for these priests of ancient Ireland and Scotland to hold a great autumn festival in honor of the Sun god and in thanksgiving for the bountiful harvests with which he had blessed them. And with the thanksgiving service, the Druids imparted in the hearts of the people the custom of remembering their dead in this, the season when men's thoughts turn to the ending of all things living. Even today in the remote hills of Connemara and among the Scottish highlands, Halloween is known among the elder people as the festival of Oidheche Shamhna, or the vigil of death.

In Lowell, however Oidheche Shamhna will receive scant attention this evening. Only the happier form of the festival overways the hearts of those of the present day. Tonight everybody will keep a corner of their eye on the lookout for fairies, even more potent than the who befriended Cinderella; some will surely meet witches astride their animated brooms; a few will have the good fortune to hold converse with rollicksome little elves and, who knows, even yourself if you may meet the wonder-working leprecaun!

SUNDAY CONCERT AT PLAYHOUSE
A grand operatic concert will be given at the Playhouse theatre tomorrow evening, Nov. 1 at 7:30 p. m. for the benefit of the Greek school of Lowell, by the famous members of the Lombardi Grand Opera and amateurs. There will be fifteen selections from the most famous operas. The Helene Dramatic company will also present "The Turkish Girl." This is a Greek performance in four acts. The Helene company has labored hard to make this entertainment a success and earnestly solicit your financial support for its worthy cause. The cooperation not only of the Greeks is asked but of the general public assuring a high class entertainment to all who attend. The tickets for this concert are 50c, 75c and $1.00.

advice telling of Turkey's attacks on Russian ports and vessels apparently placed the responsibility for hostilities on the Porte but in Berlin it is stated that it was in reality Russia which started the war. Turkey's action is said in the German capital to have been a natural sequence to the Russian attack on Turkish integrity.

From London came the suggestion that since no formal declaration of war has yet been made by either Turkey or Russia, the German commanders of the cruisers Goeben and Breslau may have acted without the authority of the Turkish government in precipitating the war. The Turkish army is said to be under the command of high German army officials.

Italy is being urged by the new nationalist party to plunge into the conflict, in view of Turkey's action touching so closely upon the disposition of territory along the Mediterranean, in which Italy is vitally interested.

The increasing confidence of the French is indicated in the unofficial announcement in Paris that the French government will return to that city from Bordeaux on November 20.

Action of the British government in holding up American vessels on the high seas led today to a formal protest from Washington. The immediate cause was the detaining at Gibraltar of the American vessel Kronland with a cargo of copper.

Two of Germany's adventurous roaming warships are said to have been captured at last. They are the cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, which are reported unofficially from Sydney, N. S. W., to have been seized owing to the failure of their coal supply.

17 PERSONS INJURED WHEN TRAIN ROLLED DOWN 30-FOOT EMBANKMENT AT ALFORD, PA., TODAY

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Seventeen persons were hurt today in the wreck of train No. 32 on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, which was thrown off an embankment a mile west of Alford, Pa. Part of the train of five cars rolled down a 30-foot incline into Martin's creek. The wreck, which happened at 8:15 a. m., was attributed to a broken rail.

PERSONALS

Elmer E. Dearth of Milwaukee, Wis., is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Dearth of South Loring street.

The art department of the Middlesex Women's club held its first meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Estelle M. Thurl of Boston as principal speaker, who took for her subject "The Madonna as an Art Ideal." The lecture was illustrated and most interesting.

William F. Davis, former pianist at the Voryon theatre, was married Wednesday to Miss Dorothy S. Byrne of Woonsocket, R. I., the ceremony being performed in Martinsburg, West Virginia.

DEATHS

HILL—Albert E. Hill died yesterday at the home of his brother, George H. Hill, 16 Smith avenue, aged 14 years, 10 months and 29 days.

BANFIELD—Frederick Banfield, son of John and the late Elizabeth Banfield, died yesterday at 60 Kirk street. The body was taken to the rooms of Undertaker George E. McKenna.

PENNINGTON—Francis Pennington, aged 35 years, nine months, 18 days, died yesterday at the home of his son, Thomas Pennington, 22 Riverside st. He leaves two sons, Thomas of this city and Frank of New Bedford; also two daughters, Mrs. Richard Baldwin of Lowell and Mrs. Bertha Hardy of New Bedford.

FULLER—Joseph F. Fuller died yesterday at his home, 253 East Merrimack street, aged 71 years and 11 months. He was born in Hudson, N. H., Nov. 25, 1842, and for many years has been connected with the Lowell exchange of the N. E. T. & T. Co., as manager. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Fuller, and three sons, John, a Civil war veteran and a member of Pentucket lodge, A. F. & A. M.

HOWE—Charles F. Howe, a lawyer in Boston, largely interested in patent matters, died suddenly at his apartment, 48 West Highland square, Boston, Thursday afternoon, Oct. 29. He had apparently been in good health and constantly attended to his business in his law offices, 31 Milk street, Boston. Thursday noon, however, he was seized with a chill in his office and expired shortly after he was driven to his home.

Mr. Howe was admitted to the bar in 1885 and was an old-time lawyer over the body of the late James Saunders, one of the best known residents of this city. The little church was filled to its utmost with friends and relatives of the deceased, who wished to pay a last tribute to one whom they loved and respected.

NO DECLARATION OF WAR FROM TURKEY YET RECEIVED AT PETROGRAD

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The correspondence of the Morning Post in Petrograd sends his paper the following: "The statement published here that the guns of the cruiser Goeben were turned on the sultan's palace in order to make him yield to the German demand is probably untrue."

A despatch to the Central News from Petrograd says that up to a late hour Friday no declaration of war had been received from Turkey.

The despatch continues: "Consternation prevails in Constantinople and the Turkish ministry is sitting continually. The secretary of the Turkish embassy in Petrograd says that he hopes that the misunderstanding will soon be cleared up. The head of the mission in Russia condemns the folly of Turkey and declares that his followers are loyal to the Russian emperor."

NO DECLARATION OF WAR YET FROM TURKEY OR RUSSIA

LONDON, Oct. 31.—No declaration of war has yet been made either by Turkey or Russia and the suggestion is made from various sources that the German commanders of the cruisers Goeben and Breslau may have forced the situation without the authority of the Turkish government owing to Germany's chagrin at the defeat on the Vistula.

According to one report, the entire Turkish fleet left Turkish waters undefended and the various ships are now cruising about on the Russian coast.

The Petrograd correspondents in their discussion of the situation mark that the Turkish army is not altogether to be despised, especially as it is entirely under command of German officers of the highest rank. The Times Petrograd correspondent says there are a thousand German officers in Turkey at the present time. The commander of the straits, Col. Dever, is a German, and the Ottoman Liman von Sanders commands the Ottoman troops.

The correspondent of the Daily Mail in Petrograd says that the Ottoman charge d'affaires is still there and professes to have no information regarding the action of his government.

COUNCIL MEMBERS ARE HAPPY GAMBLERS

Men Looking for City Jobs Will Not Bother Aldermen

Registration Bureau to Be Installed at City Hall on Monday

Laborers and Mechanics Must Abide by Civil Service Rules

PATRICK J. REYNOLDS, Registrar of Labor

This was the last day that any member of the municipal council could put a man to work. After today the city laborers and mechanics will have to deal with the civil service commission. The registrar of labor in this city is Patrick J. Reynolds. He was elected by the city council some time ago and the action of the council has had the approval of the civil service commission. The city will pay Mr. Reynolds $300 a year, but he will be a state officer in every sense of the word.

John C. Gilbert, state registrar of labor will come to Lowell Monday and will install the registration system. The system will have been installed by noon and while no applications will be received on Monday, application blanks will be passed out. Mr. Reynolds has not yet received his appointment as a justice of the peace but his application is before the governor and will be acted upon at once. All applicants seeking employment must make oath and Mr. Reynolds cannot administer the oath until he has been made a justice of the peace.

Hundreds of Applicants
Those seeking city employment were pretty thoroughly acquainted with the fact that this was the last day that a member of the municipal council could put a man to work and the way they flocked to city hall was a caution. Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, says that at least 700 men are seeking work on the streets and highways and there are other men who seek work in the water department who do not bother the street department. Mr. Morse allows that some of the laborers who were so anxious to have the civil service laws apply to city laborers and mechanics will feel differently about it after a few minutes have passed. The registration system will be "fine and dandy" for the commission.

J. JOSEPH O'CONNOR TWO NOON FIRE ALARMS

HEARD AT MILL GATES TODAY AND LAST NIGHT—WARMLY APPLAUDED

J. Joseph O'Connor, democratic candidate for congress, addressed large gatherings at the following places last night: Moody and Gershon avenue, Aiken and Hall streets, Salem street and Willis avenue, and Middlesex and Grand streets. He was well received everywhere he spoke.

Mr. O'Connor spoke on about the same topics at the different places. He told his listeners he was fighting the battle of the plain, honest, hard-working man and woman, unaided and alone as the candidate for congress on the great democratic party. He said he was not consulting the bosses, but meeting the people face to face for the purpose of discussing the issues that most concerned them, and to give reasons for his faith. He was warmly applauded.

The speaker told the welfare and concerns of a class were of more importance than the advancement or progress of any individual and urged the people to cut loose from the men known as leaders who are exploiting them for their own benefit.

He spoke of the great work of the democratic party at Washington and the desirability of sending men there to assist rather than oppose President Wilson.

RATE WAR ON GASOLINE

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 31.—It was reported here today that criminal indictments had been voted by the Hudson county grand jury against the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and the Gulf Refining Co., which have been engaged in a rate war on gasoline in Hudson and Essex counties in the past few months.

The indictments, according to the report, were two in number and were voted last night. It was said that they would not be handed into court until next Monday and that they were found under the so-called seven sisters laws which were placed on the statute books through the efforts of Woodrow Wilson when he was governor of the state.

Ten witnesses testified yesterday before the grand jury as to the part played by the two companies in the recent rapid lowering of prices on gasoline in Hudson county. A public investigation, conducted before Judge Sullivan of the common pleas court about a month ago, adduced evidence tending to show that within the space of two months the price on gasoline had been cut more than 50 per cent. It was charged then that the Standard Oil Co. had cut the price to drive competitors out of business, but this, Judge Sullivan held, was not proven.

JOHN JACOB ROGERS POLICE TRAFFIC SQUAD

GOT ROUSING RECEPTION IN NO. BILERICA THIS NOON—CRITICIZED DEMOCRATIC WAR TAX

The employees of the Talbot mills at North Billerica listened attentively to an address by Congressman John Jacob Rogers, candidate for reelection, at the mill gate this noon. Congressman Rogers went to the town at the invitation of the republican town committee and he was given a fine reception.

The congressman touched upon his record during the two years which he has been in Washington, and also upon his criticism of his opponent. He said that in his campaign just two years ago he promised the voters of this district that he would do his best and he had lived up to that promise at all times.

The democratic party was assailed by the speaker, who went into details concerning the special war tax and the underwear tariff. At the close of his address, he was loudly applauded.

A HALLOWEEN DANCE

Merriment ran high in the commodious dance hall at Schofield's farm, Dacotah, last evening when the young ladies of D. L. Page's store entertained at one of the most delightful Halloween parties of the year, which was arranged by the Misses Kathryn Navas, Helen Rasmus, Edna Bruhn and Gladys Merrill.

The cosy room was transformed by orange and black streamers which were draped from the ceiling and caught up with pumpkin lanterns. The walls were covered with products from the farm, and appropriate for the occasion, making a very pleasing aspect. A fireplace, covered with corn husks and orange and black crepe paper added to the attractiveness of the scene.

Seated in the center of the hall and partly hidden by the pretty decorations, the members of Gilmore's orchestra dispensed pleasing music for the dancing which continued from 8.30 o'clock until near midnight when the party concluded all speaking highly of the hospitality of the committee in charge.

As the guests entered the hall they were presented pretty Halloween souvenir dance orders in the form of pumpkin lanterns, and prettily engraved. Other Halloween novelties were brought out in an enjoyable way by the young ladies in charge of the event.

ATTENTION TO ROB STONE

An unsuccessful attempt was made early this morning to break into the liquor store of Louis Mercier & Co., at 368 Moody street. A patrolman in covering his beat discovered that a hole had been pulled out of the rear door and an attempt made to force open the main door. It is thought by the police that the burglar was frightened away while working with his tools.

ATLANTIC HIGH WON

FUNERAL SERVICES CONDUCTED BY REV. APPLETON GRANNIS AT ST. ANNE'S CHURCH

The funeral of Mrs. Harriet Lancaster Chambré, widow of the late Rev. A. St. John Chambré, D. D., took place this afternoon from her home, 61 North street. Prayer was recited at the house at 1 o'clock by Rev. Appleton Grannis, rector of St. Anne's church, and at 1.30 o'clock funeral services were conducted in the church. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Appleton Grannis, who was assisted by Rev. Wilson Waters, rector of the All Saints' church, Chelmsford Centre. Readings from the Scripture were given and hymns were chanted by the vested choir of the church. The attendance at the church was very large for deceased was the wife of the former rector and was held in the highest esteem by the members of the congregation.

The honorary bearers were Wardens Franklin Nourse and E. N. Burke and Vestrymen W. A. Russell, C. W. Eaton, G. H. Pillsbury, F. P. Marble, C. E. Grover, P. A. Estes, E. L. Fay and A. E. Williams. The usher was Charles Midwood. The body was taken over the road in the auto-hearse and burial was in Mt. Auburn cemetery in Cambridge, under the direction of Undertaker George W. Healey.

"RABBIT" MARANVILLE

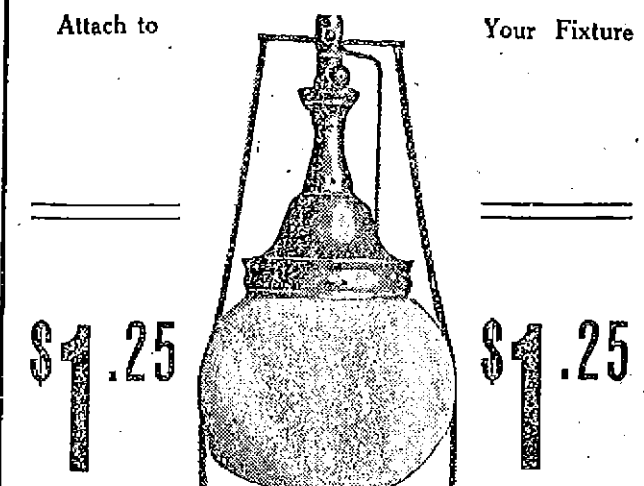

Manager Ben Moxett of Keith's theatre is right on to his job, for today he announced that he has booked "Rabbit" Maranville, the famous shortstop of the world's champion Braves, to appear at the local theatre in a vaudeville sketch during the week of Nov. 30. All the big theatrical managers of the country were vying to get the "Rabbit" and the local manager was among the lucky ones. This will be Maranville's first appearance in Lowell since he played with the New Bedford team at Spaulding park. All the fans will be on deck to greet the kid with the vest pocket fly-catcher.

FIGHTING IN BELGIUM CONTINUES—

WAR MAP OF BATTLE OF FLANDERS

The fighting in Belgium, near the border of France, continues to be the feature of the war. The French and Belgians are holding the line from Neuport to Dixmude and are said to have taken Thourout. The Germans who are shelling Neuport, are reported as having moved out of Westend, probably because the French and British war vessels are again shelling the coast towns, which the Germans are said to be fortifying from the Yser to Knoch.

THE PENNANT WINNERS

Teams That Copped 1914 Flags—Past Season Replete With Many Surprises

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—With the world's baseball championship and all the pennant races in the major and minor leagues decided, the baseball season of 1914 has passed into history. Many of the events which occurred during the playing season, as well as those which immediately preceded the departure of the various teams to their training camps, were of a sensational character. The invasion of the major league circuit by a new organization, the St. Louis Cardinals, the enforced extraordinary advance in the salaries of prominent players, the legal battles fought for the retention of subjugated players, the alleged contract breakers kept the baseball world in a ferment for months. The around-the-world trip of the foremost diamond stars, which was both financially and instructively a huge success, was a big step toward making the great American game universally understood. Taken altogether the season just finished has marked an epoch in baseball and furnished probably the most interesting chapters in the long and varied records of events on the diamond.

In addition to the National American and Federal leagues, there were nearly 40 organizations of professional baseball clubs in operation in the United States and Canada during the past year, and the appended list shows the pennant winners for 1914.

World's champions, Boston Nationals.

MACK ASKS WAIVERS

On Pitchers Bender, Plank and Coombs of the Philadelphia Athletics

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, announced today that he had asked waivers on pitchers Bender, Plank and Coombs.

Mack's announcement was in confirmation of a statement of Hughie Jennings, manager of the Detroit team at Atlantic City. The Philadelphia manager said he had no intention of retaining any one of the three pitchers for the season of 1915. Asked if he did not feel that Bender and Plank were good enough to pitch for the Athletics next year, Mack said he wanted it understood that he did not think their usefulness as pitchers was over.

SHERWOOD CLUB

Held Its Third and Best Annual Dancing Party Last Evening

The third annual and social of the Sherwood club, an organization which is fast gaining an enviable reputation in the social life of Lowell, was held last evening at the Pawtucket hotel. True to the season, it reflected the spirit of Halloween in every particular. Orange and black being the club colors, these shades were used lavishly in the artistic decoration scheme with splendid effect. Clusters of gaily colored autumn foliage were caught around the lights and at other prominent points, and streamers of gold and black were hung on all sides.

Though the Sherwood club has run successful and enjoyable parties in the past, the affair of last evening proved the most thoroughly enjoyable in its career. There was a delightful informality throughout, a fact which the 100 guests or more were not long in appreciating. Still there was a refinement

First Finger Mitt

"Dad" Phillips, who is employed as binder by the Teland-Stanford university press, claims to have seen the first finger mitt ever used in a baseball game. Over 40 years ago "Dad" says he played on the same team with A. G. Spalding at Rockton, Ill., and tells of the origin of the mitt as follows:

"In one of the games that our stockton squad played we were attracted by the sound of the ball as it clapped into the hands of the man on first base for our opponents. Of course none of us were in the line of play, and we never thought such a thing would be practical. But this man on first base always caught the ball with a loud pop, and several of us noticed it, though we could see nothing unusual about his hands.

"However, after he caught the ball each time, he pressed something into his left hand. After the game Spalding and I went over to see what he had in his hand. After some protest he showed us. It was nothing but a piece of bent metal around which he had sewed some leather. It seemed he had injured his hand, and did not want to be kept out of the game, which was for the championship of the state. So he had made this mitt."

Bunting "Dad" He says that the team on which he played originated the bunting signal, but he does not think that it is legitimate baseball. In his early days a bunt was called a "fair foul" and was not looked on with much favor by the fans of the time.

MACK ASKS WAIVERS

On Pitchers Bender, Plank and Coombs of the Philadelphia Athletics

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, announced today that he had asked waivers on pitchers Bender, Plank and Coombs.

Mack's announcement was in confirmation of a statement of Hughie Jennings, manager of the Detroit team at Atlantic City. The Philadelphia manager said he had no intention of retaining any one of the three pitchers for the season of 1915. Asked if he did not feel that Bender and Plank were good enough to pitch for the Athletics next year, Mack said he wanted it understood that he did not think their usefulness as pitchers was over.

SHERWOOD CLUB

Held Its Third and Best Annual Dancing Party Last Evening

The third annual and social of the Sherwood club, an organization which is fast gaining an enviable reputation in the social life of Lowell, was held last evening at the Pawtucket hotel. True to the season, it reflected the spirit of Halloween in every particular. Orange and black being the club colors, these shades were used lavishly in the artistic decoration scheme with splendid effect. Clusters of gaily colored autumn foliage were caught around the lights and at other prominent points, and streamers of gold and black were hung on all sides.

Though the Sherwood club has run successful and enjoyable parties in the past, the affair of last evening proved the most thoroughly enjoyable in its career. There was a delightful informality throughout, a fact which the 100 guests or more were not long in appreciating. Still there was a refinement

HINTS TO BUSINESS MEN PROTEST TO ENGLAND

Experts in Many Lines Discuss Problems at Conference Called by Governor Walsh

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—The conference on industrial development and trade extension called at the suggestion of Gov. Walsh and arranged by the Massachusetts state board of labor and industries was in session all day yesterday at the Copley-Plaza hotel with about 200 business men present from all parts of the state.

Addresses were made in the morning by the governor and in the afternoon by Mayor Curley, and the formal program included also addresses by Dr. E. E. Pratt of the United States department of commerce, James H. Perkins of the National City Bank, New York, John E. Tobin of the Foot and Shoe Workers' union, Dudley Bartlett, director of the foreign trade bureau of the Philadelphia Commercial Museum, an institution unique in this country; Prof. Emily Balch, Wellesley college, and B. M. Rastell, industrial expert of the board of labor and industries.

Practical suggestions were offered by Herbert S. Houston, publisher of the Boston Herald, who declared that New England must learn to give the same patient attention to the study of the art of salesmanship that has been devoted to the art of production; Alfred P. Perkins, field secretary of the United States chamber of commerce, who told of what the nation was doing to distribute industrial information wherever it may do the most good; P. M. Almeida, citizen of Brazil, acting as commercial agent for that country, who told of the opportunities presented to the United States in his land; Dr. David Snedden of the state board of education, who declared that the resources of the local communities were not adequate for them without state help to carry on industrial evening schools for adults. Prof. Seliskar M. Gunn of the board of labor and industries; A. Lincoln, Ellene, who made a series of suggestions; John S. Lyons, Holyoke, and many others.

Gov. Walsh, speaking upon "The Advance of Massachusetts," said that the most important work of the new state board of labor and industries would be its effort for the development of Massachusetts industries. Not enough attention was given now to business, because "there is too much politics in Massachusetts." The governor declared the existence of annual elections, which distract and disturb.

From a somewhat different angle Mayor Curley approached the same problem in his address. He referred to the effort for the $1,000,000 fund, saying that he had not believed it possible to raise that amount, but that the effort had brought business men closer, and in addition had brought in $58,000 in paid subscriptions and $68,000 in pledges, besides including the location in Boston of $12,000,000 worth of new industries, and the visit of the state board of labor and industries to the Boston Industrial Bureau. He referred also to the movement in behalf of a merchant marine, and brought out a round of applause when he declared that in slow times it was far better to run a plant at some loss than to promote the building of such community institutions as warehouses and general business agencies.

Chairman Donovan showed that his board had been working night and day for months planning to take advantage of the enormous business opportunities brought to the country by the war.

All Information at Hand

"All that Massachusetts men want of information along the line of foreign trade extension need to do," he said, "is to write to the state board of labor and industries at 1 Beacon street, or call 'Haymarket 4200' on the telephone. If we cannot answer questions at the moment, we are in touch with so many national sources of information that we can at least guarantee to do so promptly."

He referred also to the lack of common sense in making manufacturers pay their employees 52 times a year and then to let state employees and teachers and many others wait a month before they get an installment of pay.

Dr. Pratt gave the business men some valuable suggestions, saying that from his observations and his foreign correspondence he believed that financial conditions were not good just now for the development of foreign trade, but this was the proper time to make a start.

Miss Balch referred to the mistake of training so much of young labor in casual forms of employment, with the result that the workers never become accustomed to regular employment, and she urged the necessity of finding a way to supplement the abilities of men by giving them the small amounts of training which often are all they have to obtain steady and profitable work.

Dr. Bartlett asked for community improvement in behalf of labor, declaring that every community sets its stamp indelibly upon the men and women in it.

SOFTEN LEAGUE TO MEET

The Lawrence, Lowell and District soccer league will meet Sunday afternoon at the league headquarters. The regular delegates are requested to be on hand at 2 o'clock sharp, as it is most important. There is much business to come before the members. The International teams will not be announced at Sunday's meeting as the committee has not yet reported on the following meeting, two weeks hence.

TRIED TO POISON CHILDREN

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 31.—Mrs. Nettie Frow, herself a mother, was found guilty in superior court yesterday of putting poison in apples with intent to poison the three children of a neighbor. Nasty play of the many children in the neighborhood, it was testified, was the occasion of many quarrels between the elderly Mrs. Frow and her neighbors.

State Department to Demand Release of Kroonland—British Amend Contraband Rules

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The state department has decided to protest to Great Britain against the detention of the American steamship Kroonland, held up at Gibraltar bay with some 1100 passengers and a cargo of copper bound from New York to Italian and Greek ports.

It was pointed out last night that the Kroonland sailed from New York 10 days before Great Britain added copper to the list of conditional contraband and made no stops en route to Gibraltar, and therefore should not be subject to seizure on account of her cargo.

So far, no official communication has been received concerning the reported detention of the Italian steamers San Giovanni and Regina D'Italia, but as these vessels carry American cargoes, the state department probably will protest also against their detention at Gibraltar, especially as they are billed to Italian ports.

The state department has been notified of the changes in the rules as to contraband just made by the British privy council and has that generally they make no additions of importance to the contraband list. The new rule, providing that a neutral vessel may be held responsible on one voyage for what she did on a preceding voyage, was a radical departure from the long-established practice of requiring a vessel to be caught "red-handed" in violation of the contraband laws.

The British authorities will be asked whether the vessel is held because of the nature of her cargo or because German and Austrian reservists are among her passengers.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

Sam Egan of the A. G. Pollard store has decided, it is said, to become a war correspondent.

The J. L. Chaffoux employees' Halloween party, held in North Chelmsford last evening, was a decided success.

Edward Hollowood, formerly employed at the Lowell Bleachery, has accepted a position with the U. S. Cartridge Co.

Mr. David Lane of the U. S. Bunting Co. has returned after spending a most enjoyable vacation with relatives in Albany, N. Y.

Joe Jolson of the Tremont & Suffolk mills is making a hard fight for representative in the 17th district and is confident of winning out.

The ladies' night conducted by the Mathew Temperance Institute last evening was a largely attended and very enjoyable affair.

The Leather Workers union will hold a smoke talk in the union headquarters Monday evening and an enjoyable time is promised all those who will attend.

Miss Mary Gillet, formerly employed at the U. S. Cartridge Co. when she lived in this city a few years ago, has returned to her home in Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. Alvin Nichols, employed at the Lowell Bleachery, who received a severe laceration to his hand while at work on a bus plane some time ago, has returned to work.

Charles Farrell, second hand in the cloth department at the Tremont & Suffolk mills, is but one of the few who delight in listening to the mill gate speeches of the various candidates.

William O'Brien of the Bay State mills is rapidly coming to the front as a bowler, and in the opinion of his friends he will make quite a few of the good ones sit up and take notice within a short time.

The J. L. Chaffoux Employees' Bowling league has been organized with four teams and will start the ball a-rolling next Wednesday evening. Refreshments will be served after the contests and a large gathering of employees have signified their intentions of attending.

Mr. Robert Whitworth, formerly employed at the Merrimack Manufacturing Co., went hunting yesterday, and although he had quite a few shots at pheasants he did not succeed in bringing down any. His friends are now counseling him to purchase a shotgun and he is giving the matter serious thought.

Monketaquid Mills

The Monketaquid mills, which closed down this week, due to the continuing low water, will not resume operations until next Thursday.

Tremont & Suffolk Mills

The Tremont & Suffolk mills are waiting, it is understood, for a large blanket order, believed to be for one of the nations engaged in war. The order will come through the selling house of the mills.

Moore's Mills

The G. C. Moore mills are running very steadily and indications seem to point to their continuing to do so, unless something unforeseen happens. Night work is being carried on in some departments.

Silesia Mills

The recent curtailment at the Silesia Worsted mills is causing a good deal of worry to the people of the town, as winter is coming on. The Silesia mills have been running very steadily for several years, and it is confidently expected they will soon resume. Agent Hughes expects better times in the near future.

Lowell Textile Company

The Lowell Textile Co., manufacturers of towels, which has been very busy for some time past, closed down Wednesday night to take stock. The plant will reopen Monday morning. This plant has been running the last few months and it is understood that enough orders are on hand to keep all operatives employed during the winter months.

LOWELL BUILDING NEWS

Perhaps the most noteworthy of the building operations progressing in Lowell at the present time, is the complete remodeling of the structure at 281 Worthen street, the object being to provide greater educational accommodations and facilities for the children of the Greek colony. The plans for this addition to the Greek schools were made some time ago and now the work of bringing about the material realization of the ideas of the school committee of the colony has been started.

In a word, the plan is to change the residence at the above mentioned location into a school building, and this will entail the erection of additions and a great deal of remodeling of both the interior and exterior. The chairman of the committee in charge is Mr. Peter Tzavoularis, and the result of the progressive ideas and hard work of Mr. Tzavoularis and his fellow committee men is a building that will accommodate a large number of the Greek school children.

The building will have four spacious class rooms, well equipped. The foundation work is to be constructed of stone and the building will have a flat roof. The fireproof features will be brought about by the construction of walls of metal lath and hard plaster. An addition will be erected at the front and the material used will be brick. There will also be an addition to the ell part.

In addition to the class rooms, there will be ten closets and rooms equipped with toilet fixtures. A new heating and ventilating plant of up-to-date design will be installed, and the entire interior will be newly finished. This building, when completed, will be two stories in height.

The estimated cost of the work is $2000.

Sales by E. F. Slattery, Jr., real estate and insurance, with office at 904 Sun building, reports the following sale for the week ending October 30th:

The sale of a two tenement house with five rooms to each tenement. The property is near the junction of Fletcher and Dowers streets and occupies a splendid corner. The houses are of granite and granite will be given when the final papers are recorded.

Thos. H. Elliott's Office
Thos. H. Elliott, real estate broker, offices, 41 Central street, corner Prescott, reports the following sales completed during the past week ending Friday, Oct. 30th:

Final papers have been passed in the transfer of the large two-apartment property situated at 41-43 Tyler street at the head of George street. The place comprises a house of twenty-four rooms divided into two apartments and a detached garage. The houses are of granite and granite will be given when the final papers are recorded.

Also the sale of an excellent lodge-house property situated at 256 Worthen street at the corner of Broadway. This place comprises a house of ten rooms, steam heated and with bath. Its convenient location and first-class furnishings render it an especially desirable property. The transfer was negotiated on behalf of Mrs. D. F. Jones, formerly of this city, now of Boston. The purchaser is Mrs. Anna D. Wyman who is already in occupancy of the premises.

Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a first-class small residential property situated near Fletcher street. The house is full of excellent rooms and bath. It occupies a lot approximating 3000 square feet assessed at the rate of 25c per foot. The assessment totals on land and buildings $2000. The transfer is effected on behalf of out-of-town owners, the grantees buying purely for purposes of investment.

Sales by James H. Boyle
James H. Boyle, real estate broker, office 64 Central street, corner of Prescott street, reports the following sales for the week ending Oct. 30th:
The contracts have been signed for the sale of two two-tenement houses and a detached garage situated in Lakewood avenue. The purchaser buys the property for an investment and name will be announced later.

The contracts have been signed for the sale of a 12-tenement house situated in Lakewood avenue. The buildings are assessed for $1000 and land, $1000. The lot contains 4000 square feet. The purchaser buys for investment.

ment and the name will be announced on the passing of the final papers.

Costos Mallares plans the construction of an additional piazza on his property at 455-7 Market street.

Michael Murphy of Canada street has been granted a permit for the erection of a platform for seats for use in his business at 31 Canada street.

As the result of the partitioning off of an office, a new four-room apartment will be constructed by Esther Wolk in her property located at 119 Chalmers street. The work will include considerable new finish work on the interior.

An addition 12 by 14 feet will be erected by Narcisse Clairmont to be used as an icehouse. The addition will adjoin the side of Mr. Clairmont's dwelling and will have a post foundation.

An addition will be built over the ell of the dwelling of Alfred Leblanc in order that the owner may have an additional room. The present ell consists of but one story. New plumbing fixtures will be installed and the interior remodeled.

Dr. J. V. Pappin, residing at 24 Saunders avenue, will soon construct a new garage of wood with a concrete foundation and floor. The building will have a frontage of 12 feet and the side will measure 15 feet.

A second story will be added to the dwelling house of Jane McElroy at 111 Mt. Pleasant street. The remodeling will result in the making of a two-story building out of the present single story affair and will add four new rooms to the house.

The Gilbride Co. has placed shades in the new two-apartment dwellings in Stevens street which have been erected by A. P. Demers; in the new residence of B. House in Mathews street, and also has put up shades and draperies in the residence of Richard Bray in Bellevue avenue.

Charles H. Bull, a local contractor, will build an addition on the house of James C. Donovan at 176 Branch street. The addition will be used for a workshop and the work will also include several interior alterations, including plumbing equipment. The addition will measure 5 by 6 feet and will have a foundation of stone.

Frank M. Andrews of Lawrence will build a new piazza on the side of his house situated at 27 Ward street, this city, to replace the present wooden fire escape. The measurements are 7 by 16 and a wooden stairway will lead to the ground. The estimated cost of this work will be $100.

P. F. Mahoney, residing at 77 Bench street, intends soon to begin the work of making fireproof the garage at his property, 336 Middlesex street. The building will be absolutely fireproof when the alterations shall have been completed, for the plans call for the construction of the ceiling and side walls of hard plaster on metal lath. The remodeling and fireproofing of this building will necessitate the changing over of one partition.

The property of Eastman Heris, located at 15-23 Market street of which John P. Riley is the lessee, is soon to be the object of extensive remodeling. The roof of the bridge between the two buildings will be raised about seven feet and a new outer wall of stucco and wire mesh will be constructed. The work will be all probability cost in the neighborhood of $150.

During the past week extensive repairs have been made on the building at the corner of Merrimack and Worthen streets, owned by John Kimball and occupied by A. P. Sackley. The building, which has had its studio in that building for a number of years, and Dr. Constantineau, local dentist who has recently moved his offices from the corner of Middlesex and Central streets, to this present location. The main stairway on Merrimack street is now practically new and will be well lighted with several large electric lights. The hall has also undergone a complete change. Much painting has been done as well as carpentry in this part of the building. The dental rooms of Dr. Constantineau have been thoroughly renovated and remodeled and now present a beautiful appearance. Both the dentist and Mr. Sackley have had a number of business signs made which will be general changes in the building will give it the appearance of this edifice for the better. The carpentry work was in charge of H. P. Drole. Alfred Barrett did the painting and Miller & Co. were the artists on the new signs.

Will Build New Garage
Mrs. Fred Hogg of 245 Pine street will erect a new garage in the rear of his property at 181 Highland avenue. The floor is to be of concrete and the remainder of the building of wood. The roof will be constructed of tar and gravel, and will be of the shed variety.

Public Health Laws
Laws for the protection of the public health would fall in their purpose but for the deep interest taken in their enforcement by the plumbing trade throughout the country. A recent instance of the advantage of having an organization such as the State Examiners of Plumbers of Massachusetts is brought up in the case of a New Bedford plumber who was charged with doing the plumbing work without being registered or licensed as required by law. He was found guilty by the superior court but fled exceptions to the rulings of that court. The case was then carried to the supreme court. The plumber claimed that he had a right to work at his lawful trade he thought fit and that the statute under which he had been found guilty unduly interfered with that right and was therefore unconstitutional. While the court upholds that the constitutionality of the law is sacred, and as claimed by the defendant, it ruled that it was not absolute, and the ruling was to the effect that, like almost every other individual right, it must yield to the right of government to impose such reasonable restraints as are required for the protection of public health and public morals, or in other words, the police power. The gist of the ruling which is brought to the attention of this journal by an officer of the Massachusetts Board of Examining Plumbers is that the full bench of the supreme court ruled that the right of the government to impose reasonable restraint as required for the protection of the public health was greater than the rights given to individuals under the constitution of the United States. This ruling definitely settles the question of the plumbing trade. It will give great encouragement to workers in the sanitary field to continue their efforts to prevent that independent action which is beneficial only to the single interest of the man making a profit and which at the same time may be a menace not only to his customers but to the public in general.—The Building Age.

Brick veneer up to height of first story windows, then rough cast to the cornice, with half timber effect in the second story, making a combination of brick, plaster and wood for the exterior. First story has a den and also a bedroom, which last is often considered a first story necessity. Living room extends across entire width of the house, with built-in fireplace and bookcases at one end and a staircase opposite. The dining room opens from living room by columns that extend to the ceiling. Size, 30 feet wide and 14 feet deep over the main part. Full basement. First story, 9 feet; second story, 8 feet. Red oak finish in first story except kitchen, which is in birch. Pine to paint in second story. Birch or maple floors throughout. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $8000.

The front will measure 10 feet and the side 15 feet.

Another Garage
Another garage is to be constructed by Walter Jackson near his residence at 14 Whipple street. The garage will have a concrete floor and the foundation will be constructed of stone and cement. The roof, which is to be flat, will be constructed of tar and gravel. The roof will have a steel frame and the doors will be covered with metal. This material of the building will be chiefly stone and cement.

Two Apartment Dwellings
Martha A. Boyle is building a two-apartment dwelling near her residence at 100 Mount Washington street. The building will be a two-story affair and each apartment will contain six rooms and bath. The material of construction will be chiefly wood while the foundation is to be of stone and cement. The house will have both front and rear stairways and will measure 34 by 37 feet. Apparatus for steam heating will be installed. The estimated cost is $2500.

Public Health Laws
Laws for the protection of the public health would fall in their purpose but for the deep interest taken in their enforcement by the plumbing trade throughout the country. A recent instance of the advantage of having an organization such as the State Examiners of Plumbers of Massachusetts is brought up in the case of a New Bedford plumber who was charged with doing the plumbing work without being registered or licensed as required by law. He was found guilty by the superior court but fled exceptions to the rulings of that court. The case was then carried to the supreme court. The plumber claimed that he had a right to work at his lawful trade he thought fit and that the statute under which he had been found guilty unduly interfered with that right and was therefore unconstitutional. While the court upholds that the constitutionality of the law is sacred, and as claimed by the defendant, it ruled that it was not absolute, and the ruling was to the effect that, like almost every other individual right, it must yield to the right of government to impose such reasonable restraints as are required for the protection of public health and public morals, or in other words, the police power. The gist of the ruling which is brought to the attention of this journal by an officer of the Massachusetts Board of Examining Plumbers is that the full bench of the supreme court ruled that the right of the government to impose reasonable restraint as required for the protection of the public health was greater than the rights given to individuals under the constitution of the United States. This ruling definitely settles the question of the plumbing trade. It will give great encouragement to workers in the sanitary field to continue their efforts to prevent that independent action which is beneficial only to the single interest of the man making a profit and which at the same time may be a menace not only to his customers but to the public in general.—The Building Age.

ASBESTOS IN DEMAND

The demand for building materials likely to be affected by fire has encouraged manufacturers to experiment with all sorts of materials with the result that asbestos has been brought prominently to the front. It is interesting to note that asbestos runs in veins very nearly parallel to the ground and in thicknesses varying all the way from a mere line to 3 or 4 in. Some of the veins, however, reach a depth of 200 ft. Deposits of asbestos in one or more of its allied species are found to a limited extent in Russia, Italy, Egypt, India, South Africa and many other parts of the world. That which is mined in Canada, however, is of special commercial value as other varieties are either too brittle to utilize or too hard to mine. The asbestos when properly worked produces long silk threads which are made into fireproof materials of various kinds, the most familiar doubtless being the asbestos theatre curtain. The asbestos or rock fibers are made into felt which is often saturated with Trinidad Lake asphalt, after which several of the sheets are cemented together with this material and made into ready roofings. For shingles the same rock fibers are mixed with Portland cement and other ingredients, then placed in molds of various sizes and shapes and subject to intense hydraulic pressure. The various colors are mixed with these ingredients, producing shingles of handsome shades. Asbestos wood or lumber is also made in much the same manner as the shingles. This is furnished in slabs so that it can be easily used for fireproof partitions, fire doors, boiler supports, moving picture machines, etc. Another use of the material is in stucco, also wall plaster. Here the asbestos rock takes the place of hair ordinarily used and the asbestos rock takes the place of sand. Another material which is fast gaining favor, chiefly because of its fire-retarding qualities, is Masite. The importance of fireproof construction is being appreciated more and more by architects and builders and this is shown by the tremendous increase in the substitution of fireproof building materials for those of an inflammable nature.

BUILDING ITEMS

It has been decided that the next annual convention of the National Association of Builders' exchanges will be held in the city of Columbus, Ohio, on January 26 to 28, inclusive, 1915.

There are said to be more than 400 different kinds of marble used in New York city, and in color they range from bright reds and greens to the most delicate shades of pink, turquoise and yellow. Some are known as dead stones because of their dull, sombre hues, while others are alive with dashes of vermillion, scarlet, emerald green and lavender.

The new building code adopted by the city council of Macon, Ga., and which went into effect September 1, provides that all buildings shall be roofed with non-inflammable material.

It is said that the first sawmill in the United States was at Jamestown, from which sawed boards were exported in June, 1675. A saw for the present site of the city of Richmond, Va.

Since the middle of August a vigorous campaign has been waged by the city of Boston looking to the elimination of the fire hazard. As reported by the fire commissioner 50 per cent. of the fire losses are preventable and the objective of the work of the present campaign is not so much the minimization of fires and their speedy extinguishment, as it is the elimination of the conditions which make these fires possible and probable.

Paris Cheered by Report Telling of Retreat of Germans Across the Yser in Face of Stiff Cannonading by Allies—Paris Returning to Normal Conditions

PARIS, Oct. 31.—Official announcement was made today that the government will return to Paris from Bordeaux on Nov. 20 and that parliament will meet on Dec. 10 to pass emergency laws.

Little by little, Paris appears to be returning to more normal conditions. The shops in the avenue d'Opera which had their doors locked and windows whitewashed have now been reopened. Each day another restaurant or bar on the boulevards or elsewhere resumes business and the newspapers which ceased to publish at the time of the mobilization have begun to appear again. The question of reopening the bourse is also discussed.

From the war arena in France and Belgium, the most pleasing news to Parisians today was that telling of the retreat of the Germans across the Yser in the face of a stiff cannonading by the allies. The announcement only a few days ago that the Germans had succeeded in crossing to the left bank of the Yser did more to depress the spirits of the people here than any development of the war for some time. General Pierre Cherfils, the military critic, declares that a wounded French officer with whom he talked yesterday gave all praise to the German method of combat. The present war, he says, also affirms the immense service aviation can render to the French units. The aeroplane has become an instrument of observation, not only useful but indispensable, according to General Cherfils.

The death list of the army men contains the name of Colonel Detrie, the son of a French hero and who was the youngest superior officer in the army.

REPORT OSTEND AGAIN EVACUATED BY GERMANS

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Although the official communications do not spread much light on the situation in West Flanders, other reports emanating from Holland indicate that a German retreat from the coast south of Ostend is imminent and Ostend is again reported as having been evacuated by the invaders. These rumors, however, are not confirmed from Berlin, which claims some advance along the Ypres line.

The city of Lille is declared in special despatches again to be free of German troops and its hopeful citizens so confident that they never will return that plans are being made to resume the usual civic functions.

That Germany has by no means given up its determination to take Calais is indicated by the significant report from Berlin by way of Copenhagen that the German general staff has decided that the army in Poland shall fall back to the frontier of Silesia and remain there on the defensive until the battle in Flanders ends with the capture of Calais. Such a movement would release four army corps to be transferred from Silesia to Belgium.

The Russian tactics of bending back the line of invaders in Russian Poland one section at a time, the retreat of each section endangering the position of the section next to it on the south, appears to London observers to have been successful everywhere on the extreme Russian left where the Austrians still maintain the positions they succeeded in re-taking from the Russians.

Along the front of East Prussia the Germans are fighting stubbornly to prevent another invasion of their territory at a point farther south. It is argued here that the Russians cannot expect to assume a full offensive movement until the Austrians are driven back from the River San. But even this will not mean an immediate invasion of Germany, as it is known that the Germans in preparation for a possible retreat have established heavily entrenched positions along the River Warta.

Speculation as to the effects of the position taken by Turkey varies widely. In some quarters it is even argued that the acts of the former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau will be disavowed by the Porte, but the well authenticated news of the departure of the Russian ambassador from Constantinople seems to indicate matters are far beyond recall.

Delayed telegrams indicated as late as last Wednesday the British ambassador there had received assurances that Turkey would maintain her neutrality.

The action of the Balkan states in this phase of the crisis is awaited with keen interest in England. Greece is expected immediately to throw her lot with the entente powers. Great Britain, Russia and France, and it is felt here that Roumania probably will follow the same course. But Bulgaria which recently regained much of the prestige lost in the second Balkan war, preserves a stubborn silence. Revenge would impel her to an alliance with the Turks, but Sofia seems determined to maintain neutrality unless the borders of Bulgaria are crossed.

German newspapers aver that with Turkey in the arena, the conflict is no longer European but Mediterranean in scope. It, therefore, threatens Italy's interests in North Africa and raises the century-old question of the control of the Mediterranean which must compel the Italian government to intervene on the side of the entente powers.

Italy as a first step in her evident determination to be a factor in the control of the Adriatic has landed an expedition on the island of Saseno, which commands the entrance to the harbor of Avion in Albania.

A report from Constantinople says that the Turkish and Russian fleets are engaged in a battle off Odessa.

ELECTED COLOR SERGEANT

The many friends of Robert G. Carlson, a popular member of Company G, M. V. REMOVED TO KEITH'S BUILDING

C. A. Senter and R. T. Mower, who have been located in the Bradley building, Central street, for some time, have secured a lease of one of the stories on the ground floor of the Keith building. They will carry a complete line of diamonds and watches and will be pleased to meet their many friends in their future place of business which will be known as the Box Jewelry store.

Richard Mower will be in charge of the watch and jewelry and he is one of the most expert watch makers in the city. He has been engaged in this city for the past 27 years and has repaired thousands of watches. C. A. Senter has been dealing in diamonds, watches, clocks and jewelry for 31 years, and knows where and how to buy and sell at the lowest prices. Messrs. Senter and Mower feel confident that the change in location will meet with approval owing to the fact that they are located on a first floor, and they promise prompt attention, expert work, and lowest prices to all who will favor them with a trial.

30,000 AT TODAY'S GRIDIRON BATTLE

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 31.—West meets East today when the University of Michigan football eleven clashes with the Harvard team at the Harvard stadium. The struggle is expected to be a desperate one and the game is expected to develop into one of the most thrilling in recent years.

The Harvard yard began filling up several hours before the game began and many of the clubs and students threw open their doors to the visitors. Special lunches were also served and, outside in Harvard square, restaurants did a rushing business. The day proved cooler than was anticipated and a stiff northwest breeze swept down the Charles river, striking the tall walls of the stadium, added around the structure and made the catching of punts unusually difficult.

There was plenty of sunshine, however, and early comers on the stadium, many of whom brought their lunches, watched the white terraces fill with banners of white and blue and crimson flags.

Both from the players and spectators' viewpoints the day was ideal for the sport.

The lineup:

Michigan	Harvard
Reinold	Smith
McHale	Trumbull
Reynolds	Wallace
Wagoner	Wagoner
Cochran	Barons
Stanz	Collidge
Hughitt	Logan
McHale	Bradlee
Lyons	Bradlee
Splawn	Bradlee

Ideal Day For Football

Ade from a stiff wind that swept out of the northeast, excellent conditions prevailed for opening of the game. The sky was almost cloudless and the rays of the sun tempered the chill of the miniature gale. The playing turf, freshly lined with five yard marks, was dry and fast.

Coach Yost of Michigan came on the field about an hour before the game and tested the weather air, wheels and caddies by tossing bits of paper up and watching the course of their flight.

The crowds filed into the stadium rapidly in the first half hour previous to the play and the vast tiers of seats filled until it appeared that close to thirty thousand spectators would be present when the ball was kicked off.

Michigan's supporters, distinguished by large yellow chrysanthemums and blue ribbon ties, occupied several sections on the north side of the field. The Wolverine band in blue uniforms with bright yellow linings led the cheering and singing to which the Harvard contingent across the field replied, each university cheering in turn for the other.

Capt. Brickley on Field

The Harvard squad came on the gridiron at 2:15. Two full eleven practiced punting, drop kicking and catching the ball while Capt. Brickley, in street clothes, followed the preliminary warm-up of his men from the center of the field. Both cheering squads gave the "varsity" yell for the Harvard leader, who three weeks ago today was operated on for appendicitis.

Michigan was first to run on the field. The players were greeted by demonstrative cheers from the blue and maize. Harvard followed a few minutes later. The opposing cheering stands cheered their own teams and then those of their antagonists.

Captain Raymond of Michigan and Acting Captain Trumbull of Harvard then shook hands and the coin was flipped for choice of sides.

Michigan won the toss and decided to take the west goal and the wind. Harvard had the kick-off.

FIRST PERIOD

Withington kicked off to Splawn on Michigan's ten yard line. The ball was run back 20 yards. A plunge through center gained four yards. Lyons added four more. Maulbetsch made a first down on Michigan's 45-yard line. Splawn was thrown with-out gain on a plunge into center. Maulbetsch squirmed through left tackle to Harvard's 48-yard line. Splawn made another first down on Harvard's 44 yard line. Hughitt lost a yard around right end and Maulbetsch could not gain. After 25 yards made in eight rushes, the Harvard defense stiffened against Michigan's plunges. Michigan kicked high to Harvard's 30-yard line, where the ball went to the crimson. On the first rush there was a Harvard fumble and the ball went to Michigan on Harvard's 10-yard line. On the next play, Michigan was penalized 15 yards for holding. Hughitt plunged through for four yards. This brought the ball to the middle of the field. On an off-side kick the ball went to Harvard on her 15-yard line. On the first rush, Harvard dashed around left end for six yards.

Frankie pointed to Hughitt on Michigan's 47 yard line. There the ball played. On the first rush Splawn lost five yards but Harvard was off side and lost five yards. Hughitt went through center for five yards. Maulbetsch dived through for a first down on Harvard's 33 yard line. Lyons made five more through right tackle. Hughitt added three more on a fake kick. On a drive into center Splawn carried the ball to the 23 yard line. It was another first down for Michigan. On the first play Michigan was off side and the ball went back to the 25 yard line. The Harvard line stiffened and Hughitt could not get in. Up to this point both sides had played old-fashioned football. Michigan doing most of the rushing. On a fake-forward pass Maulbetsch planted the ball on Harvard's 11 yard line. Two yards were then made at center. Maulbetsch carried it to Harvard's four yard line. It was the fourth down on Harvard's four yard line with two yards to gain. In the next rush Splawn was thrown for a loss. The ball went to Harvard on downs. On the next play Harvard was off-side and sent back to her one yard line. Harvard punted to Harvard's 42 yard line. Hughitt was thrown without gain. Score end of first period: Harvard 0; Michigan 0.

Summary of First Period
The play during the first period was entirely in Harvard's territory, except the initial kick-off. Using straight football tactics, Michigan twice came within striking distance of the Harvard line but lacked the scoring punch. The play was painfully slow by both teams. The Harvard line seemed unable to check Michigan's rushes and the Wolverine backs picked their openings with uncanny skill. Michigan made five first downs to none for Harvard. Each team punted twice and each team was penalized 20 yards.

SECOND PERIOD

At the outset of the second period Michigan was penalized 20 yards. Splawn then kicked to Harvard on Harvard's 15 yard line. The ball was run back 19 yards. On the first Harvard play Bradlee made three yards. Harvard then kicked to Hughitt on Michigan's 15 yard line. The ball was muffed but recovered. Splawn could not gain around right end. Maulbetsch made a yard through center. Splawn then kicked to the center of the field. The ball was run back five yards. On the first rush Bradlee made the ball through center. Harvard added three more. The ball was on Michigan's 36 yard line where Wallace was injured and the game delayed. Wallace recovered but was soon taken out, being replaced by Bradlee. Bradlee made a first down on Michigan's 30 yard line. Harvard was thrown for a loss of a yard. Another plunge at center was thrown back by Michigan. On a well executed forward pass Harvard kicked to the 10 yard line. Franco in a plunge through center took the ball to Michigan's nine yard line. It was third down with half a yard to gain. Franco made a first down on Michigan's seven yard line. Then he gathered in a yard more. On the next play Harvard ran through the Michigan team for the first score. There was no one near him and he practically walked over the line. Harvard kicked the goal. On resuming play Splawn kicked off over the Harvard goal line. It was Harvard's ball on the 20 yard line.

On a fake kick Harvard made nine yards, but Harvard lost five yards for offside play. The ball was on the crimson's 15-yard line. Harvard then made seven yards. Franco then kicked to Hughitt on Michigan's 27-yard line. The ball was muffed but recovered. On a fake forward pass Maulbetsch made eight yards. Michigan tried a forward pass, but Logan intercepted it on Harvard's 35-yard line. The Harvard ends were down the field and there was no runback. Hughitt made two yards into center. Maulbetsch dived through for six yards and made a first down on Michigan's 40-yard line. The Harvard line held firm on the next rush and there was no gain. Hughitt muffed a pass but recovered the ball. Splawn could not gain and it was fourth down with ten yards to gain. Splawn kicked out of bounds on Harvard's 22 yard line. Harvard lost a yard on a fake kick play. Franco pointed to the center of the field, where the ball went to Michigan. Maulbetsch on a wide spread formation made five yards through center. Harvard got the ball in the center of the field on a Michigan fumble.

Time was called as Harvard was starting a rush. Score end of second period: Harvard, 7; Michigan, 0.

Summary of Second Period

Harvard opened an aggressive attack at the beginning of the second period and with the wind at her back soon scored a touchdown and goal. The initial score of the game came in 11 rushes in which the crimson team by a clever exhibition of delayed passing and concealed ball tactics practically riddled the Michigan line. During the march up the field Harvard used one forward pass which, perfectly executed, gained a trifle over 20 yards. Aside from this one attempt at open football, the score was made by straight line rushes and end runs. The Wolverine team failed to show any advantage on defense as it did on its offensive operations during the first period. The Michigan ends were boxed and huge holes opened in the line between tackle and tackle. During the second period Harvard made three first downs to Michigan's one and, after scoring, fell back on defensive play, punting six times to Michigan's two. Each team used the forward pass once. Michigan's being intercepted by Logan while Harvard's was successful. Michigan lost 20 yards in penalties to Harvard's five.

THIRD PERIOD

There was no change on either team when they lined up for the third period. Splawn kicked off to Bradlee on Harvard's ten yard line. The ball was run back to the 35 yard line. Harvard's five.

wick made two yards through left tackle. Hardwick punted to Michigan's 20 yard line, where the ball was declared dead. On the first rush Lyons made two yards. Maulbetsch could not gain through left tackle. Splawn kicked to Bradlee on Harvard's 41 yard line. Hughitt tackling and there was no runback.

On a long run around left end Hardwick made a scant yard. Bradlee squirmed through for three yards. Franco kicked to Michigan's 30 yard line. The ball was again declared dead. Lyons made a half a yard into center. Another plunge into center by Lyons was without gain. Splawn kicked to Logan on Harvard's 25 yard line. The ball was run back 11 yards.

On a fake kick Bradlee made five yards. Hardwick could not gain on a plunge into center. Franco kicked but the ball was brought back. The ball went to Michigan on Harvard's 42 yard line for tripping following the punt. Lyons made a yard on a plunge at center. Four more were gained by Lyons. Maulbetsch went through for two yards more. It was fourth down with less than a yard to gain.

Maulbetsch made a first down on Harvard's 27 yard line. Lyons squirmed through but Michigan was penalized 15 yards for holding. Maulbetsch regained five yards. This put the ball on Harvard's 35 yard line. Bradlee was injured. He refused to leave the lineup and play was resumed. Maulbetsch made four yards. On a fake forward pass Maulbetsch was thrown back nine yards. Splawn then kicked over the Harvard goal line. Harvard began rushing from her 20 yard line. Franco kicked to the 47 yard line, where Maulbetsch was thrown without gain. Dunne took Denton's place. Maulbetsch struggled through for three yards. Maulbetsch could not gain through center. On the third down, Maulbetsch made first down by Harvard's 33 yard line. Maulbetsch crashed through left tackle for five yards.

Maulbetsch gathered four more yards and it was first down on Harvard's 27 yard line. Lyons could not gain. Much time was taken out for injuries. Maulbetsch made another five yards through center. Michigan stands began to yell "touchdown, Maulbetsch." Maulbetsch then made six more. It was Michigan's ball on the first down on Harvard's 16 yard line.

Maulbetsch once again carried it to the 11 yard line. Maulbetsch was winded at this point from a blow by the Harvard line. James took Stuart's place at end. Lyons made three yards, after which Maulbetsch bucked the line ineffectually. Michigan then made a fourth down on Harvard's six yard line. Michigan here lost the ball from a fumble by the Harvard line. Harvard, having escaped, Franco kicked to the center of the field. Hughitt made five yards through tackle.

Score end of third period: Harvard 7, Michigan 0.

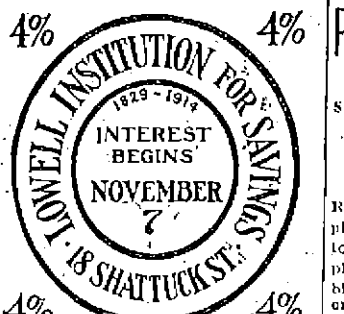

Summary of Third Period
During the third period the ball was almost entirely in the possession of the Michigan team, which with a consistent line attack again reached the Harvard five-yard line, only to lose the ball on downs; Maulbetsch virtually alone carrying the ball to the middle of the crimson's five-yard line. Michigan made four first downs to Harvard's none. Michigan punted three times to Harvard's four and neither team used the forward pass. Harvard lost the ball on a penalty and Michigan lost 15 yards under the same conditions.

FOURTH PERIOD

At the outset of the final period, Michigan was penalized 15 yards and then lost the ball in the center of the field on a fumble. Harvard could not gain an inch on rushing. Franco

ORDER ADVANCE OF ALLIES IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM

The Allies Gain Considerable Ground, Says French Report—Allies' Diplomatic Representatives to Leave Constantinople—Berlin Says Russia Started War With Turkey—Formal Protest to British Government From Washington

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The impression created here by the latest news is that a general advance of the allied forces in France and Belgium has been ordered so main interest again is centered in the campaign cover 30 or 40 miles from the seaboard.

The general trend of the movements of both the German and the allied armies is for the moment, according to both British and French official statements in a northerly and northeasterly direction, which is in accordance with the desire of the allied commanders, but that "Germany has resumed her hammer blows with greater energy than ever is attested by the British official information bureau.

then kicked out of bounds on Michigan's 30-yard line. On the first rush Trumbull was hurt.

Splawn kicked to Bradlee on Harvard's 30-yard line. There was no runback. Bradlee made six yards through center. Franco added two more.

Bradlee kicked to Michigan's 19 yard line where the ball was declared dead. Splawn kicked to Logan on the Harvard 45 yard line. The ball was run back to Michigan's 16 yard line. On a delayed pass Bradlee could not gain. Bradlee then made four yards.

At this point C. Coolidge replaced Smith. Harvard's right end, Hardwick threw a pretty forward pass to Coolidge on Michigan's 30-yard line. Bradlee could not gain at center.

Frankie ploughed into center for four yards. Harvard lost five yards for offside play. Hardwick, in attempting a forward pass was thrown back for a loss. Hardwick deliberately threw a forward pass outside of Michigan's eight yard line. The officials declared it an uncompleted forward pass and the ball went to Michigan on the 30-yard line. Splawn kicked to Harvard's 16-yard line. Hardwick made eight yards around right end.

Frankie went through a big hole in the center for 15 yards. Hardwick made a yard at center. Franco added three yards more, also through center. Hardwick kicked to Michigan's 15-yard line, but the ball bounded back to the 25-yard line. Michigan fumbled on the first play but recovered the ball. Splawn kicked to Hardwick, who fumbled but recovered and ran the ball back to Harvard's 23-yard line. Hardwick then placed it on the 35-yard line. Franco duplicated a former effort by going through center to Harvard's 43-yard line. Roehm replaced Watson. Roehm is a 260 pounder. Hardwick went into center for five yards. He immediately made two more outside tackles. The game ended here. Final score: Harvard 7, Michigan 0.

PRINCIPAL FEATURES OF TO-DAY'S WAR NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

The story of the European war was again slow in the telling today but such fragments of news as the censors permitted to pass indicated that along the North sea, the chief point of present concern for the nations involved, it was still a battle of give-and-take. Of immediate interest was a semi-official note from Rome indicating that Italy might take a more definite stand in the struggle. It is said that the island of Sazeno, commanding the harbor of Aviano, ownership of which has long been disputed by Greece and Italy, has been seized by Italian forces.

The French war office, in today's official statement, acknowledges that the fiercest German onslaught, shifted a few miles to the east and south from the coast, has met with success at points. Two towns south of Ypres, in Belgium, just north of the border, are mentioned by the French as having been captured by the Germans.

Further east, it is said, some ground has been won by the allies. Along the entire western front from the sea to Arras the Germans resumed a general offensive movement, following the slackening activity of the last few days but according to the French war office nothing has been accomplished on either side more than alternate movements of advance and retreat.

Further indefinite claims are made of gains at other points along the line which stretches south and east to the Swiss border. No word is spoken to confirm the unofficial statements of last night that the Germans had evacuated Ostend.

In the east the battle of millions continues without definite result. An Austrian report on the East Prussian front is defeated by the Russian embassy at Washington. The latest word from the Austrian government is that reverses have been suffered by the Russians at various points in Galicia.

Turkey's hostile acts against Russia may soon place her at war with all the allied powers. It was said at the state department in Washington today that diplomatic representatives of these powers were preparing to leave Constantinople.

The German point of the Russo-Turkish war is presented for the first time in a despatch from Berlin. Earlier

Hallowe'en Party

PROF. L. N. GUILBAULT

A delightful Halloween party was held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Hennessy in Pine street last evening and a most enjoyable evening was passed in characteristic Halloween fashion, everybody entering into the spirit of the occasion in a happy way. The guests present included most of the members of the choir of St. Margaret's church, who had been bidden to join in the festivities by Miss Katherine V. Hennessy, the talented soprano. As a hostess Miss Hennessy was capable, assisted as she was by her sisters, all members of the choir.

But the occasion, aside from its jollity and good cheer, had another significance for one of the guests, Prof. L. N. Guilbault, who was presented a gold watch. After a service of several years as organist and choir director, Mr. Louis Napoleon Guilbault resigned his position to accept a similar one in St. Jean Baptiste church, and it was to show some material appreciation of the ability of the young man that the choir members had gathered, presumably for the Halloween party, but principally for their former choir director, Mr. Guilbault, blissfully ignorant of the little surprise they had in store for him, contributed to the fun and the musical program.

The decorations in the beautiful and spacious home were very striking. Glimmering pumpkins, witchery witches in all their fantastic weirdness, were here and there placed about the rooms, the dining-room being particularly effective in its decorative effects. An orchestra composed of Miss Sadie Sullivan at the piano, Miss Lillian Sullivan, violinist, and Miss Grace McDevoy, cornetist, all members of the parish, contributed several stirring melodies including a few of the latest New York hits. Solos were rendered by Miss Vera Moody, Miss Katherine V. Hennessy, Lawrence DeFaney, John J. Murray, John J. McGlinchey, William P. Hennessy, while Prof. Guilbault gave a brace of selections on the piano that pleased immensely. Mr. John McGlinchey, the present organist at the church, contributed several delightful piano solos, while chorine singing of Ireland's favorite melodies proved a delightful feature of the entertainment. John Murray also favored with recitations.

At 10:30 o'clock all went to the dining room, where a dainty buffet luncheon was served, the favors at each plate being as grotesque as they were varied. After all had partaken of the good things, Rev. Charles J. Galligan, pastor of St. Margaret's, was called upon for remarks, and he responded briefly, yet interestingly. He paid a compliment to the work of the church choir which, he said, had been accomplished at the cost of much labor. The splendid showing of the choir on every occasion could not be possible without the painstaking work and musical knowledge of Prof. Guilbault, now removed from St. Margaret's. Fr. Galligan said that in a spirit of genuine appreciation of Prof. Guilbault's qualities as a man and as a musician, the choir members had authorized him to present to the retiring director a gold watch which he hoped the recipient would live to enjoy many years.

Prof. Guilbault, though completely surprised, made a fitting response, expressing his appreciation and gratitude. Remarks followed by Rev. Henry C. Reardon, curate at the church, and Rev. James F. Lynch of Brockton, formerly attached to the church. Cornelius F. Cahill, John J. Murray and James F. Hennessy. After the delightful informal speech-making the remainder of the evening was spent in the playing of Halloween games.

Hiduous grinning faces carved from pumpkin shells, lighted candles, bubbling apples and other Halloween institutions were the features of the Halloween party conducted by the employees of the J. L. Chalifoux store last night in the town hall, North Chelmsford.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, black and orange in the color scheme, with here and there a touch of greenery. The stage was set with greenery, potted plants and palms, and suspended in the centre was a large pumpkin, artistically cut in a grotesque figure, while streamers of orange and black adorned the side and back walls. Mr. Morton Walker, head window trimmer at the store, had charge of the decorations.

McMahon's concert orchestra opened the evening's festivities with several pleasing selections, after which ge-eral dancing was started and the witches, ghouls and other Halloween characters had a highly enjoyable time.

Shortly after 10 o'clock an intermission was declared, and the games were started, including ducking for apples, candle blowing competitions, arrow shooting for apples and peanut races, and these furnished a continuous round of merriment for all concerned. The winners in the various events were awarded suitable prizes, after which all repaired to the downstairs dining room where a sumptuous collection was served. This was due to the generosity of Mr. Harold Chalifoux and came as a most pleasant surprise.

Dancing was resumed at 11 o'clock and continued until midnight, and special cars carried the gathering back to the city.

Halloween in Church Vestry

A very enjoyable Halloween party was held at the French Baptist church vestry, in West Centralville last evening. Shortly after 8 o'clock the young folks assembled and were greeted individually by "much alive" ghosts with ice cold scripts. The ghosts were represented by the Misses Minnie Hammett, Louise Burke and Emma Desforges. A collection of games including "four bowls of fate and luck," "fate of the gobler," "peanut race," and other highly entertaining Halloween games were played. Refreshments and luncheon were also served.

The organists of the party were Mrs. Eugene Lott, Mrs. Andre Binette, Mrs. Mary Burke, Mrs. J. C. Ransom, Miss Emma Desforges and Miss Louise Burke.

In Odd Fellows Hall

Odd Fellows hall in Bridge street was the scene last evening of a Halloween party by the Young People's society of the Paige Street Baptist church. A goodly number of young people were in attendance and the program of the evening furnished one continuous round of merriment for all concerned. Among the games were doughnut contest, peanut races, candle-blowing competitions, bow and arrow shooting for apples and other amusing stunts, following which the winners were required to draw for prizes from an immense pie. Misses Stella Marshall and Blanche Libbey, as ghosts, added materially to the fun making. The committee in charge comprised the following: Irene Kittredge, chairman; Mrs. F. O. Dutton, Mrs. David Donaldson, Mrs. W. A. Chase, Belle T. Libbey, Carrie Melster, Stella Marshall, Hazel Mills, Ivan Small, Florence Knowlton, Vita Cogswell, Irma Gasper and Mary Oxner.

Annual Halloween Social

Members and friends of Chevalier-Middlesex lodge 2, Knights of Pythias, filled Highland hall last evening at the annual Halloween social and dance of the organization. Each male member present was supplied with a conucopia had suggestive of witches and wholly appropriate to the occasion. The music for the dances was furnished by Gray's orchestra, and until a late hour the floor was comfortably filled with couples. At 10:30 there was a brief intermission, during which light refreshments were served. The committee in charge of the dance included Elmer D. Robinson, chairman, Harry G. Jones and William H. Saunders.

Halloween Whist Party

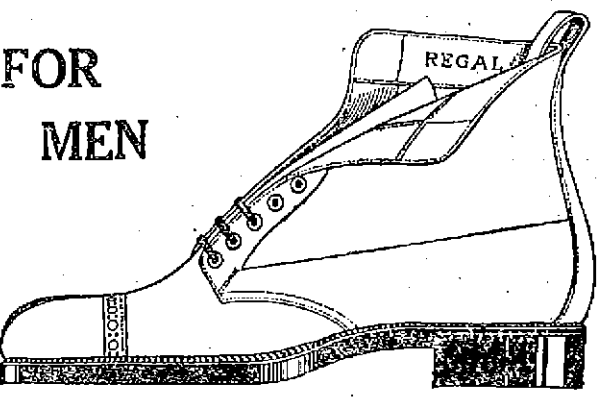

A whist party with Halloween settings was held last evening at the home of Dr. James P. Loughran, 455 High street, attended by about 20 members of the Thursday club of which Mrs. Loughran is a member. The various rooms had been transformed for the occasion into a bower of autumnal beauty. As the guests were received they passed between massed clusters of corn stalks, suggesting a room gorgeous with the foliage of late fall. Pumpkin faces peeped from odd corners and dozens of candles lent a soft and seasonable glow. The long parlors in which the whist was enjoyed were like a scene from elfland with great branches of oaks, birches and willow, golden pumpkins, jack-o-lanterns, and quaint corn stalks. The dining room was beautifully decorated with fruit, foliage and golden chrysanthemums, candles alternating with little twinkling lights in the lovely lighting scheme. Throughout, the effect was as artistic as it was suggestive of the spirit of Halloween.

Whist was enjoyed by the club from eight to 10:30, during which time there were several visitations from witches and ghosts. A peculiarly malignant witch distributed favors of black cats. The prize winners were Mrs. R. H. Clifford, Mrs. William McCarthy and Mrs. B. J. Callahan. Following the whist card playing a buffet luncheon was served, and the rest of the evening given over to Halloween games, dancing and an impromptu concert. The spirit of the occasion was, in keeping with the setting, all serving to make it a very memorable Halloween party indeed.

Enjoyable Whist Party

Fifteen tables were well filled with card players last evening at the whist party conducted in Russell hall under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Street Car men's union. The affair was the first of its kind ever given by the auxiliary and, as such, was wholly successful from every point of view. The play waxed merrily throughout the evening, resulting in the following winners:

Ladies: First, gold cuff links, scarf pin and tie holder, Mr. Quinlan; second, fountain pen, Mr. Sanger; third, pipe holder, Mr. Stuart; booby, Mr. Lowe.

Gentlemen: First, gold cuff links, scarf pin and tie holder, Mr. Quinlan; second, fountain pen, Mr. Sanger; third, pipe holder, Mr. Stuart; booby, Mr. Lowe.

Mrs. Laura Flannery and Mrs. Edward Welch had the active management of the affair in charge and deserve congratulations on its success. The master of ceremonies was Edward Welch.

THE RABBIT'S FOOT

BY GWEN SEARS

THE CARE OF THE TOE NAILS

So many women give to the nails of their hands the most diligent attention and yet they quite overlook any responsibility to their most patient servants—their feet. The care of the toe nails should be as important as the finger nails.

The nail of the great toe should be broad, flat and smooth, even as the nails of the thumb. It should not be too flat upon the flesh nor should it be too curved, for this latter condition tends to become exaggerated, so that the ends of the curve press deeper into the flesh.

A slight "half-moon" should be visible and it should be worn long enough to show a slight rim of white above the pink and the cuticle at its base should not be dry, and harsh, but soft, free of hangnails and rounding in an unbroken curve from one end to the other.

Surely none of this is a difficult

thing to accomplish. A little care once a week with a pair of curved nail scissors, a pair of cuticle scissors, a file, an emery board, an orange wood stick with a little bit of cotton to be used under the nail edge and the work is easily done.

The toe-nails should be cut a little square rather than round, the nail of the large toe cut rather shorter in the middle than at the sides. A little bleaching solution, a little healing cream, a little polishing powder and presto. The nails, which appeared dull and unlovely look perfectly pink and shining and will repay their owner for the time spent upon them.

Such nails will not wear holes in silk stockings, as rough, uncared for nails often do. This fact alone should serve to recommend the matter to the girl who likes to wear silken hose which adds so much to her appearance.

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

Kasota, Minn.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia

E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable

Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maple-crest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy we know for women's ills. If you need such a medicine why don't you try it?

SEVEN CARNEGIE MEDALS COME TO NEW ENGLAND

Carnegie Hero Commission Recognizes 69 Acts of Heroism—13 Heroes Lost Their Lives—Six Heroines in Honor List

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—The Carnegie Hero commission recognized 69 acts of heroism here yesterday. In 15 cases silver medals were awarded, in 14 cases bronze medals. There were 13 heroes who lost their lives, and to the dependents of three of these persons aggregating $1859 a year were granted. To the dependents of seven, sums totaling $4750 are to be applied, subject to the direction of the commission.

In one case, disbursement of $1100 and a pension of $50 a month were granted. In addition to these money grants, in 12 cases, sums aggregating $21,000 were appropriated for educational purposes, payments to be made as needed and approved.

In 41 cases awards aggregating $41,000 were made to be applied toward the purchase of homes and to other worthy purposes. Payments in these cases will not be made until the beneficiaries' plans for the use of the award have been approved by the commission.

March 25 and 26, 1913, produced 21 heroes in the great Ohio flood. There are six heroines in the list and the total of these rewards to date now numbers nearly 1000.

New England Heroes

The heroes of New England who were rewarded are:

Ferdinand P. Clifford, Northport, Me., a bronze medal. He was a barber, aged 45, who died attempting to save John W. Coombs, aged 8, from drowning on August 10, 1912. Coombs fell 15 feet from a pier and was carried out by the tide.

Clifford, who was not physically sound, jumped overboard, and swam 50 feet to Coombs, grasped the boy when he was going down and pulled him to the surface. Coombs soon sank and was drowned, Clifford grasped the surface a few seconds later and drowning.

Margaret F. Guy, 54 H street, South Boston, bronze medal. Miss Guy, aged 16, a saleswoman, helped to save Arthur L. Powers, aged 12, a student, from drowning at Weymouth, Mass., August 8, 1912. Powers was seized with cramps while bathing in Boston bay, 50 feet from shore, where the water was nine feet deep.

Miss Guy swam to him and he grabbed her. Miss Guy was pushed beneath the surface and when her feet touched the bottom she walked towards the shore. She then walked 8 or 10 feet, T. Henry Harrison, aged 14, came to her assistance. Miss Guy was helped to shore in an exhausted condition, but was revived. Young Harrison, of 25 Parsons street, Brighton, Mass., received a bronze medal.

Stranger Tried to Save

George H. J. Collins, deceased, 427 Main street, Gloucester, Mass., silver medal to father. Collins, aged 15, a laborer, died attempting to save E. Edward Johnson, aged 34, a shoe cutter, from drowning at Gloucester, July 10, 1914.

Johnson was swept from a flat rock while fishing. The waves urged him back from a strong suction and a heavy undertow and conditions were exceptionally dangerous. Johnson's companions did not offer to go to the rescue.

Collins, a stranger, immediately took off his shoes and swam 35 feet to the drowning man and grasped him and attempted to swim ashore with him, but the task was too difficult. The end of a rope was thrown toward Collins, but it fell short, and before it could be thrown again he sank and was drowned. Johnson also was drowned.

Henry T. O'Donnell, 13 Vano street, Revere, Mass., silver medal. O'Donnell, aged 11, a schoolboy, attempted to save H. Blanchard Whitworth, aged 12, from drowning at Revere, Jan. 15, 1912. Whitworth and O'Donnell were skating on an abandoned egg pit and Whitworth broke through in water eight feet deep, twenty feet from the nearest bank. O'Donnell, who was not of robust build and his left arm was atrophied, got a hockey stick and walked to a point about five feet from Whitworth and extended the stick to him. As the latter grasped the stick the ice broke and O'Donnell went into the water also. He could not swim, but he kicked and beat the water until he was rescued by some men. Whitworth was drowned.

Fall River Hero

Thomas E. McNulty, 107 Danforth street, Fall River, Mass., bronze medal. McNulty, aged 28, a painter, saved Jesse Freitas, aged 16, a mill hand, and Joseph Fragozo, aged 15, a clerk, from drowning at Fall River on Jan. 21, 1912.

Freitas and Fragozo broke through the ice on Mt. Hope bay at a point 150 feet from shore, where the water was more than 30 feet deep. McNulty ran across the ice toward them from a point 500 feet from the hole. When he had gone 150 feet, the ice broke but he threw himself forward and went into the water only to his waist. He climbed up on the ice and continued to the hole.

Freitas had climbed up until the upper part of his body rested on the ice. McNulty took off his coat, lay on the ice and cast the coat toward Freitas and the latter grasped a sleeve. McNulty pulled him out of the hole and Freitas ran to shore.

McNulty then worked his way a little closer to the hole and cast his coat toward Fragozo, who grasped the coat and was pulled up on the ice, which broke and he fell back into the water, jerking the coat out of McNulty's grasp. The latter immediately jumped into the water, as he feared the current would carry the boy under the ice.

When Fragozo came to the surface the boy grabbed McNulty by the collar and held on tightly. They struggled for a moment before the rescuer broke Fragozo's hold. Other men pushed a boat into the hole and they were saved.

Rescue in the Sound

John H. Paul, Borden Flats Light-house, Fall River, Mass., bronze medal. Paul, aged 37, assistant light-house keeper, helped to save three men from drowning off Fort Jefferson, N. Y., on August 18, 1911.

The men August H. Brunner, William J. Moffett and Joseph H. Thiele, were in a sailboat that was upset in a squall on Long Island sound, about three miles from Stratford Shoal Lighthouse. They succeeded in grasping the boat.

Nicholas Sarro of Skopelos, Greece, a high school student, saved their plight and with Paul, launched a rescue boat, 15 feet long, going to the distressed men. While maneuvering, their rudder broke, but they succeeded in reaching the men and all got ashore as darkness came on. Sarro also got a bronze medal.

SEIZE AMERICAN PORTS

COL. ROOSEVELT SAYS HE HAS SEEN PLANS FOR TWO EMPIRES LAID WITH THAT END IN VIEW

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 31.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt told the students at Princeton yesterday that he had seen the plans of two empires to capture great American seaports.

"It is this country's duty," said Col. Roosevelt, "to prevent such a thing. If they are invaded, I, myself, have seen the plans of at least two empires now involved in war to capture our great cities and hold them for ransom because our standing army is too weak to protect them."

"I have seen deliberate plans prepared to take both San Francisco and New York and hold them for ransom which would cripple our country and give funds to the enemy for carrying on war."

ANTI-LOMASNEY CHARGES PAID

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—The board of election commissioners last night dismissed the charge of bias and refusal to perform their sworn obligations which the "Anti-Lomasney" faction of ward 5, proffered against Henry R. Gray and Hammond T. Fletcher, election wardens in the West End ward.

The charges against Fletcher collapsed as the result of the failure of Michael J. Flynn, mayor of the "Anti-Lomasney" ward 5, who was claimed to be in possession of all of the information upon which the charges were based, to appear at the hearings.

RECEIVER FOR PAPER COMPANY

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 31.—Theodore W. Law of Portsmouth, N. H., was appointed receiver of the Colonial Paper Co. by Judge Hule in the federal district court today.

The appointment of a receiver was in response to the petition of the Old Colony Trust Co. of Boston, which instituted foreclosure proceedings in consequence of the alleged default of interest payments on a bond issue of $1,500,000 made in March, 1910.

HARRY G. POLLARD HONORED

CONVENTION TO NAME PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT

Decree Adopted at the Carranza-Zapata-Villa Conference Eliminates Gen. Carranza and Gen. Villa From Power in Mexico

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 31.—General Carranza as head of the constitutional government, and General Villa were eliminated from power by a decree adopted late yesterday at the Carranza-Zapata-Villa peace conference at Aguas Calientes. This was learned here last night from a message sent to the Associated Press by the publicity agent of the convention.

According to the terms adopted, the message said the provisional president will be named later by the convention. The complaints of the Zapata element in southern Mexico will be taken up with this new executive.

TWO DEPUTY SHERIFFS NO TRIAL PLANS

Bernard F. Gately and Martin Conway Named by Sheriff John C. Fairbairn

Bernard F. Gately of this city and Martin Conway of Billerica have been appointed deputy sheriffs by Sheriff John C. Fairbairn. These appointments were announced in The Sun last evening. The Sun some days ago learned from Sheriff Fairbairn that Mr. Gately would succeed the late Martin J. Courtney, but the sheriff did not mention Mr. Conway's appointment at that time. Both appointments will meet with general favor as the appointees are very capable men and experienced in the work connected with the office of deputy sheriff.

Mr. Gately has been a sheriff in Lowell for the past 20 years, and Sheriff Fairbairn said he appointed him because of his general experience in court work. The rapidly increasing court business in North Middlesex county demanded the appointment of a second man as deputy sheriff and when Sheriff Fairbairn looked the territory over he picked upon Mr. Conway as the man best fitted for the position.

Mr. Conway had lots of experience in court work and in splendidly equipped for the office of deputy sheriff.

There were 33 candidates for the position and they had many friends to assist them. Sheriff Fairbairn received recommendations galore, but in the final analysis he used his own best judgment in selecting his men.

When it appeared in The Sun last night that Messrs. Gately and Conway had been appointed, both men received many congratulations upon their success. Speaking of his appointment, Sheriff Gately said:

"I am deeply grateful to Sheriff Fairbairn for my appointment as deputy sheriff. I consider the appointment an honor and I will endeavor to fill the office to the best of my ability. I am familiar with the work connected with the office of deputy sheriff and because of that fact I will feel very much at home. I also desire to thank the many friends who saw the sheriff personally and who wrote to him in my behalf, and I want to express my appreciation toward those who visited the sheriff in the interest of our candidates, because they were clean and above board. There was no knocking."

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

MARIE ON TAKING OUT STAINS

"It costs a small fortune to always have a tailor take the stains and spots out of my gowns," said Marie disconsolately. "I wonder if I might not learn to do it myself in most cases."

"Surely you can," answered Marie reassuringly. "I will be glad to give you the benefit of my experience. In the first place whether the cloth is wool, silk or cotton, whether it is white or colored, the first thing you must consider is what is the stain? If it is a saffron stain, a saffron mixture such as saffron, punches, etc., it will probably be sticky, when moist, and if dry, it will be glazed and stiff, and the goods will be more or less translucent."

"If it is a greasy stain, there may be an odor of the grease, and the stain will be more nearly transparent. A greasy stain sinks into the fibre, while a saffron stain stays on the surface."

"Albuminous stains, like egg, will usually lie on the surface of the goods, like a coating, and it will be found that a great part of it can be scratched or rubbed off. This, to a certain extent is true of the sugar stains. The fact that albumen and sugar stains do not sink into the fibre makes them more easily removed."

"Water spots are the least serious as they can be steamed out of most fibers."

"Plain sugar stains will dissolve in water, warm water dissolving faster

Steamer Rohilla, With 200 Abandoned, Ran on Rocks Near Wherry During Violent Southeast Gale and Rainstorm

LONDON, Oct. 31.—It is believed that at least 100 persons have perished through the running on the rocks yesterday near Wherry of the steamer Rohilla, which was being used as a hospital ship. Including the hospital unit and her crew, about 200 persons were on board the vessel.

A despatch to the Evening News from Wherry late yesterday said that the ship had broken in two and her stern gone down. The lifesavers shot a line across the floating forward part of the Rohilla, but communication between it and the shore could not be established.

The Rohilla was bound from Queen's ferry to Belgium, to bring back wounded from France. She ran on the rocks half a mile south of Wherry, 17 miles northwest of Scarborough, at 4 yesterday morning in a violent southeasterly gale with rainstorm.

The vessel carried four nurses and several doctors and full hospital equipment. All the women on board have been saved. Every one of her boats, except the last one launched was smashed by the seas and washed ashore. The remaining boats were swamped near shore and the people in it waited to safety.

Lifesboats with extreme difficulty brought ashore two loads of the vessel's passengers, after which further attempts at rescue with the boats were abandoned.

The home was tastefully arranged for the occasion and a pleasant evening was spent by all present. A dainty luncheon was served and a musical program was enjoyed.

FUNERAL OF ADMIRAL WINSLOW

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—The funeral of Rear Admiral Herbert Winslow, U. S. N., retired, was held from Emanuel church yesterday. Rev. Edward Wareham, D. D., rector of the parish, officiated. Delegations of Naval Veterans and the Charlestown navy yard attended the service. Burial was at Forest Hills.

CRUSHED BY ELEVATOR

FIREMEN RELEASE BODY OF MARGARET GRADY BY CHOPPING AWAY WOOD WORK

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—Margaret Grady, 15 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Grady of 25 Carter street, was crushed to death early yesterday morning in the elevator at 233 Boylston street, where she was employed by Miss Minnie Rouse, maker of bows.

The Grady girl went to the building yesterday morning at 7:45 o'clock to open up the office. She walked to the elevator, which starts on the second floor and self-operating.

In some unknown manner the girl was caught between the car and the wall as she started the elevator. The body was discovered by Frank Hauser and a call was sent to the house of 155. The woodwork had to be chopped away to release the body. When the body was freed by the firemen it was removed to the City hospital morgue.

CALVARY BAPTIST ANNIVERSARY

At the Calvary Baptist church tomorrow, the fifth anniversary of the dedication of the church edifice will be observed. The pastor will preach a sermon on the subject "One Duty." Special music will be furnished by the church choir.

Not Economical, but Efficient

Mr. Goldstein said in part: "The school in helping us to reshape our social life will call our attention to the fact that the fundamental laws of social development are not economic, but ethical. The economic laws have too long been held as the organic law of a gregarious man. It is the doctrine of the economic surplus enshrined in the temples of Europe to which the manhood of the countries at war is sacrificed today."

HAPPY HALLOWEEN GATHERING

The Pinehurst cottage at Kenwood was the scene of a happy gathering last night when a Halloween party was conducted by Miss Ethel Hayes of Pawtucketville. The attendance was large and the decorations were handsome. Vocal and instrumental selections were given and the guests were distributed favors. Luncheon was served and the party broke up at a seasonable hour.

FIRE ON MOODY STREET

A brisk blaze on the third story of a tenement block at 417 Moody street necessitated an alarm from box 118 at 8:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The fire was caused by an overheated stove and had worked into the partitions so it was necessary for the firemen to rip out a part of the woodwork in order to put out the blaze. The property is owned by George Boulokas.

terms at the state house as representative and senator, which is certainly going some for a democrat in a republican neighborhood. Mr. McCarthy for 12 years was a newspaperman, but as "Bill" Powers would remark he can live that down by an exemplary life henceforth. He has studied law and engaged in business, meeting with success. Lowell has one strong reason for looking kindly upon Senator McCarthy's candidacy and is the fact that while in the legislature he collaborated with former Senator Barlow in putting through the celebrated corporation tax bill so-called as a result of which the city of Lowell has received in the vicinity of over $100,000 annually in corporation taxes that formerly it did not receive. Messrs. McCarthy and Barlow each introduced a bill somewhat different in scope but aiming at the same laudable end. Realizing that the two bills might result in the defeat of both, they got together, though on different sides of the political fence, and framed up the bill which subsequently became law and which won a great financial help to the city of Lowell. Senator McCarthy has made a careful study of county affairs and is prepared to eliminate the extravagant methods of the present administration that have kept the county tax rate so high for many years.

Times certainly have changed when one hears the governor of the commonwealth and a member of congress making non-day speeches at the mill gates. But then, the presidents of the United States think nothing of days of making speeches from the tail-end of trains at the different depots.

to come the public should not imagine for a moment that the service at the ambulance is not what it should be, for such is not the case. The ambulance service at the present time is as prompt and as efficient as horse-power and the eternal vigilance of the men in the stable can make it and there is nothing in New England to excel it. There is another feature about it since it came under the supervision of Dr. Sparks, to which the writer can personally testify and that is the efficiency of the ambulance drivers on giving first aid to the injured. They don't wait for the arrival of the ambulance surgeon and they know how to do the right thing at the right time. While we continue to have the horse-drawn ambulance the public may rest assured that they are getting the best under the circumstances.

Editorial Familiarity
Last year the editor of the Courier-Citizen was very well acquainted with Hon. David I. Walsh and hence always referred to him as "David Ignatius" Walsh. This year, however, the editor has become familiar with him and now calls him plain "Dave" Walsh. Next year, sad though it may be, he'll be calling him "Governor" Walsh.

The Mayor Negligent
This tempest in a teapot aroused by Candidate McCarthy and Congressman Rogers, as to whether the congressional vote for an appropriation for the protection of children along the canal banks while a member of the common council has disclosed the fact that most of the equipment for life-saving placed at different danger spots along the river and canal banks, such as ladders, ropes and the life-preservers, has long since disappeared, having been stolen by vandals, and that while Mayor Murphy was made aware of the fact as far back as last March apparently he ignored the communication sent him, and has done nothing to restore the apparatus.

The communication was written by Harry W. J. Howe and addressed to Mayor Murphy. After referring to the great number of drownings in the local canals and the appropriation of several hundred dollars to provide ladders, ropes, poles and other life-saving apparatus, the letter has this significant statement:

"I have observed that the life-saving equipment placed along the banks three years ago has not been kept intact, and that the equipment, and a complete outfit of ropes, ladders, etc., be installed where a part or all has been removed. It is the duty of the police department to require its officers on duty to inspect this apparatus from time to time, as is the custom along the banks of the Charles and other places. If that were done, the life-saving equipment could always be found in readiness for emergency. I am sure you will appreciate the importance of official action in this matter in behalf of the people of Lowell."

The original outfit cost the small sum of $200 and it is known that within a short time after its installation three lives were saved by its means, demonstrating the value of the investment. It will cost less than $200 to put back what has been taken away, but as yet nothing has been done and probably will not be until another drowning shall occur that might have been averted, when public opinion will get wrathful and insist upon the restoration of this valuable equipment. Among the children whose lives were lost by drowning in the waterways of Lowell during the present year were: Frank J. Carleton, 12, Clark's corner, Concord river; Marion Andrews, aged 4, Hawk's brook; Thomas Chinn, aged 5, Hawk's brook; Geo. J. Brown, aged 8, Merrimack river; Lakeview avenue; Antoine Corneille, aged 12, Pawtucket canal; Edward Murphy, aged 12, Pawtucket canal; John Hennessey, aged 7, Suffolk canal. It is not reasonable to say that by neglecting to keep up this equipment somebody at city hall is responsible for the drownings that would be prevented by the apparatus which was stolen?

Supt. Farrington Got His

That terrible noise at the corner of Westford and Canal streets, a few days ago, was not a discussion of the European war, but merely Commissioner Morse railing at Supt. Farrington of the New State railway what he thought of the company's dilatory tactics in relaying its rails, where the street is being repaved. Supt. Farrington put up a game defense, but had to take the count at the finish.

Senator McCarthy in Town

If Senator Charles F. McCarthy of Marlboro, the democratic candidate for county commissioner, did not appear in Lowell until last week it was not because he looked lightly upon the strength of this section, but because Middlesex county is an immense territory and he toured the other parts of it early in the campaign reserving Lowell for the closing days. Everywhere he has been he has made a most favorable impression and he is expected to get a most flattering vote in this city. The best evidence of Senator McCarthy's ability and popularity is a consideration of how he has fared in public life among his neighbors, who have known him since childhood. Though a democrat and residing all his life in a strongly republican district, he has served seven litical effect, they are apt to stir up feelings of which they have no conception at the time. The speech of Congressman Gardner was a case in point, and the following little cutting from the Fall River Globe illustrates the idea still more strongly:

New York World: No foreign nation wants us to go to war. We can only be dragged into it by the hysterical folly of our own citizens in and out of office.—Ex-Gov. Gould of Massachusetts.

We do not at this writing recall anything much more hysterical than the speech of Mr. Gould, who is the Wilson administration is "pushing us into the danger zone of international conflict"—Fall River Globe.

The resignation of Prince Louis of Battenberg, first lord of the British admiralty because of a feeling against him, owing to his family connections with Germany, indicate the strained feelings that obtain owing to the war. As many of the noble families of Europe have intermarried, there are notable relationships running through all the strata of political life in Germany, France, England and Russia. The case of the kaiser, czar and king is an example.

Becky Edelson, the famous I. W. W. leader, has just been acquitted in Tarrytown, N. Y., on a charge of speaking without a permit, having picked her own jury and acted as her own lawyer. As Becky is fair to the eye and as she picked her jury with care it is not difficult to understand the outcome. It is difficult to find a good looking woman guilty of anything in American courts.

A young boy is dying in Cambridge as the result of having been stabbed by a man who lay in wait for him. The police think that the man was a foreigner who had been taunted into a frenzy by street urchins and took vengeance on the first lad that came along—on an innocent one in this instance. There is a lesson in this that Lowell stands in need of.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

AS TO TURKEY

That Turkey can do something to make peace is a fact that is not being made plain just now. The Balkan states that allowed the marching of Turkish troops across their territory would become parties to the conflict. The Balkan states, Greece, Rumania, Bulgaria, Serbia, and so on, are all against Turkey. Nor can they afford to take the names of England and France.

If Turkey comes into the contest, one of the first things to be expected is the outbreak of a Balkan war. The French and English, the allies of the Turkish troops on Egypt would mean the bringing of troops from India to Egypt.—Lewiston Sun.

NATIONAL ENEMIES

In England they are considering the elimination of all the songs that have a German origin and which have been adopted and placed in the hymnal of the English church. This seems to be the latest thing in the line of the "anti-German" feeling.

WARM WATER COMING

This has been a fall of remarkable ups and downs of the thermometer and it is not at all surprising, therefore, that a warm wave is coming from the west. It is still four weeks to Thanksgiving and there may be expected much comfortable weather before that time.—Pittsburg Sentinel.

RAILROAD RATE CASE

In a day or two now we may expect that a decision in the railroad rate case will be announced. The roads have contended, and with truth, that an emergency is impending, and that the rate of interest on the bonds of the roads is too high and that the American carriers, to get any of the capital remaining, must make interest rate attractive. But if a rate is set, the roads will be equally scarce for the manufacturer, the jobber, the merchant and the builder. What affects one affects all.—Providence Tribune.

THE EMDEN

And now comes a tale of the German Emden's sinking a Russian cruiser and a French destroyer after advancing into the Red Sea and capturing the interesting sight of the war ship. The Emden and Karlsruhe, steaming about the Red Sea, are making a name for themselves in the Red Sea. The Emden is making a name for herself in the Red Sea. The Emden is making a name for herself in the Red Sea.

COMMUNICATIONS

Oct. 30, 1914.
To the Editor of Lowell Sun:
Dear Sir: Why is the mayor at this time trotting out figures on the work of the city department? He has been appointed the political guardian of Commissioner Morse? Why not let Commissioner Morse, in one of his eloquent addresses, say something about the street and sewer departments.
For one I would like to know what has been done about sidewalks this year. I was surprised to find that for purpose but it anyone would like a list of broken sidewalks which have not been touched I will send them to the Sun or Commissioner Morse.
Mr. Morse is paid $2500 a year for taking care of the street and sewer departments. Again I asked why is the mayor trotting out figures on the work of the city department? Why not let Commissioner Morse, in one of his eloquent addresses, say something about the street and sewer departments.

That Germany is backing the Turkish stand financially and morally is almost certain, probably with a full realization of the outcome. From day to day the world will now look for a repetition of the outbreaks that devastated the Balkan belt a year or so ago. Then practically all of the lesser powers of that region were arrayed against Turkey, but later complications and quarrels over the spoils make it difficult to predict the effect of Turkey's action.

It has been predicted for some time that Turkey's implication in the war would drag in Greece. This would lead to similar action on the part of Bulgaria and Rumania. Italy has hitherto refrained from taking part though it is bound by treaty to Germany and though the opinion of the Italian public favors action against Austria. With the well known troubles in Albania and the Balkan belt, Italy would regard with suspicion any warlike action by Greece. Italy would, therefore, be torn between two impulses, each pulling her in different directions. Can it be that Germany has this end in view in urging Turkey to enter the fray. The world will watch southern Europe for some days anxiously for things may happen there any moment which would make the terrible war still more sanguinary and more complex.

VOTE AND VOTE RIGHT

The day of the state elections draws near. Next Tuesday, November 3, you will be called by duty to go to the polling booths and to vote for the candidates whom you choose to handle the affairs of Massachusetts for the coming year. The representatives of three great parties appeal for your support. Your state appeals still more strongly. You will be neglecting a solemn obligation if you neglect the call and refrain from voting.

It is most important that you choose the right men to fill the high state offices, but still more important is it that you assert your privilege as a citizen. If by some mischance you were forbidden to vote even for one year, what a howl of indignation would go up. Yet, you know men who are so indifferent to their privilege and their duty that they will not turn out on election day to put a cross on a ballot. Whether you vote as a democrat, a republican, or a progressive or a prohibitionist or anything else, vote anyway.

Incidentally it is most important for Massachusetts and yourself that you vote right. You can do this by voting the democratic ticket which advances men who have already achieved notable things. Your president has steered this country through critical channels; in times of war he has preserved us in peace; he has been a great and prudent chief executive and he has the approval of the entire country. He appeals to you to vote for the democrats of Massachusetts who aspire to office next Tuesday. In this way you can give him practical support and show your appreciation of his service. Governor Walsh, also, shows an open and honorable record. Vote for him next Tuesday and for the entire democratic ticket.

AS TO "SLATES"

Though it is yet early in the municipal campaign and though most of the candidates have done little to bring their qualifications and views before the public, reference to various slates is already being made. In a quiet unassuming way one is told in one quarter that a certain pair are sure to be elected and that they are the men to support, and in a different section another selection is boasted. At this stage of the game such a race is futile and such slates are to be discouraged. They do not conduce to the best selection for municipal offices, because they are usually formed in political strategy without any regard for the personal fitness of the applicants to office. Coming on to election the man on the street may be able to tell who has the best chance, but most predictions of the present are baseless. Occasionally one finds a candidate who actively exploits a slate, hoping thereby to creep in under the shadow of a stronger man. Such action by a candidate deserves condemnation, but if the public persists in making slates, the candidates should not be held entirely responsible. Slate-making at its best is indicative of cheap and undesirable municipal politics.

ASSAILING GOV. WALSH

The slight and generally silly arguments being used so perseveringly by some republican papers against the candidacy of Gov. David I. Walsh are contradictory and mainly nonsensical. Carefully worded so as to avoid palpable pitfalls, the wavering and wobbly arguments may be summed up into one line, viz: "We don't want 'Dave' Walsh because 'we don't!' Splendidly patronizing. Indeed, is the admission—made after each adverse insinuation—that he is a very estimable fellow personally, that he has 'sought to do his level best,' that he 'isn't the worst governor that ever happened,' and so on. Yet so very undesirable is this same governor considered that the hide-bound republican sheets clamor for his defeat on political lines and for political reasons alone.

TRENTON WATER FILTER

The city of Trenton, N. J., which has a population practically the same as ours has had an almost similar water problem for many years. After many experiments the public water supply was finally drawn from the Delaware river, other sources having proved inadequate and unsatisfactory. For fifteen years the improvement of this supply has been a much-agitated question and many Trenton people advocated a driven well system, such as we use mainly, but after a careful study by engineers, the quantity and the quality of the ground water was declared unsatisfactory, and accordingly Trenton set out to use the water of the Delaware river. The improvement of the river water was the next important agitation, and after fifteen years of discussion and controversy a New York firm was requested to design a filter plant in 1912. This plant is now practically completed.

The main reason advanced by the engineers for abandoning the idea of using water from wells was that the only available supply could be secured from a region where the soil is impregnated with iron in large quantities. The water from this source would be hard, contain iron and would be produced at greater cost than even the filtered water from the river. This has a local significance when it is remembered that some Lowell citizens declared that our wells were drying up, that the supply was deteriorating in quality as in quantity and that the only satisfactory solution of the Lowell water problem is the filtration of the Merrimack river water—a scheme similar to that being tried at Trenton.

Another point in connection with the Trenton matter deserves local attention. The water of the Delaware has been declared soft and generally excellent "from a physical and chemical point of view." Still, the typhoid death rate for several years past proves that there was need of some remedial measures, possibly the filtration plant about to be opened. The average death rate from typhoid for the ten years ending in 1900 was 28, while for 1908, 1909 and 1910 it was 54, 36 and 53 respectively for the population of 103,000. In 1911 the use of hypochlorite was adopted and was partially effective, but the unfiltered water is declared very unsatisfactory "especially in appearance"—another point that carries out the Lowell parallel.

The plant—which is described in detail in the issue of the Municipal Journal for October 22—consists of "two covered sedimentation basins, sixteen filters, a clear water basin, a low-lift pumping plant, a head house, conduits and complete filter equipment." The plant is designed for a capacity of 30,000,000 gallons per day and arranged for an extension of 45 million gallons per day when required. In 1911 Trenton was using over 20,000,000 gallons a day, the highest supply for one day being 31,400,000 gallons. The cost of the filtration scheme is not mentioned. The Trenton filter is for river water, that of Lowell for the elimination of mineral ingredients from the water. The Lowell filter would be of practically no use for the purification of river water.

It must not be forgotten that filter plants whether in Trenton or in Lowell are largely experimental. Their effect is governed by the problem to be solved and by local conditions. It will not do to depend on them unquestionably. In a paper read recently before the American Society of Municipal Improvements, by an expert in water questions, the following statement was made: "It is often taken as a matter of course that a water filter of either the rapid or the slow sand type will make pure in all its properties and absolutely satisfactory for all drinking purposes any water, no matter how impure or turbid. It is unfortunately true that such perfection of operation cannot at all times and places be depended on." Remembering this, Lowell will await the effects of the boulevard experiment with interest, and will also wish to hear from the Trenton scheme, as the failure of the local project would be used by some as an argument for filtered river water.

WALSH VS. McCALL

A few newspapers of Massachusetts—including our neighbor, the Courier-Citizen—have singled out McCall as being in various ways the superior of Governor Walsh and have, therefore, disregarded fairness, consistency, justice and truth to make the unknown quantity seem more attractive to the voters of the commonwealth than he who has served them for one year faithfully and well. Should the voters heed such insidious advice they would be guilty of a blunder they would in all probability keenly regret, for, as the two eminent men come before us at this time, there is not one sound or logical reason why we should discard Governor Walsh for a man whose reputation has been gained by theoretical perfection. Governor Walsh, we know, as chief executive, and all fair-minded men will admit that he has come up to the high standard set by his predecessors.

Why, then, should Massachusetts reverse her traditional policy of dealing with her governors? It has been the custom to re-elect to office a governor who has served with a good record for one year. This governor Walsh has done, though the petty critics may rail and splutter and hide their personal dislike of him under all varieties of pretended public zeal. In spite of a republican legislature he has been successful in advancing many laws in the interest of economy, efficiency and human betterment. He has been reasonably non-partisan in his appointments. He has been resourceful and courageous, refusing to be controlled by the Boston democracy or any other group of politicians. He has been the governor of all the people in its fullest sense, and it is to the masses of the people he appeals for the re-election which he deserves and which he will receive.

Our neighbor pays a great many compliments to Mr. McCall at the expense of Governor Walsh, though if Mr. Walsh were a republican and not half as good a man as he is, it would in all probability hail him as one of the greatest executives Massachusetts ever had. As an example of its inconsistent criticism may be mentioned an editorial of Wednesday last which

Witches the welkin a winging,
Elms the door bells a ringing,
Hobgoblins that cannot be seen,
Pellets at windows a flinging,
Tackles to window panes clinging—
And this is the gay Halloween.

After the first star has winked a Halloween greeting to this wrinkled world at sunset, the boys and girls and all the young people throughout the country will duck for the apple and, with laughter and joy, indulge in all the rites which since the days of the Druids have preceded the opening of the drear month of November.

How the tubs will be dragged forth from the cellars, how they will be fitted to the brim, and how many a toasted head and sputtering mouth will vainly descend among the submerged apples, and more hastily ascend. Resounding will be the pounding of hammers against hickories, vigorous will be the crunching of butterkins between the unrelenting jaws. Rivers of elder mountains of apples, bakeries full of doughnuts will furnish fuel to fan the enjoyment to greater and greater heights. Deep, too, will be the delving by all maids true in their belief in the lore of the Druids. For when has a Halloween party ever been held during the last thousand years or so where they have not with mock gravity gazed into the mirror, dipped their fingers in water or carried out to the minutest detail the instructions in these mysterious ceremonies that from generation to generation have come to make Halloween one of the jolliest of all the festivals throughout the year.

Although the girls enter into the delights of the evening with the keenest of pleasure, it is to the toddlers that Halloween is invested with the most thrilling excitement. Do not witches, outside the most astounding brooms conceivable, scour the country bent on snatching up and conveying to the clouds every little boy and girl who pokes a shaky head without doors after dark? And are not will-o'-the-wisps and fairies and sprites of every shape hovering in the air ready to pounce upon them? Surely, Halloween furnishes the youngsters with a delight that aptly may be termed dreadful.

But will it be only the children among us who will wish for the first glimpse of the pale moon with trepidation? Who knows that, with all our much vaunted enlightenment, there does not linger in many of us a speck of that anxiety which impelled the Druids to light bonfires, so that, besides celebrating the gathering of the harvests, these might shoo away evil spirits? And who knows whether these imps of darkness may not be abroad tonight. Yes, indeed, a host of witches, straddling their enchanted brooms, may swoop down from the clouds, and holding you up behind, like you on a joy ride which will terminate in Mars, or should you happen to escape the caresses of these old-time suffragettes, a factitious hobgoblin may confront you on your way down the "square" and if you do not pass him the high sign may lay his plummy paw upon your shoulder and, puff! only a whiff of smoke are you.

In keeping with the spirit of the evening and with all the good humored affection of a big brother we will describe a few of the Halloween ceremonies whereby the lesser heretofore may appease their curiosity concerning the looks, the fortunes and the dispositions of their future slaves.

The first and most popular get-well-quick method Cynthia is the candle process. After you have washed the dishes and while mother and father and little Jennie are rattling apples, stuff into the parlor with a big luscious Baldwin in your milk white hand. Try to do this without tripping over that brand new rug. Standing before a mirror slowly munch the apple until you have consumed all but the stem. Then comb your nut brown tresses with a plain comb with your left hand while with your right scratch a match on your—well, we really don't know just where this scratch matches, but no matter, light a match and start the candle alighting. Then gaze into that unaccustomed spot, the mirror, and presto! Is it Jasper's sun-burned visage that pokes itself over your left mirror-shoulder? Surely, it is.

Another infallible indicator by which you, Sue, may become as wise as Cynthia is this: When you have set things ship shape about the kitchen, slip out into the garden and with your blue eyes shaded by their bewitching lids pull up the first colewort stock within reach. If there is no colewort to be had lay hold of an onion stock or cabbage root; and yank with right good will. It being big or little, straight or crooked is prophetic of the size and shape of the grand object of your quest. Should any earth, no matter how tainted, stick to the root, that is fortune; and the taste of the stem is indicative of his temper and disposition. Fortunately cucumber plants are scarce in this vicinity.

Another method, by means of water is as potent as any of the foregoing. Take your position hard by a stream running south. (The Merrimack river from North Chelmsford to Lawrence will answer; or even Hale's brook.) Dip your left Russian blouse sleeve in the aqua near-pura. Go to bed at 7 p. m. In sight of a fire, a gas jet will answer the purpose, and hang the sleeve near it to dry. Lie awake without speaking or reading and when midnight comes an apparition having His exact figure, violating all the proprieties, will enter the room, stride toward the gas jet, turn the sleeve over to dry, and, waiting a kiss with his taper fingers, depart, to return in the morning. Still, there are home-lier looking fellows than that butcher boy.

Ludicrous as the foregoing customs seem to us in these days of telephones and aeroplanes, a time when they were practiced with a simple faith in their efficacy by all the young folks among the Celtic and British peoples. This was in the days of the Druids. Undoubtedly preaching the most beautiful of all the pagan religions, it was a custom for these priests of ancient Ireland and Scotland to hold a great autumn festival in honor of the Sun god and in thanksgiving for the bountiful harvests with which he had blessed them. And with the Thanksgiving service, the Druids implanted in the hearts of the people the custom of remembering their dead in this, the season when men's thoughts turn to the ending of all things living. Even today in the remote hills of Connemara and among the Scottish highlands, Halloween is known among the elder people as the festival of Oidheche Shamhna, or the vigil of death.

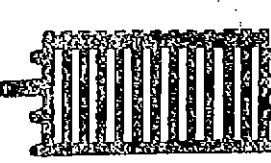

In Lowell, however, Oidheche Shamhna will receive scant attention this evening. Only the happier form of the festival overseas the hearts of those of the present day. Tonight everybody will keep a corner of their eye on the lookout for fairies, even more potent than she who befriended Cinderella; some will surely meet witches astride their animated brooms; a few will have the good fortune to hold converse with rollicksome little elves and, who knows, even yourself it is who may meet the wonder-working leprechaun!

SUNDAY CONCERT AT PLAYHOUSE
A grand operatic concert will be given at the Playhouse theatre tomorrow evening, Nov. 1 at 7.30 p. m. for the benefit of the Greek school of Lowell, by the famous members of the Lombard Grand Opera and amateurs. There will be fifteen selections from the most famous operas. The Melicene Dramatic company will also present "The Turkish Girl." This is a Greek performance in four acts. The libretto is by the famous Greek poet, Kallimachos. The management has labored hard to make this entertainment a success and earnestly solicit your financial support for a worthy cause. The cooperation not only of the Greeks is asked but of the general public assuring a high class entertainment to all who attend. The tickets for this concert are 50c, 75c and $1.00.

advises telling of Turkey's attacks on Russian ports and vessels apparently placed the responsibility for hostilities on the Porte but in Berlin it is stated that it was in reality Russia which started the war. Turkey's action in sold in the German capital to have been a natural sequence to the Russian attack on Turkish integrity.

From London came the suggestion that since no formal declaration of war has yet been made by either Turkey or Russia, the German commanders of the cruisers Goeben and Breslau may have acted without the authority of the Turkish government in precipitating the war. The Turkish army is said to be under the command of high German army officials.

Italy is being urged by the new nationalist party to plunge into the conflict, in view of Turkey's action touching so closely upon the disposition of territory along the Mediterranean, in which Italy is vitally interested.

The increasing confidence of the French is indicated in the unofficial announcement in Paris that the French government will return to that city from Bordeaux on November 20.

Action of the British government in holding up American vessels on the high seas led today to a formal protest from Washington. The immediate cause was the detaining at Gibraltar of the American vessel Kronland with a cargo of copper.

17 PERSONS INJURED

WHEN TRAIN ROLLED DOWN 30-FOOT EMBANKMENT AT ALFORD, PA., TODAY

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Seventeen persons were hurt today in the wreck of train No. 22 on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, which was thrown off an embankment a mile west of Alford, Pa. Part of the train of five cars rolled down a 30-foot incline into Martin's creek. The wreck, which happened at 6.15 a. m., was attributed to a broken rail.

PERSONALS

Elmer E. Dearth of Milwaukee, Wis., is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dearth of South Loring street.

The art department of the Middlesex Women's club held its first meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Estelle M. Hull of Boston as principal speaker, who took for her subject "The Madonna as an Art Ideal." The lecture was illustrated and most interesting.

William F. Davis, former pianist at the Veyons theatre, was married Wednesday to Miss Dorothy S. Byrne of Woonsocket, R. I., the ceremony being performed in Martinsburg, West Virginia.

DEATHS

HILL—Albert E. Hill died yesterday at the home of his brother, George H. Hill, 15 Smith avenue, aged 14 years, 10 months and 29 days.

BANFIELD—Frederick Banfield, son of John and the late Elizabeth Banfield, died yesterday at 60 Kirk street. Body was taken to the rooms of Undertaker George H. McKenna.

NO DECLARATION OF WAR FROM TURKEY YET RECEIVED AT PETROGRAD

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The correspondent of the Morning Post in Petrograd sends his paper the following:

"The statement published here that the guns of the cruiser Goeben were turned on the sultan's palace in order to make him yield to the German demand is probably untrue."

A despatch to the Central News from Petrograd says that up to a late hour Friday no declaration of war had been received from Turkey.

The despatch continues: "Consternation prevails in Constantinople and the Turkish ministry is sitting continually. The secretary of the Turkish embassy in Petrograd says that he hopes that the misunderstanding will soon be cleared up. The head of the muslims in Russia condemns the folly of Turkey and declares that his followers are loyal to the Russian emperor."

NO DECLARATION OF WAR YET FROM TURKEY ON RUSSIA

LONDON, Oct. 31.—No declaration of war has yet been made either by Turkey or Russia and the suggestion is made from various sources that the German commanders of the cruisers Goeben and Breslau may have forced the situation without the authority of the Turkish government owing to Germany's chagrin at the defeat on the Vistula.

According to one report, the entire Turkish fleet left Turkish waters undefended and the various ships are now cruising about on the Russian coasts.

The Petrograd correspondents in their discussion of the situation remark that the Turkish army is not altogether to be despised, especially as it is entirely under command of German officers of the highest rank.

The Times Petrograd correspondent says there are a thousand German officers in Turkey at the present time. The commander of the straits, Col. Dever, is a German, while General Liman Von Sanders commands the Ottoman troops.

The correspondent of the Daily Mail in Petrograd says that the Ottoman charge d'affaires is still there and professes to have no information regarding the action of his government.

and Mary A., will take place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of her parents, 350 Varnum avenue. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

MANFIELD—The funeral of William S. Manfield was held yesterday afternoon from his home, 12 White street. The services were conducted by Rev. F. C. Alger, pastor of the Pawtucket Congregational church. The hymn quartet sang appropriate selections. The bearers were W. T. S. Bartlett, Alvin Patnam, Michael E. Adams and C. P. Sheridan. There were many beautiful flowers. Burial was in the family lot in the Eden cemetery, where prayers were read by Rev. Mr. Alger. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker John A. Weinbeck.

SAUNDERS—St. Columba's church in Mammoth road was again the scene of a very large gathering this morning when funeral services were conducted over the body of the late James Saunders, one of the best known residents of this city. The little church was filled to its utmost with friends and relatives of deceased, who wished to pay a last tribute to one whom they loved and respected.

The funeral took place at 2 o'clock from the home, 325 Mammoth road, and the long cortege, consisting of 33 carriages, wound its way to the church, where at 10 o'clock solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. John J. Degan, assisted by Rev. Thomas A. Walsh of Collinsville as deacon, and Rev. Thomas Buckley, curate at St. Columba's, as subdeacon. The choir, augmented for the occasion, rendered appropriate music under the direction of Miss Catherine Wholey, who also presided at the organ. Although a request had been made by the family that no floral offerings be sent, numerous large floral tributes were sent to the home, and previous to the funeral a special carriage containing these offerings was sent to the cemetery.

The bearers were Hon. T. J. Enright, Patrick O'Leary, Daniel Sullivan, Daniel J. Murphy, John Murphy and Thos. Mahoney. The ushers at the house and church were Philip J. O'Hara, Walter Wilson, Thomas Mahoney and Richard Murray. Present in the sanctuary during the mass were Rev. W. George Mullin of St. Peter's church, Rev. Timothy Callahan of St. Patrick's and Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan of St. Peter's.

Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. John J. Degan. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Undertaker Peter H. Savage.

GILLIN—The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Gillin took place this morning at 9 o'clock from her home on Carleton street, Billerica. A funeral high mass was celebrated in St. Andrew's church, North Billerica, at 9.45 o'clock by Rev. David Murphy. The body was placed upon the 9.55 o'clock train and taken to Boston where burial took place in St. Beudelet cemetery. The bearers were George McNulty, Charles Delehan, Alfred Daley and Charles Finnegan. The floral tributes placed upon the grave included a large pillow of flowers from the husband and designs from Mrs. Gertrude Nadeau, Mrs. Peterson and others. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker Charles H. Molloy.

O'BRIEN—The funeral of Elizabeth O'Brien of Jersey City, N. J., daughter of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Courtney, took place this morning at 8.45 o'clock from the chapel of James F. O'Donnell & Sons and was largely attended. At 9 o'clock a large number of requiem masses were said by Rev. John J. Degan, assisted by Rev. Thomas A. Walsh of Collinsville as deacon, and Rev. Thomas Buckley, curate at St. Columba's, as subdeacon. The choir, augmented for the occasion, rendered appropriate music under the direction of Miss Catherine Wholey, who also presided at the organ. Although a request had been made by the family that no floral offerings be sent, numerous large floral tributes were sent to the home, and previous to the grave Rev. Fr. Kerrigan read committal prayers and burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

HOWE—Died in Boston, October 29, Charles F. Howe. Burial from his home, 491 Cambridge street, on November 2, at 1.30 o'clock, from chapel at Edison cemetery. Friends invited.

FULLER—Died in this city, Oct. 29, at his home 238 East Merrimack street, Joseph F. Fuller, aged 71 years, 11 months. Funeral services from his home, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends invited. Burial private. Please omit flowers. The funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertakers Young & Blake.

Registration Bureau to Be Installed at City Hall on Monday

Laborers and Mechanics Must Abide by Civil Service Rules

PATRICK J. REYNOLDS, Registrar of Labor

This was the last day that any member of the municipal council could put a man to work. After today the city laborers and mechanics will have to deal with the civil service commission. The registrar of labor in this city is Patrick J. Reynolds. He was elected by the city council some time ago and the action of the council has had the approval of the civil service commission. The city will pay Mr. Reynolds $300 a year, but he will be a state officer in every sense of the word.

John C. Gilbert, state registrar of labor, will come to Lowell Monday and will install the registration system. The system will be installed by noon and while no applications will be received on Monday, application blanks will be passed out. Mr. Reynolds has not yet received his appointment as a justice of the peace but his application is before the governor and will be acted upon at once. All applicants seeking employment must make oath and Mr. Reynolds cannot administer the oath until he has been made a justice of the peace.

Hundreds of Applicants
Those seeking city employment were pretty thoroughly acquainted with the fact that this was the last day that a man could be put to work and they flocked to city hall in a caution. Charles J. Morse, commissioner of streets and highways, says that at least 700 men are seeking work on the streets and highways and there are other men who seek work in the water department who do not bother the street department. Mr. Morse allows that some of the laborers who were anxious to have the civil service laws apply to city laborers and mechanics will feel differently about it after a few months have passed. The registration system will be "fine and dandy" for the commission.

GAMBLERS ARRESTED

MANY APPEAR IN COURT AND PAY FINES - OTHER CASES TRIED

A squad of police officers headed by Sergt. David Petrie made a successful raid at a Market street house early this morning and brought to the police station, one man charged with conducting a gambling nuisance and 35 accused of being present where gaming instruments were found. All were found guilty of their charges and ordered to pay the usual fines for their first offence.

The first case called was that of Mike Kalokouras, proprietor of a coffee house at 605 Market street, charged with maintaining a gaming nuisance. Through his attorney, Daniel J. Donahue, entered a plea of not guilty. Deputy Downey conducted the case for the prosecution.

Sergeant Petrie, the first witness, testified that he had the place at 605 Market street under surveillance for some time, knowing that card games were played there regularly. Last evening the witness, together with Sergt. Ryan and Special Officer Clark, secluded themselves in a rear alley where they could see the proceedings inside the building. From 11:30 o'clock until 1:30 this morning the officers watched through the windows and according to their testimony saw money passed across the tables at different intervals.

At 1:30 o'clock six patrolmen were dispatched from the station and the officers stormed the coffee house, arresting the 39 men. Sergt. Petrie said there was great disturbance in the store when the raid was made and one of the men shouted in a foreign language. Kalokouras offered no defense and he was ordered to pay a fine of $50. He appealed and was held for the superior court.

When Assistant Clerk Trull called for the remaining 35 men, there was great commotion in the court room and finally the defendants were put in a line, which reached from one end of the court room to the other. Lawyer Donahue then entered pleas of guilty for the entire group and the court ordered each to pay a fine of two dollars. Considerable time was taken up in counting the defendants and securing the fines. One man brought in by the officers was discharged.

Phiney Boyle, a local boxer, was called into court to answer to a charge of assault and battery and the case was continued for two weeks. Phiney appeared with a darkened lamp, which, it is claimed, he sustained when winning a decision over a New Hampshire fighter a few evenings ago. George H. Toye represented the defendant.

It cost Felix Carigan just ten dollars for two milk bottles which the police claim he took from door steps of Nelson Clairmont and Agnes Tessler during the early hours of yesterday morning. Patrolman Lamoureux told the court that he saw the defendant take the milk bottles. He said that the man had not with several difficulties of late and had been partaking in intoxicants. A ten dollar fine was imposed and sentence suspended for three months.

James L. Robertson pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with non-support of his three minor children and was given a continuance of one week. Manuel Foster pleaded guilty to threatening to harm Joseph Dumas and he was placed on probation for six months. George E. Allard for the defendant and J. H. Guller for the complainant.

Several drunks were brought in over night and disposed of very promptly by Deputy Downey and Judge Fisher.

ATTENTION TO ROB STONE

An unsuccessful attempt was made early this morning to break into the liquor store of Louis Mercier & Co., at 363 Moody street. A patrolman in covering his beat discovered that a bolt had been pulled out of the rear door and an attempt made to force open the main door. It is thought by the police that the burglar was frightened away while working with his tools.

RATE WAR ON GASOLINE

Criminal Indictments Against the Standard Oil Co. and the Gulf Refining Co. Reported

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 31.—It was reported here today that criminal indictments had been voted by the Hudson county grand jury against the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and the Gulf Refining Co., which have been engaged in a rate war on gasoline in Hudson and Essex counties in the past few months.

The indictments, according to the report, were two in number and were voted last night. It was said that they would not be handed into court until next Monday and that they were found under the so-called seven sisters laws which were placed on the statute books through the efforts of Woodrow Wilson when he was governor of the state.

Ten witnesses testified yesterday before the grand jury as to the part played by the two companies in the recent rapid lowering of prices on gasoline in Hudson county. A public investigation, conducted before Judge Sullivan of the common pleas court about a month ago, adduced evidence tending to show that within the space of two months the price on gasoline had been cut more than 50 per cent. It was charged then that the Standard Oil Co. had cut the price to drive competitors out of business, but this, Judge Sullivan held, was not proven.

The employees of the Talbot mills at North Billerica listened attentively to an address by Congressman John Jacob Rogers, candidate for reelection, at the mill gate this noon. Congressmen Rogers went to the town at the invitation of the republican town committee and he was given a fine reception.

The congressman touched upon his record during the two years which he has been in Washington, and also upon his criticism by his opponent. He said that in his campaign just two years ago he promised the voters of this district that he would do his best and he had lived up to that promise at all times.

The democrats party was assailed by the speaker, who went into details concerning the special war tax and the Underwood tariff. At the close of his address, he was loudly applauded.

Merriment ran high in the commodious dance hall at Schofield's farm, Draught, last evening when the young ladies of D. L. Page's store entertained at one of the most delightful Halloween parties of the year, which was arranged by the Misses Kathryn Navasse, Helen Holmes, Edna Brudin and Gladys Merrill.

The cosy room was transformed by orange and black streamers which were draped from the ceiling and caught up with pumpkin lanterns. The posts were covered with products from the farm, and appropriate for the occasion, making a very pleasing aspect. A fireplace, covered with corn husks and orange and black crepe paper added to the attractiveness of the scene.

Seated in a corner of the hall and partly hidden by the pretty decorations, the members of Gilmore's orchestra dispensed pleasing music for the dancing which continued from 8:30 o'clock until near midnight when the party concluded at speaking highly of the hostess and the committee in charge. As the guests entered the hall they were presented pretty Halloween souvenir dance orders in the form of pumpkin lanterns, and prettily engraved. Other Halloween novelties were brought out in an enjoyable way by the young ladies in charge of the event.

STEPHEN T. WYMAN

HE IS CELEBRATING 35 YEARS' SERVICE IN CHARGE OF PUBLIC LIBRARY READING ROOM

Thirty-five years is a long time to work in one place, but still it can be done, and this is borne out by the fact that Mr. Stephen T. Wyman, superintendent of the reading room at the public library, is this week observing his 35th anniversary as an employee in the public service.

Mr. Wyman entered the employ of the city when the library was a little dingy one-room affair, situated in the Old City Hall building in Merrimack street. In his long term of service he has seen remarkable changes made in conducting the business of the library, the most important of which was the changing over from the old classified system of handling books to the present modern Dewey system.

But the greatest change of all came in 1892, when the library was removed from the old quarters to the present beautiful structure. Fourteen years ago he was placed in charge of the reading room where he has remained ever since. By his courteous and pleasing manner he counts a host of friends in all parts of the city to whom this news will be decidedly pleasing and who join with us in wishing him many more active and happy years as custodian of the reading room.

ARLINGTON HIGH WON

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 31.—For the second consecutive time Arlington, Mass., high school won the annual cross country run here today, scoring 65 points. One hundred runners, representing 17 high schools were entered. Dresser of Ithaca high won the race.

MRS. HARRIET L. CHAMBRE

The funeral of Mrs. Harriet Lancaster Chambre, widow of the late Rev. A. St. John Chambre, D. D., took place this afternoon from her home, 61 Nesmith street. Prayer was recited at the house at 1 o'clock by Rev. Appleton Grannis, rector of St. Anne's church, and at 1:30 o'clock funeral services were conducted in the church. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Appleton Grannis, who was assisted by Rev. Wilson Waters, rector of the All Saints' church, Chelmsford Centre. Readings from the Scripture were given and hymns were chanted by the vested choir of the church. The attendance at the church was very large for deceased was the wife of the former rector and was held in the highest esteem by the members of the congregation.

The honorary bearers were Wardens Franklin Neusse and E. N. Burke and Vestrymen C. N. Russell, C. W. Eaton, G. H. Pillsbury, F. P. Marble, C. F. Grover, F. A. Estes, E. J. Fay and A. E. Williams. The usher was Charles Midwood. The body was taken over the road in the auto-hearse and burial was in Mt. Auburn cemetery in Cambridge, under the direction of Undertaker George W. Healey.

"RABBIT" MARANVILLE

FAMOUS BALL PLAYER WILL SOON APPEAR IN KEITH'S THEATRE IN THIS CITY

Manager Ben Fickett of Keith's theatre is right on to his job, for today he announced that he has booked "Rabbit" Maranville, the famous shortstop of the world's champion Braves, to appear at the local theatre in a vaudeville sketch during the week of Nov. 30. All the big theatrical managers of the country were vying to get the "Rabbit" and the local manager was among the lucky ones. This will be Maranville's first appearance in Lowell since he played with the New Bedford team at Spaulding park. All the fans will be on deck to greet the kid with the vest pocket fly-catcher.

J. JOSEPH O'CONNOR

HEARD AT MILL GATES TODAY AND LAST NIGHT—WARMLY APPRAISED

J. Joseph O'Connor, democratic candidate for congress, addressed large gatherings at the following places last night: Moody and Gresham avenue, Alken and Hall streets, Salem street and Willie avenue, and Middlesex and Grand streets. He was well received everywhere he spoke.

Mr. O'Connor spoke on about the same topics at the different places. He said his interest in the fight, the battle of the plain, honest, hard-working man and woman, unaided and alone as the candidate for congress on the great democratic party. He said he was not consulting the bosses, but meeting the people face to face for the purpose of discussing the issues that most concerned them and to give reasons for his faith. He was warmly applauded.

The speaker said the welfare and concerns of a class were of more importance than the advancement or progress of any individual and urged the people to cut loose from the men known as leaders who are exploiting them for their own benefit.

He spoke of the great work of the democratic party at Washington and the desirability of sending men there to assist rather than oppose President Wilson.

TWO NOON FIRE ALARMS

KENT THE FIREMEN ON THE JUMP THIS NOON—LAWRENCE STREET STORE DAMAGED

Two fire alarms received at the Central station within two minutes of each other kept the members of several companies busy for a time early this afternoon.

A telephone alarm at 12:23 o'clock was for a fire in the dry goods store of Dean & Robinson at 654 Lawrence street. The fire started in a couch and when the firemen arrived the smoke was issuing from the building in volleys. The blaze was extinguished in short order, although considerable damage had been done to the contents of the store.

A brush fire near the corner of Bridge and Billings streets caused a telephone alarm at 12:25 o'clock. Members of the Protective and Engine 5 responded and extinguished the blaze.

HALLOWEEN COSTUME PARTY

A very pleasant Halloween costume party took place last evening at the home of Miss Gertrude McMahon of 23 Lagrange street. Among the girls in costume were Miss Tena Cummings, representing the Queen of Hearts; Alice Catterall as the fringed daughter; Lili Hirt Welch as the Queen of Spades; Annie Sheehan, as a Grecian girl; May McCarthy, as a pitcher for the leading baseball team and many others. In the course of the evening Mr. Edward Barrett was called upon to present Miss Minnie McMahon with a beautiful ring. Refreshments were served and after a very enjoyable evening the party broke up all wishing the hostess a bright and happy future.

LOWELL BUILDING NEWS

Perhaps the most noteworthy of the building operations progressing in Lowell at the present time, is the complete remodeling of the structure at 934 Worthen street, the object being to provide greater educational accommodations and facilities for the children of the Greek colony. The plans for this addition to the Greek schools were made some time ago and now the work of bringing about the material realization of the ideas of the school committee of the colony has been started.

In a word, the plan is to change the residence at the above mentioned location into a school building, and this will entail the erection of additions and a great deal of remodeling of both the interior and exterior. The chairman of the committee in charge is Mr. Peter Tavoularis, and the result of the progressive ideas and hard work of Mr. Tavoularis and his fellow committeemen will be a building that will accommodate a large number of the Greek school children.

The building will have four spacious classrooms, well equipped. The foundation work is to be constructed of stone and the building will have a flat roof. The fireproof features will be brought about by the construction of walls of metal lath and hard plaster. An addition will be erected at the front and the interior will be well lighted. There will also be an addition to the rear.

In addition to the classrooms there will be ten closets and rooms equipped with toilet fixtures. A new heating and ventilating plant of up-to-date design will be installed, and the entire interior will be newly finished. The building, when completed, will be two stories in height.

Sales by E. F. Slattery, Jr.
Edward F. Slattery, Jr., real estate and insurance, with office at 934 Sun building, reports the following sale for the week ending October 30th.

The sale of a two tenement house with five rooms to each tenement. The property is near the junction of Fletcher and Bowers streets and occupies a splendid corner. The names of grantor and grantees will be given when the final papers are recorded.

Thos. H. Elliott's Office
Thos. H. Elliott, real estate broker, offices, 51 Central street, corner Prescott, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week ending Friday, Oct. 30th.

Final papers have been passed in the transfer of the large two-apartment property situated at 41-43 Tyler street at the head of George street. The place comprises a house of twenty-four rooms divided into two apartments and provided with separate entrances. It occupies half the corner of 660 square feet assessed at the rate of 50c per foot. The total assessment on land and buildings is $6600. The property has served for many years as the residence of the late Dr. Wm. Bass. The grantors in the transaction were the trustees of the estate of the late Elizabeth G. Bass. The purchaser is Mr. Chas. L. Blake who buys purely for purposes of investment.

Also the sale of an excellent log-house property situated at 256 Worthen street at the corner of Broadway. This place comprises a house of ten rooms, steam heated and with bath. Its convenient location and first-class furnishings render it an especially desirable parcel. The transfer was negotiated on behalf of Mrs. D. F. Jones, formerly of this city, now of Boston.

Contracts have been closed on the purchase and sale of a first-class small residential property situated near Fletcher street. The house is full two and one-half story with eight excellent rooms and bath. It occupies a lot approximating 3000 square feet assessed at the rate of 25c per foot. The assessment totals on land and buildings $2000. The transfer is effected on behalf of out-of-town owners, the grantees buying purely for purposes of investment.

Persons have been blinded on the purchase and sale of an excellent two-apartment property situated near Gorton street. The house occupies a fine corner of 2000 square feet. The assessment is at the rate of 30c per foot and totals on land and buildings $1900. The apartments are entirely separate and have six rooms each. The sale is negotiated on behalf of a local estate, the purchasers buying for combined purposes of occupancy and investment.

ment and the name will be announced on the passing of the final papers.

Costos Maffurus plans the construction of an additional piazza on his property at 433-T Market street.

Michael Murphy of Canada street has been granted a permit for the erection of a platform for scales for use in his business at 34 Canada street.

As the result of the partitioning off of an office, a new four-room apartment will be constructed by Esther Wolf in her property located at 119 Chelmsford street. The work will include considerable new finish work on the interior.

An addition 12 by 14 feet will be erected by Narcisse Clairmont to be used as an icehouse. The addition will adjoin the side of Mr. Clairmont's dwelling and will have a post foundation.

An addition will be built over the ell of the dwelling of Alfred Leblanc in order that the owner may have an additional room. The present ell consists of but one story. New plumbing fixtures will be installed and the interior remodeled.

Dr. J. V. Pepin, residing at 24 Saunders avenue, will soon construct a new garage of wood with a concrete foundation and floor. The building will have a frontage of 12 feet and the side will measure 18 feet.

A second story will be added to the dwelling house of Jane McElroy at 111 Mt. Pleasant street. The remodeling will result in the making of a two-story building out of the present single story affair and will add four new rooms to the house.

The Gilbride Co. has placed shades in the new two-apartment dwellings in Stevens street which have been erected by A. P. Denvers. In the new residence of B. Roux in Melburn street, and also has put up shades and draperies in the residence of Richard Bray in Bellevue avenue.

Charles H. Bull, a local contractor, will build an addition on the house of James C. Donovan at 176 Branch street. The addition will be used for a washroom and the work will also include several interior alterations, including plumbing equipment. The addition will measure 5 by 6 feet and will have a foundation of stone.

Frank M. Andrews of Lawrence will build a new piazza on the side of his house, situated at 27 Ward street. This piazza will be raised on a wooden fire escape. The measurements are 7 by 15 and a wooden stairway will lead to the ground. The estimated cost of this work will be $100.

P. P. Mahoney, residing at 77 Beach street, intends soon to begin the work of making fireproof the garage at his property, 335 Middlesex street. The building will be absolutely fireproof when the alterations shall have been completed, for the plans call for the construction of the ceiling and side walls of hard plaster on metal lath. The remodeling and fireproofing of this building will necessitate the changing over of one partition.

The property of Eastman Herli, located at 15-23 Market street, which John P. Riley is the lessee, is soon to be the object of extensive remodeling. The roof of the bridge between the two buildings will be raised about seven feet and a new outer wall of stone and wire lath will be constructed. The work will in all probability cost in the neighborhood of $150.

During the past week extensive repairs have been made on the building at the corner of Merrimack and Worthen streets, owned by John Kimball and occupied by A. P. Sackley, the photographer, who has had his studio in that building for a number of years, and Dr. Constantineau, local dentist, who has recently moved his offices from the corner of Middlesex and Central streets to this present location. The main stairway on Merrimack street is now practically new and will be well lighted with several large electric lights. The hall has also undergone a complete change. Much painting has been done as well as carpentry in this part of the building. The dental rooms of Dr. Constantineau have been thoroughly rejuvenated and remodeled and now present a beautiful appearance. Both the dentist and Mr. Sackley have had a number of business signs made which with the general changes in the building will quite alter the appearance of this edifice for the better. The carpentry work was in charge of E. E. Dugel. Alfred Barrett did the painting and Miller & Co. were the artists on the new signs.

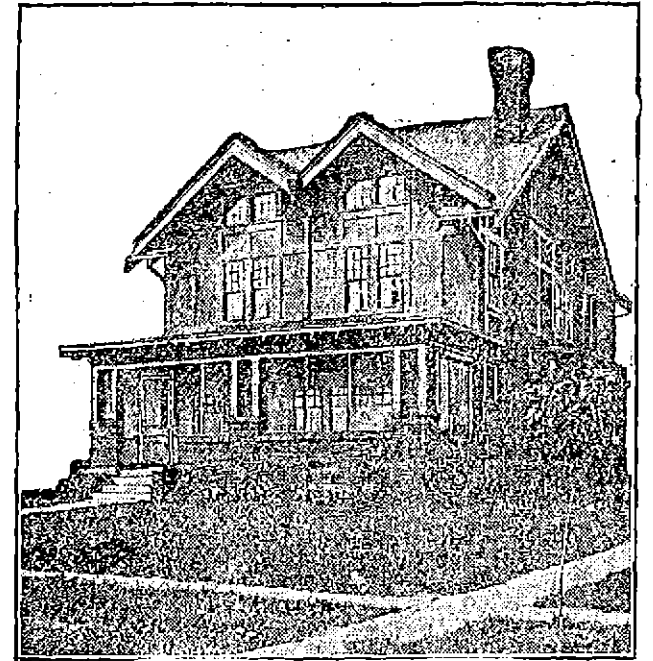

Will Build New Garage
Mrs. Fred Hogg of 245 Pine street will erect a new garage in the rear of the property at 181 Highland avenue. The floor is to be of concrete and the remainder of the building of wood. The roof will be constructed of tar and gravel, and will be of the shed variety.

ROUGH CAST AND HALF TIMBER PLAN

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—From a Photograph

Brick veneer up to height of first story windows, then rough cast to the cornice, with half timber effect in the second story, making a combination of brick, plaster and wood for the exterior. First story has a den and also a bedroom, which last is often considered a first story necessity. Living room extends across entire width of the house, with built-in fireplace and book-cases at one end and a staircase opposite. The dining room opens from living room by columns that extend to the ceiling. Size, 30 feet wide and 44 feet deep over the main part. Full basement. First story, 9 feet; second story, 8 feet. Red oak finish in first story except kitchen, which is in birch. Fine to paint in second story. Birch or maple floors throughout. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $5500.

Another Garage
Another garage is to be constructed by Walter Jackson near his residence at 14 Whipple street. The garage will have a concrete floor and the foundation will be constructed of stone and cement. The roof, which is to be flat, will be constructed of tar and gravel. The roof will have a steel frame and the doors will be covered with metal. The material of the building will be chiefly stone and cement.

Two Apartment Dwellings
Mary A. Doyle is building a two-apartment dwelling near her residence at 100 Mount Washington street. The building will be a two story affair and each apartment will contain six rooms and bath. The material of construction will be chiefly wood while the foundation is to be of stone and cement. The house will have both front and rear stairways and will measure 34 by 37 feet. Apparatus for steam heating will be installed. The estimated cost is $2500.

PUBLIC HEALTH LAWS
Laws for the protection of the public health would fall in their purpose but for the deep interest taken in their enforcement by the plumbing trade throughout the country. A recent instance of the advantage of having an organization such as the State Examiners of Plumbers of Massachusetts is brought up in the case of a New Bedford plumber who was charged with doing the plumbing work without being registered or licensed as required by law. He was found guilty by the superior court, but filed exceptions to the ruling of that court. The case was then carried to the supreme court. The plumber claimed that he had a right to work at his will to earn his living by work at any lawful trade he thought fit and that the statute under which he had been found guilty was invalidly interfered with that right and was therefore unconstitutional. While the court upholds that the constitutionality of the law is sacred, and as claimed by the defendant, it ruled that it was not absolute, and the ruling was to the effect that, like almost every other individual right, it must yield to the right of government to impose such reasonable restraints as are required for the protection of public health and public morals, or in other words, to the power. The gist of the ruling which is brought to the attention of this journal by an officer of the Massachusetts Board of Examining Plumbers is that the full bench of the supreme court ruled that the right of the government to impose reasonable restraint as required for the protection of the public health was greater than the rights given to individuals under the constitution of the United States. This ruling doubtless will have interest outside of the plumbing trade. It will give great encouragement to workers in the sanitary field to continue their efforts to prevent that independent action which is beneficial only to the single interest of the man making a profit and which at the same time may be a menace not only to this customers but to the public in general.—The Building Age.

ASBESTOS IN DEMAND

The demand for building materials not likely to be affected by fire has encouraged manufacturers to experiment with all sorts of materials with the result that asbestos is brought prominently to the front. It is interesting to note that asbestos runs in veins very nearly parallel to the ground and in thicknesses varying all the way from a narrow line to 2 or 4 in. Some of the veins, however, reach a depth of 200 ft. Deposits of asbestos in one or more of its allied species are found to a limited extent in Russia, Italy, Egypt, India, South Africa and many other parts of the world. That which is mined in Canada, however, is of special commercial value as other varieties are either too brittle to utilize or too hard to mine. The asbestos when properly worked produces long siliceous fibers which are made into fireproof goods of various kinds, the most familiar doubtless being the asbestos theatre curtain. The asbestos or rock fibers are made into felt which is often saturated with Trinidad Lake asphalt, after which several of the sheets are cemented together with this material and made into ready roofings. For shingles the same rock fibers are mixed with Portland cement and other ingredients, then placed in molds of various sizes and shapes and subject to intense hydraulic pressure. The various colors are mixed with these ingredients, producing shingles of handsome shades. Asbestos wood or lumber is also made in much the same manner as the shingles. This is furnished in slabs so that it can be easily used for fireproof partitions, fire doors, bookcases, moving picture machines, etc. Another use made of the material is in stucco, also wall plaster. Here the asbestos rock takes the place of sand ordinarily used and the asbestos rock takes the place of sand. Another material which is fast gaining favor, chiefly because of its fire-retarding qualities, is Mastic for floors. The importance of fireproof construction is being appreciated more and more by architects and builders and this is shown by the tremendous increase in the substitution of fireproof building materials for those of an inflammable nature.

BUILDING ITEMS
It has been decided that the next annual convention of the National Association of Builders' exchanges will be held in the city of Columbus, Ohio, on January 28 to 29, inclusive, 1915.

There are said to be more than 400 different kinds of marble used in New York city, and in color they range from bright reds and greens to the most delicate shades of pink, turquoise and yellow. Some are known as dead stones because of their lack of color, while others are called with dashes of vermillion, scarlet, emerald green and lavender.

The new building code adopted by the city council of Macon, Ga., and which went into effect September 1, provides that all buildings shall be roofed with non-inflammable material. It is said that the first sawmill in the United States was at Jamestown, from which sawed boards were exported in June, 1607. A water power sawmill was in use in 1625 near the present site of the city of Richmond, Va.

Since the middle of August a vigorous campaign has been waged by the city of Boston looking to the elimination of the fire hazard. As reported by the fire commission, 80 per cent of the fire losses are preventable and the objective of the work of the present campaign is not so much the minimization of fires and their speedy extinguishment, as it is the elimination of the conditions which make these fires possible and probable.

ARCHITECTS WAR RELIEF FUND
A committee of which the chairman is R. Clifton Sturgis, president of the American Institute of Architects, has issued a call to the architectural profession of the country for funds to be used for the relief of the sufferers from the present European war. The call reads in part as follows:
The debt which architecture owes to the countries of Europe is neither measurable in words nor payable in money, but in view of the appalling conditions brought about by the present war—the terrible suffering—the threatened destruction of that which can never be replaced—it is eminently fitting that the architects of America should unite and in the name of their profession and their art do their part towards affording some measure of relief to those upon whom this catastrophe has fallen. Money is needed and it is profoundly hoped that every architect will contribute in the largest possible measure. It is further sincerely hoped that every architect will give something—for it is the wish of the committee that this fund may not only be large but that it may be truly representative of the profession, which, more than all others, owes its inspiration to the forebears of these people who are today bearing the intolerable burden of the most frightful war the world has ever seen.

The treasurer of the fund is C. H. Whitaker, The Octagon, Washington, D. C., and subscribers may designate the country in which they wish their contribution expended. It gives twice who gives quickly.—The Building Age.

EFFECT OF WAR ON ENGLISH
Advices from English sources are to the effect that the influence of the war on its industries is beginning to show itself in the official returns relating to unemployment. In some cases a reasonable decline had already begun before the war broke out so that all of the idleness was not due to that cause. In many trades and very largely in the building industry short time had been resorted to in order to avoid laying off workmen. The figures of unemployment among members of the Insured trades show that the percentage of idle among carpenters at the end of August was 5.12 per cent; bricklayers, 6.7 per cent; masons, 3.8 per cent; plasterers, 7.4 per cent; painters, 3.7 per cent; plumbers, 4.5 per cent; and laborers, 6.2 per cent. Taking all the occupations together the percentage of idle was 6.2 per cent.

COVERINGS FOR ROOFS
Home builders in every part of the United States are relying more and more upon local contractors to supply plans and specifications and recommend materials to be used in the actual construction of their homes. It is a very difficult thing to choose the best material for covering porch floors and roofs unless one is thoroughly posted on the relative advantages and disadvantages of shingles, slate, tar felt, cotton duck, etc. After several years' experience with various kinds of materials, many builders appear to have come to the conclusion that a cotton fabric covering is very satisfactory for the purpose. The porch roof is exposed to every twist, strain, and savage tug of the elements and subjected to the continual wear of wind, sun, rain

CAMPAIGN LIES NAILED BY SENATOR FISHER

The Leading Economists of Both Parties, Not Gov. Walsh, Raised Salary of His Secretary—Salary Considered Reasonable

Senator Fisher has become so important in the trumped up charges made by republican campaigners, including McCall and Cushing, that he has departed from his customary silence and come out in the subjoined statement to show that Gov. Walsh is not responsible for the increase in the salary of his private secretary and that the measure was approved by republicans and democrats alike, including some of the most earnest workers for efficiency and economy.

Senator Fisher's Statement

Having seen through the columns of the newspapers that on various occasions, if not most daily, the republican candidates for governor and lieutenant governor have been not only criticizing, but even condemning, Governor Walsh on account of the increase in salary of his private secretary, and as the matter has been brought more closely home through the attack made by Mr. McCall at the Lowell rally a week ago, I submit the following statement of facts in order that justice may be done to all, and further, that the voters may see to what unwarranted extremes the republican aspirants for the offices of governor and lieutenant governor are willing to go.

MONDAY'S SUN FEATURES

Women's Page Will Have Usual Fashion Hints, Suggestions For the Home—Other Interesting Features

The regular weekly "Women's Page" of The Sun will appear in all editions on Monday and will be chock full of items of interest to the women. There will be the usual fashion pictures with descriptions of the styles and suggestions with reference to dress-making, also a number of special articles. The advertisers on this page have many attractive offerings which should appeal to the ladies.

Another prominent feature of Monday's Sun will be the article by "Lady Luck" which will contain many witty and timely observations of local interest. This article will be of interest to every Sun reader.

How to make excellent use of pieces of bread, how to make a delicious salad dressing, the best methods of laundering delicate lingerie, will be described by the Cook in "What the Cook Says." She will also give other information useful in the kitchen.

"What Mortense Told Me" is another feature article of The Sun and on Monday will contain some excellent health hints. Mortense tells why walking is a beneficial exercise and also describes the benefits to be derived from drinking water. The water-drinking habit, she says, cultivates a clear complexion. "Tower and Dick" is the title of Monday's "Sleeping Tale" and tells how Dick taught his dog Tower to play hide and seek. Tower made a fine playmate for Dick. Read this little story to the children at bedtime.

Freelies, effects of tan, and other things that are an aftermath of the summer season may be removed, and the methods for accomplishing this are described under the caption "The Habit of the Pool." This article gives the valuable information in detail and will aid those who have skin blemishes.

A phone is an instrument that should have the best of care in order to give the best tone. In "What the French Maid Said," Marie will tell The Sun readers how the phone should be cared for. She also describes the effects of the weather conditions on the piano.

BIDS FOR FILTRATION PLANT
Bids for material to be used in connection with the installation of the filtration plant at the boulevard were opened in the office of Purchasing Agent Foye this forenoon. The bids included a big assortment of iron doors, cast iron manholes, cast iron sewer pipes, etc. The contract will be awarded to the Seannell Boiler Works of this city. The bids were as follows: Seannell boiler works, 28 Tanner street, $115,76. Frank H. Donnelly, representing a Providence, R. I. foundry, bid $162.75.

CHIEF BENDER AND MATHEWSON ARE LIKELY TO MEET EACH OTHER AT GOLF

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Christopher Mathewson and Chief Bender are both golfers, and efforts have been made to arrange for a contest between them on the links. Matty says that regular practice on the links during the winter keeps him in condition for his work on the diamond in the summer, and Bender has a similar idea. They have met on the diamond with the honors about even, and if they clash on the links theeting will be watched with interest.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 31.—Halback Hamilton of the University of Minnesota football team is one of the best players in the west. As a kicker he has few superiors, and when a game is in progress he is in it every minute.

EXCUSE ME

REMAINS OF COL. AND MRS. LUKE HEERY INTERRED THIS MORNING

The bodies of Col. Luke M. Heery and his wife were this morning interred to their last resting place in St. Joseph's cemetery, after impressive services had been held at the Sacred Heart church. The double funeral took place at 3:30 o'clock from the chapel of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons and was largely attended, for the couple were well known in this city and they counted a host of friends who held them in the highest esteem. The funeral procession headed by two hearses, wound its way to the Sacred Heart church, where at 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O. M. I. Present in the sanctuary was the pastor, Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I.

The bearers for Col. Heery were John P. Farley, Esq., Edward Tierney, Esq., Col. James H. Carmichael and Henry O'Brien, while the bearers for Mrs. Heery were Henry J. O'Dowd, Harry C. Kittredge, Robert E. Crowley and Thomas P. Houglar. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Fletcher, O. M. I. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

SUIT TO FULL BENCH

JUDGE HAMMOND REFERS $600,000 CASE AGAINST THE NEW HAVEN RAILROAD COMPANY

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—The $600,000 suit of the estate of the late Olen Bull Vaughan of West Lebanon, Me., against William G. Rockefeller and other directors of the New Haven Railroad company to recover money alleged to have been illegally expended in railroad, street railway and steamship line acquisitions was reserved for the consideration of the full bench of the supreme court yesterday, on preliminary questions, by Judge Hammond in the equity session of the supreme court after a long hearing.

This was done by the court without making any formal rulings on the pleas and demurrers of the various defendants. The plaintiff sought to have a special master or a receiver appointed for the road to bring suit against the directors on their behalf. The suit is against certain directors serving from 1904 to 1909.

Before making his decision reserving all the preliminary questions involved by the demurrers and other pleadings, Judge Hammond dismissed the bill as far as applying to the late J. Pierpont Morgan and to other deceased directors on the ground the court had no jurisdiction over them and could not attach stock standing in their names on the books of the corporation. Atty. Whipple took an appeal from this decision.

Moorfield Storey said the court ought not to appoint a receiver for the road on a bill brought by 50 out of 1,500,000 stockholders, as it would cripple the road, which already had enough to contend against.

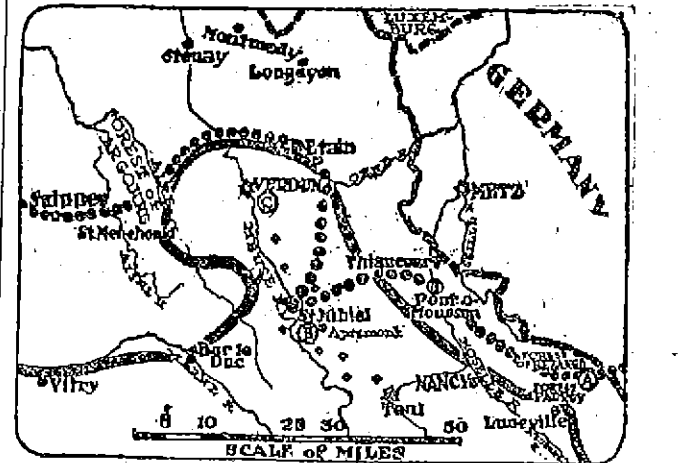

MATRIMONIAL

Thomas Trudel and Miss Marie Alice Belland were married this morning, the ceremony being performed at a nuptial mass celebrated in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory at 7 o'clock, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Julien Racette, O. M. I. The witnesses were Norbert Trudel, father of the bridegroom and J. B. Belland, father of the bride. At the close of the ceremony the bride's parents repaired to the home of the bride's parents in Coolidge street, where a wedding breakfast was served. The couple left at noon on a brief honeymoon trip.

FISH AND GAME COMMISSION

The meeting of the fish and game commission scheduled for Tuesday night has been postponed to Thursday night on account of the election. The meeting will be an important one. On Wednesday, William S. Holt, father of the local association, and Simon B. Harris, association treasurer, will go to Boston with Councilman John J. Hogan for a conference with Gov. Walsh. The conference will have to do with the restoration of the fishway at Pawtucket falls. The local association has de-

MAP OF WAR SITUATION AROUND VERDUN, NANCY AND METZ

This map shows the present situation in the region of Verdun, Nancy and Metz and the high level of the German advance in this direction about Sept. 6. The heavy black line shows the German line at this last date and the circular dotted line shows how the Germans are disposed now. Before the defeat on the Marne the crown prince's army was in an enveloping position west and east of Verdun. An effort was made by the crown prince to slay the strong movement of the allies after the battle of the Marne by attacking some of the forts that connect Verdun and Toul, but he was forced to withdraw hurriedly to the north of the great forest of Argonne. Since then a determined effort has been made to invest Verdun or divide the French line between Verdun and Toul, and the Germans now occupy St. Mihiel (shown at B, while C is Verdun). They hold heights on both sides of the Meuse. Official dispatches from Paris, while declaring that the situation around Verdun and St. Mihiel is substantially unchanged, say the extreme German left has been driven across the frontier into Lorraine, between the forests of Bezange and Parroy. This is shown at letter A. The object of this movement is plainly to relieve the situation around Verdun and Toul and compel the Germans to draw back from St. Mihiel.

2,000 LOCAL GREEKS TO HELP FIGHT TURK

Mobilization Order From Greek Consul—They Will Stand in Readiness to Answer Call of King for Defenders of the Flag

Between 2000 and 2300 local Greeks were this morning notified to be in readiness for it is believed they will be called to arms by the king of Greece within a few days. The message was sent to Lowell by the consul-general in Boston, Demosthenes Tymagenis, through Thomas Jean Nouras, his representative in this city.

Mr. Nouras was called to Boston early this morning and he was informed by the consul general that Greece is on the point of joining the great European conflict and that she will side in with the allies. The consul said the declaration of war on Russia by Turkey was the last step to draw Greece into the conflict and he expects orders of mobilization in a few days.

The consul received orders from the minister of war in Greece, asking him to make a hurried estimate of how many Greeks in Massachusetts would be called to the colors in the event of war and he was ordered to send the figures in the shortest time possible. The same order was received by all the other consuls throughout the United States and Canada. Mr. Tymagenis at once called upon Mr. Nouras of Lowell for the figures, relating to the Springfield city and the latter informed the consul there were between 2000 and 2300 Greeks in Lowell who were ready to serve their country.

It is understood that after mobilization orders are given the Greek subjects are obliged to report to the consul general within six days after the order is issued in order to receive their route papers, but the consul is of the opinion that a delay will be given the veterans of the Turkish-Balkan war so that they may raise enough money to defray their expenses abroad.

Upon his return from Boston this forenoon Mr. Nouras met a large number of his fellow countrymen to whom he gave the news of the probable mobilization and this bit of news, said as it is, was received with enthusiasm, for all are eager to again show their love of country. It is the general belief that before the middle of next week the Lowell Greeks will be mobilized and ready to start for the field of battle, which presumably will be on Turkish land.

THOMAS J. NOURAS, Representative of Consul General

Mr. Tymagenis was scheduled to come to Lowell tomorrow to decorate the veterans of the Turkish-Balkan war with medals sent to each man by the king of Greece, but inasmuch as only two of them have been received, the visit of the consul general will be postponed to a later date.

GERMANS RELEASED
HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 31.—Three German members of the crew of the American tug Security, who were arrested by the military authorities Oct. 24, were released today and returned to their vessel under orders received from Ottawa.

When the Security, which is owned by the Standard Oil Co., arrived here last Monday the customs officials notified the military authorities that there were four Germans in their crew and the men were arrested. One was released on proof that he was a naturalized American but the others were held until discharged today.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Committee of Masonic Order in California Brands Alleged Oath as a Pernicious Lie

In view of certain false charges made for political purposes against the Knights of Columbus, the following article from the Boston Pilot is of considerable interest not only to members of the order, but to many non-members who had no means of knowing whether the charges were true or false:

A conspicuous feature of the Columbus day exercises of Los Angeles, Cal. council, K. of C., was a report submitted by Judge Paul J. McCormick (state deputy of the order in California), agent the findings of a committee of representative Masons who, at his solicitation, had investigated the ceremonial and obligations of the Knights of Columbus and found them both wholly unobjectionable in all their details.

Leading up to the reading of that committee's signed statement, Judge McCormick explained that, because of the wide circulation of a so-called "Knights of Columbus oath," and especially because the alleged "oath" was found, it was into the columns of the "Southwestern Freemason," he had placed the entire ritual and obligations of the Knights in the hands of a committee of Masons.

As it was represented that the knights were actively, though secretly, urging an uprising against Masons and Protestants, because bound by oath to do so, the judge felt it necessary to take this step. He said:

Judge McCormick Acts

"As state deputy of this order in California, as a member of it, and as a total American Catholic citizen, I could not pass by these vile falsehoods and slanderous statements. After securing permission from the heads of the order, I submitted its ritual to their with its pledges to a committee of Masonic authorities here for them to determine the falsity or truth of these misrepresentations."

The findings of the committee were next read, and the names of the representative citizens who signed them were greeted with ringing applause.

Committee's Report

"We hereby certify that by authority of the highest officer of the Knights of Columbus in the state of California, who acted under instructions from the supreme officers of the order in the United States, we were furnished a complete copy of all the work, ceremonies and pledges used by the order, and that we carefully read, discussed and examined the same."

"We found that while the order is in a sense a secret association, it is not an oath-bound organization and at its ceremonies are comprised in our degrees, which are intended to teach and inculcate principles that lie the foundation of every great religion and every free state."

"Our examination of these ceremonies and obligations was made primarily for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not a certain alleged oath of the Knights of Columbus, which has been printed and widely circulated in fact used by the order and if it was not used, any oath, pledge or promise was used which could be offensive to Protestants, Catholics, or those who are prejudiced against a document of similar viciousness and wickedness."

"We find that neither the alleged oath nor any oath or pledge bearing the remotest resemblance thereto in matter, manner, spirit or purpose, is used or forms a part of the ceremonies of any degree of the Knights of Columbus."

Invention of Venomous Mind

"The alleged oath is scurrilous, wicked and libelous and must be the invention of an infamous and venomous mind. We find that the order of

Knights of Columbus, as shown by its rituals, is dedicated to the Catholic religion, charity and patriotism. "There is no propaganda proposed or taught against Protestants or Masons or persons not of Catholic faith. Indeed, Protestants and Masons are not referred to directly or indirectly in the ceremonials and pledges. The ceremonial of the order teaches a high and noble patriotism, instills a love of country, inculcates a reverence for law and order, urges conscientious and selfless performance of civic duty, and holds up the constitution of our country as the richest and most precious possession of a knight of the order."

No Objectionable Thing Found

"We can find nothing in the entire ceremonial of the order that to our minds could be objected to by any person."

"MOTLEY HEWES FLINT, 33d Degree Past Grand Master of Masons of California."

"DANA REID WELLS, 32d Degree Past Grand Master of Masons of California."

"WILL RHODES HERVEY, 33d Degree Past Master and Master of Scottish Rite Lodge."

"SAMUEL E. BURKE, 32d Degree, Past Master and Inspector of Masonic District."

LIEUT. GOVERNOR BARRY

MAKES TART REPLY TO GRAFTON CUSHING ON HIS ANCESTRAL CLAIMS

Lieut. Gov. Barry, speaking at Cambridge last night, said in part: "My republican opponent, failing to discover any substantial reasons why he should be elected, is now basking in the sunshine of the reflected glory of those who have gone before. He has found it difficult, and I may with modesty say, impossible to point to any single act of mine while holding the office of lieutenant governor which ought to disqualify me from further holding the office."

Falling in this, I hear him extolling his own virtues, and that is characteristic of many men who run for office. I said recently that he was born and bred in Massachusetts, and here he expects to die. I congratulate Massachusetts on this distinction for it also applies to me."

He said further that his forbears founded Hingham. I say my forbears reached Boston immediately after the spacious Mayflower got through discharging its passengers at Plymouth rock."

He says each succeeding generation has given merchants, legislators and judges toward the upbuilding of the state. I say that my ancestors have given merchants, legislators and tradesmen toward the upbuilding of the state; and soldiers and sailors toward the defense of the state when in peril of invasion."

He says he is proud of his native state, of her past and of her achievements. I say that his zeal in this respect does not outshine mine."

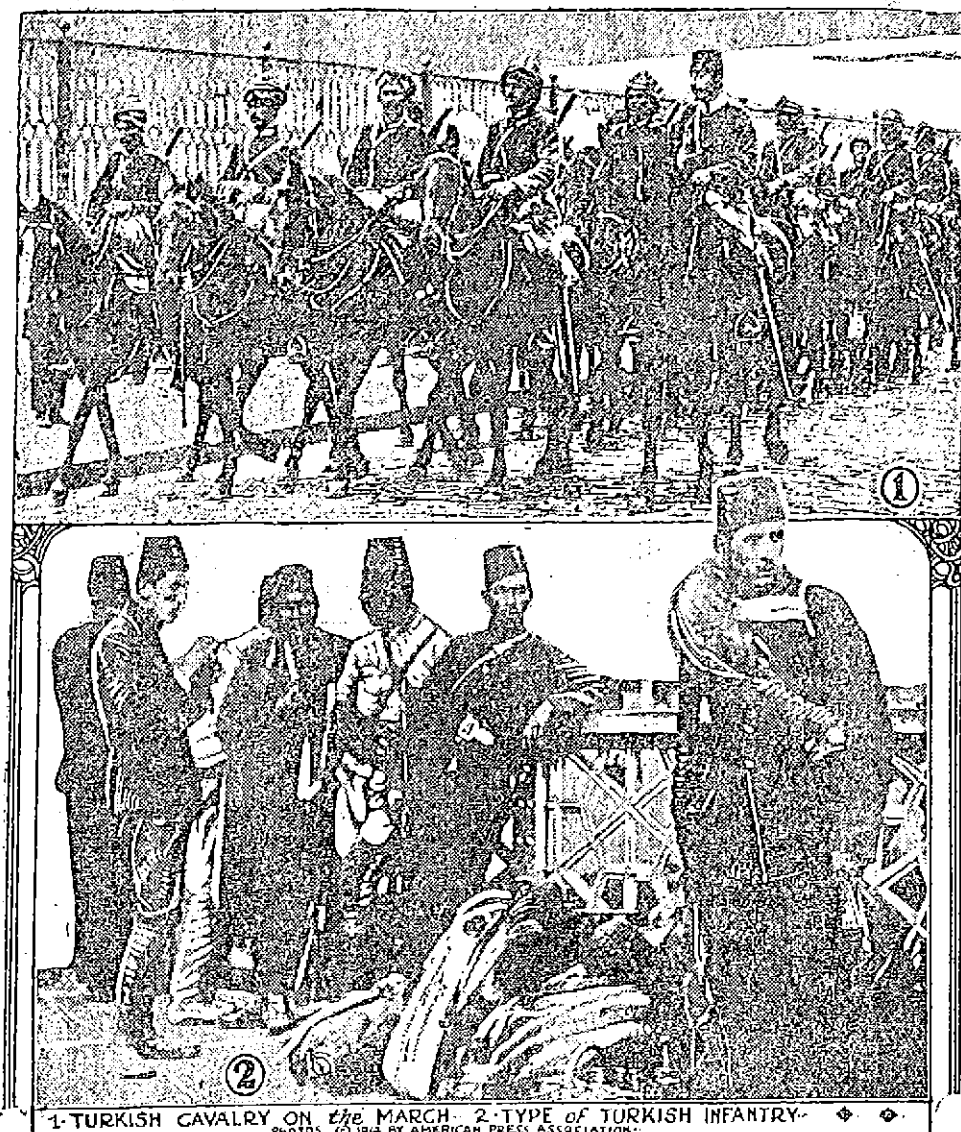

He says he will devote his strength and manhood to preserve her from evil. I say that I always have, and shall continue to devote my strength and manhood to the same end."

If my opponent means to say that he is of blue blood ancestry, I say that red blood courses through my veins."

If he leans against an ancestral tree, let me tell him that it may furnish shelter but not support, and I would as soon lean on a beam cast by the noon-day sun."

If he is simply paying tribute to those who have gone before him, I say "Peace be to their ashes." I Messour.

TURKISH TROOPS READY TO STRIKE AT RUSSIA FOLLOWING BOMBARDMENT OF BLACK SEA PORT

1-TURKISH CAVALRY ON THE MARCH-2-TYPE OF TURKISH INFANTRY-

Turkey has cast her lot with Germany and Austria in the world war. Her hostile act in firing upon Theodosia, a Russian seaport in the Black sea, indicated that she had at last prepared to strike at the czar's possessions. This was taken to mean that Greece would join the allies and that Romania and Bulgaria would be drawn into the vortex of Balkan fighting. These pictures show types of Turkish infantry and cavalry which have been mobilized for a month.

would paraphrase the stalwart Puritan and say, "Why don't you speak of yourself, John?" If he takes especial pride in Hingham, I glory in the achievements of Boston. If he asks your support as a reward for minor public service, I present to you my conduct and record in the particular office to be filled by your votes. If I could be certain that your judgment of me would be aided by a recital of the deeds of the worthy and illustrious progenitors whose name I bear, I would turn the pages of Massachusetts and American history and bid you read. If there is merit in ancestry, let me say that, as an ancestor I am striving that Massachusetts may be a wholesome dwelling place for my children's children.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Milwaukee expended $25,475.55 in pension to worthy mothers in the past year.

LOWELL TAG DAY THE POSTOFFICE EXAMS

Letter of Appreciation From the Red Cross Nat'l Headquarters

The following letters of acknowledgment and appreciation of the splendid results of Red Cross Tag day in this city are of general interest:

American Red Cross, National Headquarters, 1624 H Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., Oct. 29, 1914.

Miss Ruth Burke, 215 Nesmith Street, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Miss Burke—Pardon the delay in answering your kind letter of Oct. 25th, but the work has been overwhelming in this office.

I congratulate you, your assistants and all Lowell on the splendid work that was done in raising, by the Tag day, $4930 for the war relief work.

The Red Cross has sent 171 surgeons and nurses to Europe, is sending shortly 13 more on an urgent appeal from Serbia. It has sent surgical equipment and vast quantities of hospital supplies. Every few days more supplies are being sent. This week quantities of drugs were sent to Russia and a partial equipment for a little American hospital established at Petrograd. Last week some supplies went to France; next week before our surgeons and nurses sail for Serbia, a large quantity of hospital supplies and drugs will be sent there, also surgical equipment, operating tables, etc. On the 5th of November supplies are being sent to Germany, both for the German Red Cross and for the American hospital at Munich.

You may have noted last week $25,000 was sent to the American ambulance, Paris; $10,000 for the American hospital in England; $10,000 for the American hospital at Munich; $10,000 to Berlin to use at the hospital where the American units are in Germany; and $10,000 to the American ambassador at Vienna, Austria for the hospital where the American units are in Austria and Hungary. The American Red Cross has also sent to the International committee at Geneva $5000, to help maintain the bureau of prisoners that is forwarding information from the sick and wounded prisoners to their families, transmitting letters, etc.

I thought the people of Lowell would like to know that the enormous contributions for Red Cross relief work can be put to such good purposes as these. Again with thanks to the people of Lowell and others that so generously cooperated in this work.

Yours sincerely,

Mabel T. Boardman.

Treasurer's Letter

John F. Sawyer, Esq., care Union National Bank, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir—I have received your letter of Oct. 21st, enclosing cheque to my order as treasurer of the American Red Cross, Massachusetts branch, for $1000.

Thank you very much indeed for sending so large a subscription. I am sure that the Washington authorities will be very much pleased with the results that the ladies of Lowell have accomplished.

May I extend my appreciation for this work to the ladies on the committee through you?

Yours very truly,

F. L. Higginson, Jr.

SAYS TURKEY DID NOT AUTHORIZE RAID ON RUSSIAN SEAPORTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The Turkish minister of Finance informed the French ambassador at Constantinople yesterday that the raid of Turkish warships on Russian seaports took place without the knowledge of the Ottoman government and presumably under the influence of German officers and crew. This information was conveyed in a despatch today from Ambassador Morgenthau to the American government.

GERMANS LEAVE OSTEND FOR ZEBRUGGE, WHERE THEY HAVE PLACED HEAVY GUNS

LONDON, Oct. 31, 2.03 a. m.—A Rotterdam despatch to the Daily Mail says that the Germans who are reported to have evacuated Ostend have retired to Zeebrugge, about 15 miles east of Ostend, where they have placed heavy guns and intend, from appearances to utilize the place as a naval base.

All the inhabitants of Blankenberghe living near the seaford, the correspondent says, have been ordered to leave because they were suspected of signalling to the allied ships.

400 RUSSIAN OFFICERS AND 73,103 RUSSIAN SOLDIERS HELD PRISONERS

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—(By wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—An official announcement given out in Vienna says that the total number of Russian prisoners interned in Austria and Hungary on Oct. 26 was 410 officers and 73,103 men, not counting those in transit on this date.

The report says further that strong Russian forces have crossed the river San south of Nisko but that they were repulsed after hard fighting.

STUBBORN FIGHTING ON EAST PRUSSIAN FRONT CONTINUES—RUSSIANS VICTORIOUS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Stubborn fighting continues on the East Prussian front between the Russians and Germans, and the Austrians suffered heavy losses near Tarnow on Oct. 23 at the hands of the Russians, who took 1000 prisoners, according to a Russian foreign office despatch received today at the Russian embassy. The text of the despatch received from the foreign office at Petrograd follows:

"On the east Prussian front stubborn fighting continues. The attack of the Germans near Bakalarjew are being steadily repulsed by troops. On the left bank of the Vistula the German rear guard upon our pressure fell back to the line from Lodz to Varshel. Among other military booty we have captured a munition column, heavy artillery, aeroplanes.

Near Tarnow, the retreating Austrians were intercepted on Oct. 23 our troops who had crossed the Vistula to the south of Jozefow. Our cross-fire the enemy suffered heavy losses and we took 1000 prisoners.

"In the Carpathians, the main body of the Austrians is directed the country around Turka."

BERLIN SAYS GERMANS ADVANCE AND ARE NOW PUSHING ON TO WARD CUL

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—(By wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—Information given out by the press in official quarters today is as follows:

"Military experts of the Berlin newspapers consider that the developments around Verdun were of the greatest importance and say there is a new strength in the fighting. The French are straining every effort to crush and drive the arm which the end of September penetrated as far as St. Mihiel and which for a month past had been fighting hard to hold the ground gained."

Germans have now captured the final position and their forces are operating from the direction of Toul."

The French attack on the front at Meuse also was without results. Attention can now again be directed the original object of this campaign."

The opening of naval hostilities, Turkey promises to divert the attention of the Russian forces which have been campaigning in Poland; where they were able to concentrate superior forces against the armies of Germany and Austria. Nothing new has been reported from Poland."

Austria announces officially that the Russian advance against the Austro-Russian positions in the region of Turkey has been repulsed. (Turka is in Galicia, miles south-southwest of Sambor.)

Special despatches to newspapers from Servian front report that an entire Servian regiment under Col. Ivanoff walked into a trap at Visegrad. They had been informed previously that the Servians still occupied this place. This was not so and the regiment was quickly surrounded and surrendered without resistance."

"German military men deny as fact almost all the statements regarding the German 18-inch howitzers which are being circulated in German and abroad. The tests of these guns began six years ago and German artillerymen have been trained in the use of them for several years past. The secret of these guns was preserved with remarkable success."

PARIS OFFICIAL REPORT SAYS GERMAN MARF SLIGHT ATTACK ALLIES PUSH FORWARD

PARIS, Oct. 31.—The French war office this afternoon gave out an official announcement as follows:

"The day of yesterday was marked by an attempt at a general offensive movement on the part of the German along the front from Neuport to Arras and by violent attacks delivered at other points of the line of battle. From Neuport to the canal of La Bassée there were alternate movements of advance and retirement."

"To the south of Neuport the Germans, who had taken possession of Rumpkappel, were driven out of this town by a counter attack."

"To the south of Ypres we lost some points of support, Hillebroeck, a Zandvoorde, but we progressed to the east of Ypres in the direction of Pasch endeale."

"Between La Bassée and Arras at the attacks made by the Germans were repulsed with heavy losses for them."

"In the region of Chaulnes we advanced beyond Lihons and we took possession of Lequesney in the Sautiers district."

"In the region of the Aisne we have made progress near Stossion but we were compelled to withdraw in the vicinity of Vailly."

"We have advanced in the region of Souzain and there has been a violent engagement in the Argonne."

"In the Woivre district we have again won ground in the forest of La Prete."

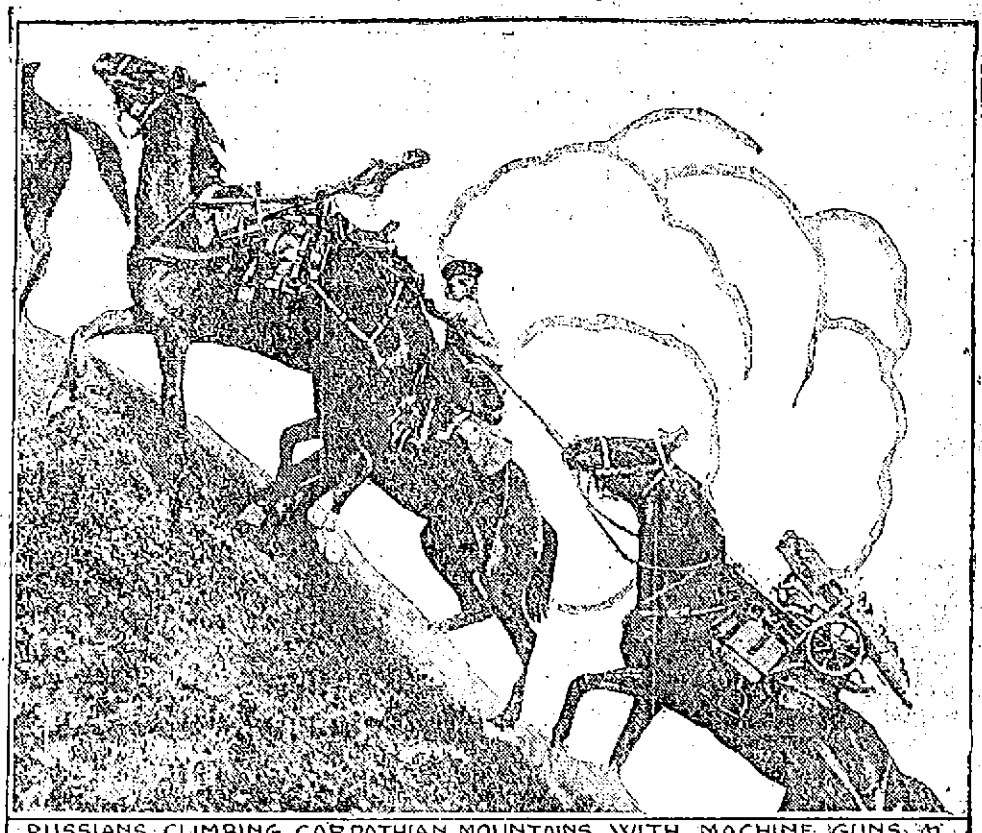

CHRISTMAS SHIP, JASON, SAILS NOV. 15 WITH GIFTS FOR CHILDREN OF EUROPE

UNITED STATES COLLIER JASON, AMERICA'S CHRISTMAS SHIP TO EUROPE

The United States collier Jason has been designated by the navy department as the Christmas ship that will take the gifts of the children of America to the children of Europe, whose fathers have fallen in the war. She will sail Nov. 15 from New York. This movement was started and taken up by many of America's important newspapers, and children all over the land are donating the old toys and new ones for the little folks of the war zone, whose Christmas at the best will be sad, and indeed. The Jason will stop first in England and then go to Havre, France. From there she will visit other countries. She is starting early so as to be sure the presents reach the 1,000,000 fatherless war children of Europe before Christmas. The Jason is 536 feet long and can carry 19,500 tons. She is of steel throughout and cost nearly $1,000,000. Gifts must reach New York by Nov. 9. Many railroads are carrying the gifts free.

RUSSIANS CLIMBING CARPATHIAN MOUNTAINS WITH MACHINE GUNS

This picture shows Russian soldiers climbing the steep trails in the Carpathian mountains with small machine guns strapped on the backs of their mounts. Many daring feats have been performed in the war by these mountain fighters. The guns are of the mitrailleuse type and prove very deadly in pouring forth rapid, hot fire under difficulties which prevail in mountainous warfare.

Paris Cheered by Report Telling of Retreat of Germans Across the Yser in Face of Stiff Cannonading by Allies—Paris Returning to Normal Conditions

PARIS, Oct. 31.—Unofficial announcement was made today that the government will return to Paris from Bordeaux on Nov. 26 and that parliament will meet on Dec. 10 to pass emergency laws.

Little by little, Paris appears to be returning to more normal conditions. The shops in the avenue d'Opera which had their doors locked and windows whitewashed have now been reopened. Each day another restaurant or bar on the boulevards or elsewhere resumes business and the newspapers which ceased to publish at the time of the mobilization have begun to appear again. The question of reopening the bourse is also discussed.

From the war arena in France and Belgium, the most pleasing news to Parisians today was that telling of the retreat of the Germans across the Yser in the face of a stiff cannonading by the allies. The announcement only a few days ago that the Germans had succeeded in crossing to the left bank of the Yser did more to depress the spirits of the people here than any development of the war for some time.

General Pierre Cherilla, the military critic, declared that a wounded French officer with whom he talked yesterday gave all praise to the German method of combat. The present war, he says, also affirms the immense service aviation can render to the French units. The aeroplane has become an instrument of observation, not only useful but indispensable, according to General Cherilla.

REPORT OSTEND AGAIN EVACUATED BY GERMANS

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Although the official communications do not spread much light on the situation in West Flanders, other reports emanating from Holland indicate that a German retreat from the coast south of Ostend is imminent and Ostend is again reported as having been evacuated by the invaders. These rumors, however, are not confirmed from Berlin, which claims some advance along the Ypres line.

The city of Lille is declared in special despatches again to be free of German troops and its hopeful citizens so confident that they never will return that plans are being made to resume the usual civic functions.

That Germany has by no means given up its determination to take Calais is indicated by the significant report from Berlin by way of Copenhagen that the German general staff has decided that the army in Poland shall fall back to the frontier of Silesia and remain there on the defensive until the battle in Flanders ends with the capture of Calais. Such a movement would release four army corps to be transferred from Silesia to Belgium.

The Russian tactics of bending back the line of invaders in Russian Poland one section at a time, the retreat of each section endangering the position of the section next to it on the south, appears to London observers to have been successful everywhere on the extreme Russian left where the Austrians still maintain the positions they succeeded in re-taking from the Russians.

It is expected immediately to throw her lot with the entente powers, Great Britain, Russia and France, and it is felt here that Romania probably will follow the same course. But Bulgaria which recently regained much of the prestige lost in the second Balkan war, preserves a stubborn silence. Revenge would impel her to an alliance with the Turks, but Sofia seems determined to maintain neutrality unless the borders of Bulgaria are crossed.

Roman newspapers aver that with Turkey in the arena, the conflict is no longer European but Mediterranean in scope. It, therefore, threatens Italy's interests in North Africa and raises the century-old question of the control of the Adriatic which must compel the Italian government to intervene on the side of the entente powers.

ELECTED COLOR SERGEANT

The many friends of Robert G. Carlson, a popular member of Company G, M. V. M., will be pleased to learn of his election as color sergeant of the sixth regiment, which took place last night at a meeting of headquarters men, which was held at Concord, Mass.

Sergeant Carlson has been connected with the local militia for the past ten years during which time he has earned a thorough knowledge of military tactics and a fine reputation as a man and field worker. He is one of the most popular members of the second battalion. He will be stationed at the new quarters of the second battalion in this city.

The house consists of nine rooms, bath, pantry, set tubs, furnace heat, gas throughout and an extra good cellar. On first floor there is parlor, hallway, sitting room, dining room, kitchen and pantry. On the next floor are four airy, well lighted chambers and bath. There is also one finished and one unfinished attic. The property is in good repair, occupied by a first-class tenant and rents for $20 per month.

Smith street is located between Middlesex and Branch streets, making it convenient to many industries. If you are looking for a nice little home, here is your opportunity.

Terms of sale: $500 must be secured with the auctioneer at time of sale. A good, liberal mortgage can remain at 5 per cent. Make all inquiries of the auctioneer, who has full charge.
